CITY'S SWING FETE RUNS RIOT

FARLEY BALKS AT ROOSEVELT'S PURGE EFFORTS

Refuses to Take Any Part in Plan.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—Special.]—Postmaster General James A. Farley returned to Washington today from a trip to Alaska. In his capacity as Democratic national chairman he immediately let it be known that he would have nothing to do with President Roosevelt's efforts to purge the Democratic party of all except yes-men.

James A. Farley.

Left wing advisers of the President were incensed when Mr. Farley went off to Alaska right in the midst of the campaign to drive Democratic senators and representatives out of office. They were still more indignant today when Farley frowned on the movement to run defeated yes-men as independents.

Wants to Save Party.

Mr. Farley, in discussions with friends upon returning to Washington, made it plain that his concern was to save the Democratic party. An attitude of rule or ruin, in his opinion, must result in ruin. For this reason Farley let it be known that he would have nothing to do with the efforts to run Senator James P. Pope of Idaho and Representative Maury Maverick of Texas as independents.

Immediately after the defeat of Senator Pope and Representative Maverick, Farley wired congratulations to their successful opponents and offered the services of the national committee in the general election campaign. And he made it plain today that he would not retract these offers of assistance.

May Aid Conservatives.

The President's left wing advisers are suspicious of Farley, wondering what his ultimate ambitions are and what he will do in 1940. They wonder whether he will give aid and comfort to the conservative Democrats under the aegis of Vice President John N. Garner, who are determined to block a third term for Mr. Roosevelt or the nomination of a rubber stamp to carry on his policies.

The left wingers recall that Farley, before leaving for Alaska, expressed sympathy with the drive to defeat Senator Millard F. Tydings of Maryland, whom he does not like, although he was opposed to the purge generally. Yet Farley, the left wingers are complaining, has never turned a hand to help Representative David J. Lewis, the 100 per center selected by the White House to oppose Tydings.

Point to Wheeler Link.

Members of the purge committee also are telling stories about Farley's supposed hobnobbing with Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] on his trip to Alaska. Wheeler led the fight against President Roosevelt's court packing bill and even before that there was no love lost between him and Farley. When asked about the Wheeler stories today, Farley said they had dinner together at Banff but that it was not by prearrangement. Both were guests at the same party, he said.

Anyway, Farley refused to do anything for Representative Jerry O'Connell [D., Mont.], a radical 100 per center, who wanted a Wheeler marshal kicked out to make a place for W. W. Crawford, an anti-Wheeler man. Senator James E. Murray, another 100 per center, had to come to Washington to get the Wheeler man removed and Crawford appointed by President Roosevelt.

Goes to Lehman's Aid.

In New York yesterday Farley undertook to remove Gov. Herbert H. Lehman from the purge list. The Democratic state committee, at which he presided, announced that, contrary to custom, a special committee would consult both Gov. Lehman and President Roosevelt before naming a temporary and a permanent chairman for the state convention. This caused a sensation because Gov. Lehman was proscribed when he denounced the court packing bill. He is running for

RESERVES QUELL JITTERBUGS AT FREE JAMBOREE

Throng Forces Gates of Soldiers' Field.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

The New Century committee's gigantic free jam session for swing lovers turned into a riot—at times musicless—at Soldiers' field last evening. So many excited jitterbugs arrived that they overflowed the vast horseshoe, packed the entire field, and finally crowded the dance bands out of the three large stands on which they were playing.

It was a jolly but uncontrollable throng. There was no accurate count, and estimates were as wild and varied as the crowd itself. Police said that 100,000 were in the stadium by 7 o'clock, an hour before the program was scheduled to begin.

Still the Jitterbugs Come!

Otto Jelinek, trafic engineer for the park district, thought there were 200,000 in the stands and field when the party was at its height, but no one could do more than guess. The jitterbugs moved too fast to permit tabulation. It is certain all agreed the figure was at least 120,000.

The result was chaos. Police reserves were hastily ordered out. Even they could not cope with the shuffling, swaying throng.

The century committee had advertised that twenty of the town's biggest name dance bands would appear to intoxicate the devotees of hot music. And a special fillip was to be given to the program by fifty amateur swing bands competing for prizes.

Best of all there was to be public dancing on big platforms that were erected for the purpose. Dancing under the stars with cool lake breezes wafting over the specially waxed floors for the Slim-Slammers, Lindy-Hoppers, and those who Susie-Q.

Young Folks Go to Town.

The combination proved irresistible for the city's young folks. Every one with carfare could partake of the music that normally they could get only by radio, or by paying top prices in the better restaurants and night spots.

And so they turned out, a little intoxicated by their anticipation of the wonderful evening ahead. Nobody complained about the crowding. They came from every part of town. Every race was represented. The average age was about 18, although a few of the more optimistic elders also appeared.

The gates were closed by police under Lieut. Walter McKinney at 6 o'clock when 70,000 of the swing fans filled every seat in the huge cement stadium. But there was no stopping the cheering, laughing crowd of young men and girls who kept pushing against the gates.

Force Open the Gates.

When the pressure became irresistible the gates were forced open. The jitterbugs filled the ailes. Still they came. Despite efforts of ushers and park police they spilled over the infield wall. Then it was too late. They were out of hand. Besides, the tones of "Flat Foot Floogie" were welling out of the loudspeaker system horns, as the first band began its killer-dillering.

"We never intended to let them get possession of the infield," said Lieut. McKinney. "But they had possession before we knew it."

Unprepared for the wholesale invasion, park police found Grant park drives blocked by carloads of whistling, singing boys and girls. Finally the outer drive system was closed to both north and south bound trafic and parking was allowed in Leif Eriksen drive.

And Just for Contrast——

A quiet oasis in the midst of the whooping, trooping young people was the area around the band shell in the park. There, while the swingers flooded the stadium, an estimated 21,000 lovers of fine music heard the Glenn Cliffe Bainum symphonic band present the summer's 53d open air concert.

Meanwhile, inside Soldiers' field, Announcers Ken Ellington and Paul Luther of the Columbia Broadcasting system, who were acting as masters of ceremonies, found themselves swamped by enthusiasts who climbed onto the three dance stages.

"Please clear the stands," both men begged again and again through the loud speakers. "We're so cramped for space now that the

Boss Hines Called N. Y. Racket Fixer

THE RACKET HUNTER

Woman Golfer Beats Ferebee; Wants Match

Just to prove that it's not difficult, Mrs. Josephine Baltrusis of 502 South Laramie avenue played 154 holes of golf yesterday between dawn and sunset. She used only one pair of shoes and she made only one stop for lunch, a shower, and a rubdown. The Maywood golf course was the scene of her triumph.

Her feat eclipsed that of J. Smith Ferebee, broker, who raced through 144 holes of marathon golf at Olympia Fields on Aug. 5. Now it is the ambition of Mrs. Baltrusis, housewife and former champion of Maywood, to play an all day match with Mr. Ferebee.

Not Exactly a Challenge but——

"Of course I wouldn't issue a challenge," she said last night. "I'm a great admirer of Mr. Ferebee. But if the arrangements are made I'd like to see who can play the greatest number of holes between daybreak and dark."

Mr. Ferebee couldn't be reached last night. He was on a train en route from Winona, Minn., to Chicago. He will be informed today that, if he is ready to try marathoning again as Mrs. Baltrusis is, THE TRIBUNE will be willing to make all the arrangements.

Mrs. Baltrusis, who is 35 years old, didn't seem greatly fatigued by her efforts. She said she felt fine after she had finished, refreshed herself with a shower, and consumed a steak in the club dining room.

Feels Like Going 154 More.

"I think I could play another 154," she averred, "if there was light enough."

She appeared on the first tee at 4:30 a. m., but couldn't start until 5:45 because of a driving rainstorm. But when she got going she didn't let up until 1:05 p. m. By that time she had played ninety holes, or five rounds. Fifty minutes later she resumed her hit and run march and kept going until the last rays of the western sun gilded the sky.

Caddies fell by the fairways exhausted. She used up the best efforts of ten [two accompanied her at all times]. As soon as one pair became winded she called for another. The pace was so fast a reporter, who dog trotted along for a couple of holes, begged her to slow down.

Couldn't "Let the Girls Down."

"All right," she said, barely halting to make a long, straight brassie shot. "I'm doing this for fun. There are no bets up. I'm going to play at least 144 holes and more if I feel like it. You see, I'm one of the forty-one ladies who belong to the Maywood Women's Golf club, and they think I can make it. Can't let the girls down, can I?"

Although her scores didn't touch her championship form, they were regarded as satisfactory. Her first round was the worst. That was 98. Then followed 95, 93, 90, 87, 97, 87, and 89. The last ten holes were

2 JUDGES NAMED IN DEAL TO HELP LOTTERY GANG

$500 a Week Paid to Boss, Is Charge.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 23.—[Special.]—A former lieutenant of the late Dutch Schultz, gang leader, today told how Tammany Leader James J. Hines "fixed" cases before two judges. He also testified that Hines obtained transfer of policemen who interfered with the policy racket.

The witness, George Weinberg, told his story of Hines' connection with the underworld before Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora and a jury in the trial of the Democratic leader for conspiracy and violating the state's lottery laws.

Hines was paid $500 a week and sometimes larger amounts for protecting the policy game racketeers, according to Weinberg's testimony.

Story of Corruption.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, the young prosecutor who brought the Tammany leader to trial, drew from his witness an amazing story of official corruption. Weinberg, who pleaded guilty to the same indictment upon which Hines is being tried, will return to the stand tomorrow.

The central incident in Weinberg's tale involved Magistrate Hulon Capshaw, whom Dewey named in a bill of particulars as one of the officials who had been bribed, intimidated, and influenced by Hines. This is the story as Weinberg told it:

Police raided a policy game bank and seized workers with half a million slips in their possession. This was on Thanksgiving eve of 1932. After the raid, Weinberg said, he and Hines saw Magistrate Capshaw at a Democratic social club. Weinberg said that Hines stopped the judge and talked to him.

Tells Judge About Case.

"He said, 'I have a policy case which is very important coming up before you—can you take care of it?'" testified Weinberg.

"Capshaw said, 'Yes, what is it? I've never failed you yet, have I? I'll take care of it.'"

Then Hines gave him the title number of the case, the former Schultz gangster said.

Q.—Did you attend the trial? A.—I did.

Q.—Were all the others who were arrested at the raid present? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did the police testify what they had done and what they had seen? A.—Yes.

Q.—What happened to the case? A.—It was dismissed.

Weinberg also declared that Louis [Lulu] Rosenkranz, a Schultz gunman, had been caught in a policy raid one day, but was dismissed in court after the gang had conveyed the word to Hines.

Taken to Another Judge.

Just before Christmas of the same year there was another raid, according to Weinberg, and he again appealed to Hines for help. This time, he testified, Hines told him he could not go to Magistrate Capshaw so soon after the other episode and suggested postponement in order to bring the case before the late Magistrate Francis J. Erwin. This was done and the policy workers were promptly dismissed, the witness said.

At this time Weinberg had a talk with J. Richard [Dixie] Davis, counsel for Schultz, and Dewey wanted to know what the gang "mouthpiece" had to say.

"He told me, 'Well, that's out, like the other,'" said Weinberg.

However, the two raids hit the "combination" hard, Weinberg said. He estimated the two raids cost the racketeers in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Policeman Is Transferred.

At about the same time, Weinberg said, the policy game banks which handle the bets on the number which appears in the horse race track odds daily were having trouble with a plain clothes policeman named Joseph Terminelli. Terminelli refused to listen to the racketeers and even searched their main headquarters in Harlem, the colored section of the city.

Then Weinberg, acting on instruc-

Leslie B. Krumsick, vice president of the Fort Dearborn Securities corporation at 176 West Adams street, was found dead yesterday. He had killed himself with motor exhaust gas. A few minutes after the discovery, investigators from the state's attorney's office raided the company offices. They announced there was a shortage of $25,000 to $30,000 in its accounts.

Krumsick, who was 45 years old, left his home at 440 Drexel avenue, Glencoe, on Monday morning. Policemen came upon his car in the forest preserve at Higgins and Arlington roads, west of Des Plaines, yesterday afternoon. A rubber hose had been used to convey the deadly gas fumes into the automobile, where his body lay.

Two Officials Quizzed.

Assistant State's Attorney John Phillips and Investigator Eugene O'Connor questioned several officials of the concern. Attorney Floyd E. Britton, 110 South Dearborn street, is president and Herman J. Holle, 719 Home avenue, Oak Park, is secretary. Both asserted that Krumsick was the moving spirit in company affairs. They said they did not know there was any real shortage in the accounts.

"I was a figurehead president," said Britton. "This company was organized after the old Donoghue, Krumsick & Co. went into bankruptcy. Its function was to give Krumsick a chance to make good on the losses of the other company's customers. They took stock in the new one.

"Krumsick told me only a short while ago that Fort Dearborn Securities was in such shape it could be liquidated without loss to any one. I was not familiar with the firm's affairs, and was seldom in the office. I believed him."

Estimates Loss at $15,000.

Holle defended the character of Krumsick.

"He was a quiet, modest man, and honest," he said. "I do not believe the shortage will exceed $15,000. It came about because Krumsick carried accounts for the firm with large brokerage houses and they sold us out last October. He let the loss go to this company instead of to the customers."

The investigators were skeptical. They said it appeared that orders to buy and sell, issued by the customers, has been bucketed [held speculatively] by the management. Unfavorable turns in the market then caused the losses of the securities and money entrusted to the firm.

Spends Little on Himself.

Evidence indicated, it was said, that Krumsick had not spent heavily for his personal life, and that the missing funds went to "keep up a front" for the corporation, except the portion lost in the market. Holle said that he was not aware of anything wrongful in the operations, although he knew the firm was in bad shape.

Both Holle and Britton were kept in custody for questioning last night. Four others, directors of the company, are to be interviewed today. Records of the firm were seized, as were the entire cash resources—$8.

The investigation was launched when the company failed to obtain a renewal of its license as a securities dealer from the secretary of state on July 1.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 23.—(AP)—A 25 ounce baby boy clung to life tonight in a St. Joseph's hospital incubator. Born prematurely Monday night to Mrs. Anthony Tank, the infant has been kept alive with oxygen. Physicians said he had a good chance to live. The mother, 18 years old, has another son 2 years old.

BATTERED BOXER ADMITS WIFE IS HIS BETTER HALF

By profession Mr. Menrad Kraus is a lightweight boxer. To be specific we should say he is a former lightweight boxer. And in the professional ranks his wife, Anne, has no standing.

But in a bill filed yesterday in the Superior court, Mr. Kraus complained that his wife tore off his shirt, beat him, kicked him, and scratched him. Mr. Kraus said this was unfair to one who fought only under the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

Kraus, who lives at 3313 Washington boulevard, asked a divorce. The couple were married Nov. 6, 1937, and have one child, Dorothy. Mrs. Kraus, 32 years old, lives at 7339 South Oakley avenue.

Aviator Hawks and Passenger Killed in Crash

East Aurora, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Commander Frank Hawks and a companion were killed tonight in a flaming plane crash less than a year after Hawks gave up the speed flying which made him famous and took up "safety and comfort" flying.

Frank Hawks. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Hawks, who for years escaped death in daring speed exploits, lost his life in the crash of a small safety plane which he had said he would rather fly than any other. He died in a hospital in Buffalo, fifteen miles away, soon after he had been dragged from the burning wreckage of his ship.

Plane Tripped by Wires.

J. Hazard Campbell of East Aurora, a stock broker, who was taking a demonstration ride in the plane, died later in the same hospital. Campbell was a brother-in-law of Seymour Knox, famous polo star.

The Gwinn Aircar in which the two men were flying tripped across a group of electric and telephone wires and plunged into a field a short distance from this village. A few minutes before they had taken off a friend had handed Hawks a four leaf clover with a wish of "good luck."

Blames Unfavorable Wind.

"Hawks and his companion were taking off from the polo field on the E. H. Rogers estate," said J. M. Gwinn, president of the Gwinn Aircar corporation, of which Hawks was a vice president.

"Hawks was demonstrating the craft to Campbell. Wind conditions were against them. They had to take off the long way of the field and apparently they were up in the air before they saw the wires and it was too late to avoid them."

Hawks, who was 41 years old, had held speed records since 1921. In February, 1929, he made a nonstop Los Angeles to New York flight in 18 hours 21 minutes 59 seconds. He went on to make an east-west record and pile up a series of point to point marks.

tions from Schultz, went to Hines and complained about the policeman.

"What did Hines say?" inquired Dewey.

"He asked me the name and squad of the policeman and said he would take care of him right away."

Terminelli was put back in uniform and started pounding a beat within two days. Numerous other police officers who pestered the policy game racketeers in their Harlem operations were transferred to distant points through Hines' influence, Weinberg testified, including five members of the chief inspector's squad.

Tells of Payments to Hines.

Weinberg said the $500 paid to Hines weekly was chalked up on his daily report sheets against "Pop. Hines was also affectionately known as the "Old Man" to the gangsters. Weinberg testified.

Dutch Schultz, who was killed in a gang assassination in 1935, drew an average of $4,000 a week from the policy game profits, Weinberg said. At one time the racketeers had $200,000 in a vault at the Corn Exchange bank. This was a reserve fund against lucky "hits" of players in the lottery.

One day Schultz came to Weinberg and demanded $150,000 for some mysterious purpose, the witness said. This was turned over, but only $50,000 of it was repaid.

Weinberg testified that not only was Hines on the pay roll, but that the politician's man Friday, one Leo Rosenthal, drew $50 a week for two years without doing any work for it.

Introduced by Brother.

Weinberg, who had been a taxicab driver, a cigar store owner, and a small time bookmaker for horse race bets, was taken into the Schultz enterprise by his brother, "Bo," whose body is said to be at the bottom of the East river in a cement block. He said he first met Hines at the meeting in 1932 when Dutch Schultz organized the racket and gave the political boss $1,000 as down payment for protection from police and courts, he said.

At this time, Weinberg related, he made arrangements to call Hines at any time of day or night. The Tammany leader told him the hours that he was at home or at his club, the Monongahela Democratic club.

Thenceforth, Weinberg declared, he saw Hines every week or ten days and paid him $500 on each occasion.

"Where did the $500 come from?" asked Dewey.

"From the numbers banks," was the reply.

Asked for More and Got It.

Weinberg said that on several occasions Hines asked for more than the $500 and was given any amount he requested.

In May or June of 1932, the witness said, he told Schultz the racket needed a headquarters where operations could be carried on openly to show the people of Harlem the "combination" had the "right kind of protection." Schultz told him to see "Jimmy" [Hines].

"What happened when you went to Hines?" inquired Dewey.

"Well, I explained to Hines we needed an office to show the people we had the right okay," said Weinberg, "and I wanted to be sure there would be no pinches [arrests] because that would make us look like bums with no protection at all."

"What did Hines say?" asked Dewey.

"He said to open up and try it and see how it goes," replied Weinberg.

Estimates Total Receipts.

At this point Dewey went into a discussion of the extent of the racket and Weinberg estimated that at the peak the gross receipts from all the banks in the "combination" amounted to $64,000 daily, or the equivalent of nearly 20 million dollars a year.

During the summer of 1932, Weinberg told the court, Dutch Schultz asked him to go to Hines and complain about the number of arrests of policy collectors and runners in the 300 or 400 stores involved in the ring. Weinberg here exhibited an intimate knowledge of the police department, calling many officers by their name.

When he went to Hines, the political leader asked him which policeman was giving trouble, Weinberg said.

"I told him I wouldn't want to get any cop broke. That I wanted the whole 6th division [Harlem division] handled," said Weinberg while the courtroom tittered. This happened prior to the Terminelli incident.

After this, the witness testified, the arrests of policy game workers dropped from twenty a day to four or five.

Weinberg narrated that nightly during 1932 he would carry the daily reports to Schultz, who frequented a speakeasy called "The Stable" just off Broadway. Once Schultz said, scanning the reports, the arrests seemed to be decreasing.

"I told him we were being taken care of pretty good," said Weinberg.

Another increase in the fall of that year prompted another visit to "Jimmy," the witness said, and again the arrests dwindled.

Mrs. George C. Heckenkamp of Quincy was elected president of the state auxiliary.

Five men were named delegates at large to the national convention at Los Angeles, Cal. They were Phil Collins of Chicago, Harry Brown of Benton, Karl Nash of Peoria, and Clamage and Applequist. Alternates were Edward F. McGinnis, Joseph Dorfman, and Nate Feldt, all of Chicago, Harry Mahoney of Alton, and Wayne Misener of Mazon.

Jury Finds No Motives for Killing Near Park

Samuel Picciotto, who was found shot to death near Comiskey park on Aug. 9, met his death at the hands of "persons unknown." This verdict was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury at the inquest conducted by Deputy Coroner James J. Whalen. Detective Eugene Reed of the Stanton avenue station said no motives for the killing had been found. Picciotto was 22 years old and lived at 212 West 24th street.

COURTNEY AXES HIT GAMBLING IN HIS OWN WARD

Raiders Chop Up 2 Dives on Busiest Day.

State's Attorney Courtney's ax squad descended on two more gambling dives yesterday. When they left the bet parlors were wrecks. One of the places raided was in Courtney's home ward, the 18th, at 6932 South Halsted street. The other was at 7212 Circle avenue, Forest Park.

The raids occurred at about the same time and brought to seven the number of gaming rooms smashed since Courtney started his wrecking policy last week.

While Courtney was using the ax to make certain the places did not reopen, city police conducted eight raids on city handbooks. Meanwhile Municipal Judge Eugene J. Holland freed 44 persons arrested in so-called gambling raids on Monday.

Syndicate Seeks Tipoff.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of Courtney's staf said that since the ax raids started the gambling syndicate has been making extraordinary efforts to learn in advance what places are to be raided. But thus far, Gilbert said, there have been no tipoffs on any raids.

One of Courtney's trusted men is placed inside a gambling den before a raiding squad is dispatched from his office. The squads are sent to a street corner where they meet another man who leads them to the place to be destroyed.

Once inside, they are not concerned with making arrests. The policemen strip to the waist and start swinging their axes. Everything of a breakable nature is thrown to the axmen. Yesterday they even smashed candy and peanut vending machines found in the 18th ward joint.

Two Employés Quizzed.

This book was said to have been newly opened. Two employés, James J. McCabe, 3624 South May street, and Frederick E. Peterson, 900 West 59th street, were taken to the state's attorney's office for questioning. They said the place was owned by William McCleverty, a former saloonkeeper, but the policemen doubted this. They believed the place was owned by "The Syndicate."

In the Forest Park raid John McKenzie, 131 South Cicero avenue, and Charles Peterson, 333 South Cicero avenue, were the employés sent to the prosecutor's office. They said their employer was a man named Andrew Cramer, but the raiders said they believed Bill Johnson was really the owner of the place. Johnson has been identified with gambling in Chicago and Cook county for many years.

Police Follow Usual System.

Capt. Martin E. Mullen of the morals division, in charge of police gambling raids, said his men were proceeding as usual. Twelve warants were obtained yesterday from Judge Oscar Caplan. Capt. Mullen said any one found on the premises named in the warants would be arrested.

The police raiders found eight handbooks open, but no bets were being taken. Employés were arrested and held for trial today before Judge Holland in the Racket court.

In Lake county, where a special prosecutor was appointed six weeks ago to smash gambling syndicates, activity yesterday was directed against punch boards. Special Prosecutor Charles E. Jack said slot machines and pinball games vanished weeks ago but punchboards remained. He decided that they, too, were gambling devices. Eighteen of them were seized in Waukegan taverns.

JUST SNEEZE AND BEAR IT; HAY FEVER TO STICK

As the ragweed pollen count went above 158 granules per cubic yard yesterday, a committee of the Chicago Medical society declared there was no relief in sight for hay fever sufferers. Drs. Samuel Feinberg, Harry Huber and Tell Nelson do not believe the pollen will leave the air before the third week of September.

The season has been about normal thus far, the committee reported to the association. A few extremely hot days with temperatures from 90 to 95 degrees, accompanied by southwest winds, probably would raise the pollen count to from 300 to 500 per cubic yard. Weeds are numerous and the hot weather is by no means over, the committee fears. The pollen count is printed daily in THE TRIBUNE'S weather data on page .

STEAM KILLED 4 IN AIRTIGHT CELL, CORONER STATES

Asserts He Knows Guard Who Turned It On.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Coroner Charles K. Hersch was quoted as saying tonight that steam turned into an airtight isolation cell block of the Philadelphia county prison killed four convicts found dead yesterday morning. Hersch said he knew the name of the guard who turned on the steam. He did not know the name of the official who gave the order.

It was charged that twenty-five convicts had received the heat punishment for their part in a hunger strike that started last Saturday. The four found dead were in adjoining cells.

Morris Spatz and Joseph Forte were in the same cells with the bodies. They escaped death, but were seriously ill, according to Hersch. He added that his information about the steam came from them.

19 Others Near Death.

Assistant District Attorney John A. Boyle was quoted as saying: "If the steam had been left on for one more hour all twenty-five prisoners would have died. As it was, all twenty-five were unconscious. Nineteen were carried out, one by one, and laid side by side on the grass outside the punishment block."

Mrs. Harry Osborn, widow of one of the convicts, and a brother of the dead man viewed his body in a morgue tonight. They accused prison officials of having tortured him to death.

Investigation of the deaths was pushed today by Hersch, District Attorney Charles F. Kelly, State Welfare Secretary Charles I. Engard, and Mayor S. David Wilson.

Politics Enter Inquiry.

Politics crept into the investigation at the outset. Mayor Wilson is a former Republican recently defeated for the United States senatorial nomination as an insurgent Democrat. He is supporting Warden William B. Mills. All the other investigators are Democrats.

Warden Mills remained in his home across the street from the prison tonight. He stuck to his original story that it would have been impossible to discharge steam into the cells where the nude bodies were found.

Besides Osborn, the other dead were Joseph Walters, Frank Comedeca, and James McQuade. All were thieves serving terms ranging from three to thirty years.

Loses Pants, Shoes, Socks, and His Hearing in Sleep

Newark, N. J., Aug. 23.—(AP)—William Reilly fell asleep last night on a park bench. When he awoke this morning he found a thief had stolen his $145 hearing device, his trousers, shoes, and socks.

DETECTIVE OPENS A FOLDING BED; FINDS WOMAN

The white haired woman who confronted the three detectives last night in her room at the Crest hotel, 6724 Stony Island avenue, was polite.

"I am Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers," she said. "What can I do for you gentlemen?"

"We are looking for Mrs. Josephine Woods," said Policeman Al Mackey. "She is described as 49 years old and she's wanted for passing a bad check."

"That's my daughter," said Mrs. Rogers, "but you can see she's not here."

Mackey said it was true he didn't see her. Then he walked over to the in-a-dor bed and jerked the handle. Down dropped the bed, and with it Josephine Woods.

HEAD OF DE KALB NORMAL ORDERED TO FACE INQUIRY

Board Acts on Charges Filed by Member.

De Kalb, Ill., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—The state normal school board has ordered an investigation, it was disclosed today, of charges brought by one of its members against the administration of Dr. Karl Adams, president of the Northern Illinois State Teachers' college here.

Dr. Karl Adams.

The accusations were made before a meeting of the board in Springfield yesterday by J. E. Alschuler of Aurora. He is a member of the De Kalb college advisory committee, as well as being a member of the normal board. At a previous meeting he proposed that Dr. Adams' resignation be requested.

No information concerning the nature of the charges would be revealed either by Alschuler or John J. Hallihan, state director of registration and education and ex-officio chairman of the normal school board. It was reported, however, that they concerned trouble Dr. Adams has had with members of his faculty.

Five Men to Conduct Quiz.

Hallihan was empowered to appoint a committee of five to investigate the charges. Inasmuch as the board reserved the right to approve the committee, the inquiry is not expected to start until after the board's meeting next month.

Friends have charged that efforts are being made to oust Dr. Adams over politics. He is a Republican, while the normal school board is predominantly Democratic. It has been suggested that because of the cry of politics, which might react to the benefit of Dr. Adams' party, the investigation will not begin until after the November elections.

The De Kalb college has been the scene of other investigations and numerous controversies. Dr. Adams' predecessor, J. Stanley Browne, resigned as head of the college in 1926 following charges of inadequate teaching, a low morale, and false certifying of athletes at the school. Lax conditions at the college were blamed for the raping of a co-ed at that time.

At Odds with Townspeople.

Dr. Adams became involved in a heated wrangle in De Kalb last spring which aroused the townspeople to considerable antagonism against him. It concerned his unsuccessful efforts to oust Superintendent of Schools Frank W. Phillips as a director of teachers' training at the college.

Phillips resigned, ostensibly to become superintendent of schools at Elgin.

The city board of education tried to act as mediator, but Dr. Adams told the board he would not renew Phillips' contract. About 2,500 De Kalb residents then signed petitions supporting Phillips. With this ammunition, the city board of education went over Dr. Adams' head and asked the state normal school board to act. The president then backed down and said Phillips could keep his job.

Out of this trouble came numerous charges that Dr. Adams was not giving full coöperation to his associates.

Hold Ice Cream Peddler for Annoying Girl, Aged 9

Roland Tower, 40 years old, 4009 Greenview avenue, an ice cream peddler, was arrested yesterday and accused of annoying a girl, 9 years old. A neighbor saw Tower place the girl on the handlebars of his bicycle side car and take her to Lincoln park. There he said he saw Tower make improper advances to the little girl. The neighbor took the license of the bicycle and notified Sheffield avenue police who arrested Tower at Wilson and Seminary avenues. He formerly was a store manager in Everett, Mass.

PEGGY MONTGOMERY.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Announcement of the engagement of Peggy Montgomery, now 19 years of age, and known as "Baby Peggy" as a child actress on the silent screen, and Gordon D. Ayres, a playwright, was disclosed yesterday. The young couple met three years ago at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio when both appeared in the picture "Ah, Wilderness." They have tentatively set Oct. 19 as the date for the wedding, but plans for the ceremony are not definite.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE, TAKES OWN LIFE IN LOVE QUARREL

Woman Lives Despite 3 Wounds in Head.

A husband was dead and a wife dying last night in the second love slaying in two days. The tragedy took place in the presence of their grandson, 3 years old.

The dead man was Henry Bruehl, 41 years old. His wife was still alive late last night in spite of three bullet wounds in her head. She was at Southtown hospital. They occupied the attic apartment at 6011 South Honore street. On the ground floor lives Mrs. Bruehl's son by a former marriage, Edward Altschaffl; his wife, Mary, and their little son, Edward Jr.

Calls Father to Investigate.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Altschaffl went out to spend the day with a friend. She left the baby with his grandparents. She returned about 5 p. m. and the child came downstairs. He had on no shoes nor stockings.

She asked him why, and he answered that he had been sleeping. She asked him, "Where's grandma?" and the child answered that she was sleeping, too. He added that grandma was all painted with iodine.

In fear of what she might find in the upstairs quarters Mrs. Altschaffl called her father, Lawrence O'Neil, 6147 South Paulina street. With neighbors, he opened the apartment. He found Mrs. Bruehl in the kitchen.

Tells of Arguments.

Bruehl he found dead in a hallway. Beside him was the gun he had used first on his wife, then on himself. In a notebook in his pocket were two messages, directing the disposition of his body and his estate and the other blaming the attentions of another man to his wife for his deed.

Mrs. Altschaffl told police that a boarder had lived with the couple until about a year ago, when he was ordered out by Bruehl in an argument over Mrs. Bruehl. She said the boarder continued to see Mrs. Bruehl, however, until about three months ago, when there was another fight between the two men. She said that Bruehl on several occasions had threatened to kill both his wife and the former boarder.

SLAYER'S WIFE TELLS HER LOVE FOR HIS VICTIM

Jury Hears Story of Their Fatal Affair.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Six weeks before he was slain Monday, Edward Solomon promised to throttle his growing love for Mrs. Margaret Sikora. It was her fault that he did not, she told a coroner's jury yesterday.

Solomon's promise was made in a letter written July 5 to Mrs. Sikora's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, who had learned of her daughter's clandestine love for the 35 year old accountant. In it he apologized for "any uneasiness" he had caused the mother and assured her in vague, mysterious terms that it would not recur.

But an hour after he had posted his letter, young Mrs. Sikora wrote to her mother and repudiated it. She said she planned to leave her husband, Rudolph. The mother told the husband Monday; as the last of a chain of chaotic events the husband shot Solomon five times, then gave himself up to the police.

The jury called the shooting murder. It recommended that Rudolph Sikora be held to the grand jury. He was taken later to the county jail.

Letter Is Read.

The slain man's letter to Mrs. Boehme, read into the testimony at the inquest by W. W. Smith, Sikora's attorney, said:

"I thought you might be pleased to learn that you have been successful in the results you desired to obtain. You are right, no doubt, feeling as you do, nor can any one question your sincerity. I do not think it necessary for this to be known to any one but us three. I am only sorry to have given you any moments of uneasiness."

Toward her husband, who watched her constantly at the inquest, Mrs. Sikora cast not a glance. Nor were her words of him. They were of Solomon, by whose side she worked for four years and to whose bier in an adjoining chapel she tearfully hastened during each recess of the inquest.

Slayer Does Not Testify.

Sikora, cool, composed, and cheerful, did not testify. To newspaper men he said his one hope now is that his wife, who left him a month ago, will come back to him. To his sister, Mrs. Don Wilbur, he replied that he felt fine for the first time in six months.

His wife—whom he said is perfect—was calm and emotionless on the witness stand. Questioned by Deputy Coroner Edward Edelstein, she outlined her four years' friendship with Solomon, a friendship which began a month before her marriage to Sikora.

"Tell your whole story," Coroner Edelstein said.

"There's no story to tell," she began. "I was working there beside him at William M. Brantman & Co. [accounting firm], and I knew Ed very well.

Liked Him, She Says.

"I liked him very much—"

"From the first day?" Edelstein interrupted.

"Well, you can't form an opinion right away," she hesitated. "But I liked the type of man he was, and we became very friendly."

"In a business way?"

"That's right."

She and her husband never had a disagreement, she said, but he "knew something was wrong." Finally in July, she said, she told him she intended to leave.

"He asked if some one else was involved," she testified. "I said no, because I didn't want to bring any one else into it. Then I confided in my mother. I told her I had been seeing Ed after work and Saturday afternoons and Sundays, when I had told Rudy [her husband] I was out with girl friends.

"She seemed to take it all right, but later that day she telephoned and told me to be sure of what I was doing. Then she began writing letters, saying that if I went on with Ed and married him she would be through with me. That was when Ed wrote that letter to her."

At this point in her testimony Attorney Smith read Solomon's letter to Mrs. Boehme. Then the coroner told Mrs. Sikora to resume her story. She testified:

"After he had written that he told me why. He didn't want to break up my family and myself. I told him I knew what I was doing. So in the same mail I wrote to my mother and told her I couldn't go through with the breaking off. We tried two or three times and couldn't."

A week later, she said, when her husband met her after work, he greeted her with, "What do you think of a Jew?" From that single remark, she said, she knew he had learned of Solomon, and told him she wished a divorce.

"He wanted to go to my mother's," she said, "and on the way he said she had told him of it. When we got there my mother cried, 'What are you doing here?' and talked and cried for an hour and said what a wonderful man Rudy was.

Agrees with Mother.

"I didn't answer. I agreed with her."

"That he was a wonderful man?"

"He was. But on the way back home he became incensed and said I couldn't spend another night in my house with him. He drove me home and packed my suitcase and said I should go to my sweetheart now."

"Did he ever say he would do bodily harm to Solomon?"

"Out at my mother's that day, they were talking. They said they'd get him. I think it was more of a statement in anger than anything else. They blamed him for the entire thing."

Questioned by Attorney Smith, she said she first realized she loved Solomon about eight months ago. She said she had never loved her husband. "I just thought it was love as I knew it at the time."

"Your husband always wanted you to give up this affair and come back, didn't he?"

Love for Him Is Gone.

"Do you still love your husband?"

"No, I don't."

"When did you make up your mind that you didn't?"

"You don't make up your mind about anything like that. It's just a feeling that grows."

"You realized, though, that your husband was sincerely in love with you?"

"Yes."

She and Solomon discussed marriage the first time they went out together, she said. This was last April. She hoped to get a divorce on ground of desertion.

Mrs. Sikora was released last night after further questioning by police.

Defended by Mother-in-Law.

Mrs. Sikora's mother, Mrs. Boehme, 7809 Elm Grove avenue, Elmwood Park, defended her son-in-law and castigated her daughter. She accused her daughter of becoming hardened and callous.

When Charles A. Nichol, Margaret's attorney, objected at this, she cried shrilly, with a comforting glance toward Sikora, "Well, I'm her mother! I raised her! I know!"

During the course of her hour on the stand, she pointed out that she went not only to the husband, with a recital of Margaret's waywardness, but also to Margaret's employer, who promptly discharged her.

When the coroner asked how she happened to tell her son-in-law, she replied, belligerently, "Well, he never did complain and I wondered why."

Four witnesses to the shooting also testified.

Funeral Services Held.

Solomon, 35, and distinguished in appearance, was a graduate of Northwestern university. Out of his salary of $55 a week he gave $35 to his mother and invalid sister with whom he lived at 1463 Winnemac avenue. His only gifts to Sikora's wife were copies of Housman's "A Shropshire Lad," the "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam" and a gold plated locket.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. yesterday at the chapel at 5205 Broadway. Burial was in Westlane cemetery.

AIR LINE CANCELS TOLEDO, O., STOP; FIELD IS UNSAFE

Toledo, O., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Plans for rebuilding the runways of Toledo airport to make them safe for passenger planes of United Air Lines were started today by city officials and Toledo business men.

The air line announced last night it would discontinue service to Toledo tonight because of the unsafe condition of the runways. A plane was unable to take off for half an hour last Saturday.

Douglas Corrigan's plane can fly the right way too. Mrs. F. O. Voelter of 919 Leland avenue knows because she has traveled in it. She received a letter yesterday from her son, Lieut. Karl Voelter, city aviation director at Miami, Fla. He told her that the plane is the one in which he flew her from Indianapolis to Cleveland several years ago.

Richberg New Commerce Chairman of U. S. Bar

Donald R. Richberg, former NRA administrator, was appointed chairman of the American Bar association's committee on commerce yesterday by President Frank J. Hogan. Former Judge John J. Burns of Massachusetts, first general counsel of the federal Securities and Exchange commission, was named chairman of the bar association's committee on securities laws and regulations.

PRESIDENT HITS PRIMARY SWITCH BY G. O. P. VOTERS

Aroused by Effect on His Purge Plans.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today criticized Republicans who enter Democratic primaries to support candidates marked for the Roosevelt purge. He denounced such tactics as contrary to public and political morality.

In Georgia and in Maryland Republicans are being urged to back the Democratic senatorial candidates, Senators Walter F. George and Millard F. Tydings respectively. Both have been attacked by the President. Republican support is credited with having caused the defeat in Idaho of Senator James P. Pope, 100 per cent Roosevelt supporter.

In Maryland, however, election laws will not permit Republicans to vote in the Democratic primary for Tydings. No change in party affiliation is permitted within six months of a primary.

Plan O'Connor Strategy.

In New York City there has been talk of nominating Representative John J. O'Connor, chairman of the house rules committee, on both the Democratic and Republican tickets since the President singled him out for the "purification" program.

In the course of his remarks at a conference in his summer home here today Mr. Roosevelt referred to all four of the above contests. But he asserted that he was talking about the general question of crossing party lines and not referring to any individual candidates.

A routine question touched off the President's outburst. He was asked to comment upon his conference Sunday with Senator Pope and the possibility of Pope's running as an independent. Mr. Roosevelt had apparently been waiting for this opportunity. He launched into a ten minute discussion in which he criticized Republican entrance into Democratic primaries.

Lashes at Newspapers.

In this connection the President also lashed out against what he termed the "Tory press" of the country, which he said has overlooked an opportunity to work for "decent political morality" by fighting against party line crossing. Asked to define the "Tory press," he said it consisted of 85 per cent of the newspapers of the United States.

The chief subject of discussion with Senator Pope, the President said, was a matter which involved public morality.

The objective of the direct primary system, he said, was to give the actual voters within a party, in recognition of the party system, the right to choose their candidates for public office. There were certain restrictions intended to bar the participation in a primary of even a handful of voters not belonging to that party, he said, otherwise the objective would be destroyed.

Might Upset Majority.

If one group within a party had 49 per cent of the vote and the other group had 51 per cent of the vote, it was entirely proper for the 51 per cent to win, he declared. If 2 or 3 per cent of voters from another party were to enter the primary to which they did not belong, the will of the party voters would be destroyed, he asserted.

Mr. Roosevelt then referred to a letter which he said was becoming famous—a letter written by Republican National Committeeman James W. Arnold of Georgia urging Republicans to support Senator George. Senator George seeks renomination at the primary Sept. 14 against Lawrence Camp, indorsed by the President as a 100 per center.

Asked about Representative O'Connor's filing as a Republican as well as Democratic candidate for nomination in New York City, the President responded that the same principle applied. It was just as bad for a Democrat to enter a Republican primary as vice versa, he declared.

JARECKI REFUSES COMMENT.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki last night declined to comment on President Roosevelt's condemnation of primary voters who jump party barriers. He said he would issue a statement today. Last April Judge Jarecki sponsored a ruling that permitted an estimated 150,000 Republicans in Cook county to vote in the Democratic primary.

Church Members Rescue Sacred Vessels from Fire

Church members yesterday morning rescued sacred vessels and vestments when fire damaged St. Michael's and All Angels' Episcopal church at 6730 West 34th street, Berwyn. A lightning bolt may have struck electric wires and started the fire, firemen said. Damage in the basement and on the vestry floor was estimated at $500. The rector, the Rev. John Plummer, is vacationing in Faribault, Minn.

FARLEY FROWNS ON ROOSEVELT'S PURGE EFFORTS

Refuses to Take Part in Reprisals.

Members of the White House purge committee are conspiring to run both Senator Pope and Representative Maverick as independents in the general election campaign. These two yes-men were defeated in the primaries by avowed conservative, anti-New Deal Democrats. Senator Pope was beaten by Representative D. Worth Clark and Maverick by Paul J. Kilday, San Antonio prosecuting attorney.

Maverick, the leader of a house radical bloc and a zealous supporter of president Roosevelt, probably terminated his political career in Texas yesterday when he sought to have his name printed on the ballot as an independent candidate for congress. Secretary of State Edward Clark refused to certify Maverick as a candidate.

Maverick Plans Test.

Maverick, however, indicated today that he would test the ruling of the secretary of state in the courts and, failing to get his name on the ballot by that means, would conduct a write-in campaign.

Senator Pope, who is known as "the other senator from Idaho," also may have to rely upon a write-in campaign if he runs at all, for V. A. Verhei, the nominee of the National Progressive [La Follette] party so far has refused to eliminate himself. Senator Robert M. La Follette [Radical, Wis.], whose brother, Gov. Philip La Follette, founded the National Progressive party, is one of those who has been urging Senator Pope to run despite his primary defeat. Presumably the La Follettes, anxious to have their incipient party represented in the senate, will endeavor to persuade Verhei to sacrifice himself so that Pope may run.

President Roosevelt, according to his left wing advisers, is interested in such third party movements as the Progressives, the Farmer-Laborites in Minnesota, and the American Laborites in New York, because they fit in the pattern of his proposed political realignment and would offer him a vehicle for a third term effort, if his attempted purge of the Democratic party should fail and he could not dominate the 1940 convention.

RAPS ROOSEVELT FOR AIDING WORK OF COMMUNISM

Youth Congress Ruled by Moscow, Says Witness.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today was charged with having aided unwittingly the communist cause in America by lauding the American Youth Congress in 1936 as "an important instrument" of the Democratic cause.

Prof. Edward I. Fenlon of the philosophy department of Brooklyn college testified before the special house committee investigating un-American activities that of the nine organizations represented at the 1936 youth congress, which was held in Milwaukee, five were official units of the communist party, one was communist-socialist, another was socialistic and only two were non-radical.

Reads President's Letter.

"And in the face of that setup," Fenlon asserted, "the Stalin supported chairman was able to produce a letter from President Roosevelt hailing the gathering not only as an 'important instrument of the Democratic cause' but stating that 'it has the good will and the best wishes of all who are concerned with the future of democracy.'"

Drawing a deep breath, Prof. Fenlon turned to Martin Dies [Dem., Tex.], chairman of the committee, and said:

"This is precisely what the 'United Front' is working hourly to achieve—to pull the wool over the eyes of the authorities and the people. Another of the President's family has gone out of the way to inspire the alien spirit that undoubtedly controls the youth congress."

Mrs. Roosevelt Speaks.

Fenlon later said this reference was to Mrs. Roosevelt, who made a speech at this year's session of the International Youth congress, with which the American group is affiliated, at Vassar college in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Although Fenlon confined himself to the 1936 meeting at Milwaukee, he said President Roosevelt also sent a letter to the meeting of the American Youth congress at Poughkeepsie last December. The December meeting, in large part, concerned itself with arrangements for the international meeting of this summer.

Fenlon took the stand as the committee began inquiries into communism on the campus of the city owned Brooklyn college. He said that four active communist organizations on the campus have turned the college into an imposing center of communist propaganda.

Prof. Earle Martin, also of Brooklyn college, presented to the committee a copy of The Staff, which he said was issued monthly by the college's unit of the communist party.

Appeals to President.

The committee, before adjourning for an indefinite period, accused the justice department of refusing to give requested assistance to the inquiry committee and appealed to President Roosevelt to direct the department's coöperation.

Chairman Dies wrote to the President, saying that Acting Attorney General Thurman W. Arnold declined on June 27 "to assign the committee any special agents of the bureau of investigation or any attorney of the department of justice," as provided in the resolution creating the committee.

A subcommittee was delegated to hold hearings on the west coast, inquiring into charges that high officials of the labor department gave aid and advice to Harry Bridges, CIO maritime labor leader, while deportation proceedings were pending against him.

A. F. OF L. TO SEEK AMENDMENTS TO WAGE-HOUR LAW

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 23.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor's executive council today agreed to seek amendments to the federal wage-hour law to curtail some of the broad discretionary powers now vested in a wage-hour administration.

"The wage-hour law as now written," President William Green of the federation told reporters, "leaves the impression the administrator has dictatorial powers. We will prepare and introduce in the next congress amendments designed to overcome its defects."

In outlining the council's attitude toward amending the wage-hour act, Green said the federation's proposals were no criticism of the act's new administrator, Elmer F. Andrews. "We have great confidence in Mr. Andrews," he said.

LYONS ASSAILS CONGRESS FOR LACK OF ACTION

Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for United States senator, spoke before about 2,000 persons at two outdoor meetings last night. The rallies were held at Belmont and Central avenues and at Division street and Central avenue. Stephen A. Day, Republican nominee for representative at large, and George E. Lambur Jr., candidate for clerk of the Illinois Supreme court, also spoke.

Lyons was introduced by Edward F. Williams, former manager of the Postal-Telegraph company, who gave Lyons his first job in 1907 when he was 11 years old.

Lyons attacked the last session of congress for failure to pass laws aiding the working man and the railroads. Instead, he said, congress "frittered away nine months trying to pack the Supreme court and get the reorganization bill passed." He also pledged himself to vote against any wars on foreign soil, promising: "I will vote billions for defense, but not one cent for European or Asiatic intrigue."

SIMPLER LABOR ACT IS NEEDED, SAYS PRESIDENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today clarified his position with regard to modification of the Wagner labor relations act.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters today that William Green, president of the A. F. of L., and he had agreed that ambiguities in the wording of the act had been found and should be removed. Some of this wording has been clarified by courts, he said.

The President apparently was fearful lest it should be believed that he had pledged himself to conform with the A. F. of L. program for modification which is being drafted in Atlantic City by the federation's executive council. He said the labor board, all labor groups and employers would be consulted before changes were sought.

HORNER'S FORCES TO SET UP OWN CAMPAIGN OFFICE

Act Independently of Cook County Organization.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Rival Democratic headquarters will be maintained in Chicago in the fall campaign just as they were for the bitter primary battle last spring.

At the close of a five hour conference at the Congress hotel between Gov. Horner and eight of his lieutenants, Charles K. Schwartz, chairman of the state tax commission, announced there had been a decision to reopen the Hotel Sherman headquarters used by the Horner-Courtney forces in the April fight against the regular Cook county organization headed by National Committeeman P. A. Nash and Mayor Kelly.

Nash to Take Charge.

At the same time arrangements were being made at the Hotel Morrison to expand the county organization headquarters there to campaign size. It was said that Nash, chairman of the county committee, will return from his vacation early next week ready to assume and retain full control of the regular campaign in Chicago and its suburbs.

The announcement of the Horner-Courtney decision was unexpected in view of Mayor Kelly's appearance and declaration of complete party regularity at Governor's day at the state fair in Springfield last Thursday. There had been a constant flow of rumors since that event that a peaceful working agreement would be sought before definite campaign plans were made by either side.

Decision Pleases G. O. P.

That there had been a decision at this early date to maintain both organizations as separate units was greeted by Republicans as a good omen for at least a part of their ticket. As they see it, the Sherman headquarters will concentrate its forces behind those nominees who were Horner-Courtney candidates in the primary and the county central committee will center its support behind its own primary winners.

That means, according to the Republicans, that the forces of the governor and the state's attorney will put in their hardest licks for Congressman Scott W. Lucas, nominee for United States senator, and County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki. They believe further that unless the situation changes the county committee will do practically all its work for the nominees on the county ticket except Judge Jarecki.

No Unity Promised.

The turn of events at the Congress conference also brought disclosures showing that Mayor Kelly's speech at the fair did not, as had been suspected by some observers, signalize the completion or even the beginning of negotiations to unify the Democrats for the election of Nov. 8.

The mayor's part in the Governor's day activities caused State's Attorney Courtney to stay away from the celebration. It is believed that the prosecutor's refusal to associate in any way with the Nash-Kelly leaders was an important factor in the determination to reopen the Hotel Sherman headquarters. He is said to have insisted also that it is essential to his own future that all the Horner ward and country town units set up last spring be continued as separate local organizations.

PLANES COLLIDE, SET JAP FOUNDRY AFIRE; 14 KILLED

TOKIO, Aug. 24 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Fourteen persons were killed and at least 150 injured today when two airplanes collided over an iron foundry in Omori, a Tokio suburb. The foundry was set afire by exploding gasoline.

Ten of the dead were workmen burned in the foundry. The three crew members of one of the planes, a transport, died in the crash.

The pilot of the second craft, a training plane, jumped. His parachute did not open and he was killed.

TVA PROPAGANDA BOBS UP IN QUIZ AIMED AT UTILITY

Bring Out Use of Big Stick to Ruin Companies.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Congressional investigation of the TVA was moved here today to hear stories about the use of propaganda for and against power produced by TVA. A 1935 referendum on building a city distribution system to carry TVA power was the subject of the first session.

Investigation of the TVA rate making yardstick and the cost of producing power in the Tennessee Valley system has been shelved by the committee until after the November election. Some observers believed transfer of the inquiry from Knoxville to Chattanooga was an attempt to divert attention of voters in seven surrounding states from the bad odor left by the inquiry into the Berry marble claims.

L. J. Wilhoite, chairman of the public power board of Chattanooga, was the first witness today. He prefaced his testimony with a charge that the Tennessee Electric Power company and its associates had attempted deliberately to kill the power program here.

Created by Legislature.

Wilhoite explained that the board he heads was authorized by the legislature three years ago after the referendum that favored public power. When the Tennessee company refused to sell its system here, he said, the board proceeded with building of a duplicate system.

This testimony brought from Representative Charles Wolverton [R., N. J.] chief cross-examiner of the committee, the remark that Wilhoite and his city ownership associates were trying to use a big stick to ruin private power companies.

"We call it the right of the people to own and operate their utilities," Wilhoite replied. "This public power program cannot be defeated on its merits and propaganda against it was an attempt to mislead citizens into believing it would increase taxes."

Wilhoite also charged that trickery was used by petition circulators to get names. He said some voters were told signing was an incident to registration and others were told the petitions merely objected to a certain type of bond to finance the city-owned project.

Banker Tells of Campaign.

Paul F. Mathis, a banker and secretary-treasurer of the Tax Payers' association, opponents of the public power project, followed Wilhoite on the stand. He testified the Commonwealth and Southern company gave $20,000 to the association, which was composed of 150 business men and investors.

Mathis admitted utility employés were lent to the association for work in the campaign to defeat municipal power and added that the TVA power supporters had a better argument in the shape of Chickamauga dam, one of the TVA projects eight miles north of the city.

"We were trying to kill Santa Claus," he said. "They used better judgment because it was understood generally that a vote for public power was a vote for Chickamauga dam. We couldn't have changed that election if we had had ten million dollars to spend."

TVA Opposition Told.

Francis Biddle, committee counsel, explained that information about the power interests backing the campaign against TVA power was dug up by Roy Farrell and Walter Howaland, two PWA investigators lent to the committee.

"I don't understand how this came to the attention of these two bright young men," Wolverton snapped. "I think they could have been very useful to me on phosphate."

He was referring to the inquiry into TVA purchases of phosphate lands last year that gave a profit of more than half a million dollars to the International Agricultural Corporation of New York.

NEW 35,000 TON BATTLESHIP TO BE BUILT BY FRANCE

PARIS, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The navy ministry announced today that Cesar Campinchi, minister of the navy, had ordered construction of a new 35,000 ton battleship.

The new superdreadnaught will be named Clemenceau, in honor of France's wartime premier, Georges Clemenceau. It will be the third under construction in French shipyards. The battleships Richelieu and Jean Bart, both of 35,000 tons, are nearing completion. The Clemenceau will be built at the Brest navy yard.

A fourth 35,000 ton fighting ship is to be laid down soon, government circles reported. These ships are intended to match 35,000 ton battleships now under construction in Italy and Germany. Italy launched two battleships in 1937 and announced two more would be built. Germany is believed to have three 35,000 ton fighting ships under construction.

7 CONGRESSMEN OF MISSISSIPPI WIN IN PRIMARY

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Mississippi's electorate renominated all seven incumbents in its congressional delegation at today's Democratic primary. Nomination is tantamount to election.

At midnight the six representatives who were opposed were leading by margins that could not be upset by the unreported boxes. Will Whittington of Greenville was renominated without opposition.

SENATOR M'ADOO DENIES HE WAS MEMBER OF KLAN

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 23.—(AP)—A campaign statement charging that Senator William G. McAdoo was a member of the Ku Klux Klan in 1924, when he sought the Democratic nomination for President, was denied as false by the California senator today. Pierson M. Hall, former United States attorney now campaigning for Sheridan Downey in the Democratic senatorial primary, displayed before his audience at an East Los Angeles meeting last night what he said was a klan imperial passport made out to William G. McAdoo.

COURT DECLINES TO STAKE JUSTICE ON HORSE RACE

So a Wife Won't Collect if Mate's Entry Wins.

A court yesterday refused to consider a hunch that a certain race horse will win today. In court was Mrs. Dorothy Miller, 27 years old. She complained that her husband is $30 in arrears for the support of their child.

Tells Judge Horse Is Right.

"This horse Charlotte G. has been running second for a long time, and it's due to be a winner tomorrow," Attorney Kotlar said. "My client's husband is behind in child support. If the horse wins, he should be made to pay up."

Miller denied he owns the horses, although admitting they are registered in his name. He said he assists his father, Ben, who is superintendent of the Hawthorne race track. He agreed to pay on the arrears from his earnings of $22 a week.

Race Beneath Court's Notice.

"What about the race tomorrow?" Attorney Kotlar asked.

"The court cannot take judicial notice of such things," Master Benda replied. "But I'll issue an order for an injunction to restrain Miller from disposing of the horses until the next hearing."

Judge John Prystalski signed his order.

Mrs. Miller on June 22 was granted $5 a week support for the child, Grace, 2 years old. She charged Miller with cruelty in her suit for divorce. She lives at 3422 South 60th court, Cicero. Miller lives at 3641 South 52d avenue, Cicero.

RESTORES COURT INJUNCTION TO GUARD DAIRIES

An injunction to protect the Meadowmoor Dairies, Inc., of Chicago from picketing and interference by the milk wagon drivers' union was put in effect by the Illinois Supreme court last night. The Superior court of Cook county had dissolved its injunction on June 1 and the company appealed to the higher tribunal.

Because the Supreme court was not in session, Justice Francis B. Wilson entered the order putting the old injunction back into effect until such time as the matter can be presented to the whole court.

Justice Wilson ordered that a $2,500 bond be filed by the company to cover costs and damages. This was done last night.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Senator George L. Berry [D., Tenn.] today charged that Tennessee WPA workers were assessed $125,000 to help defeat him for renomination in the recent primary.

Berry placed his charges before the senate campaign expenditures investigating committee. He demanded a thorough investigation of "the worst kind of gutter politics."

George L. Berry.

The senator is now under investigation himself in connection with his TVA marble claims which were pronounced worthless by a federal court commission. Disclosures have shown that Berry and associates held contracts to supply the government with marble for government buildings.

Big Damage Claim Factor.

The claim of Berry and his associates for $5,000,000 damages to flooded marble deposits in the Norris dam area in Tennessee is one of the subjects of investigation before the TVA congressional investigating committee.

Berry in his charges today said WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and other federal officials had been informed of heavy WPA campaign assessments, "without avail." He also charged abnormal expansion of WPA rolls just prior to the election.

The senator accused Col. Harry S. Berry, state WPA administrator, and Rhoton Clift, assistant administrator, of being the campaign directors of the coalition ticket in Tennessee on which Tom Stewart, victor over Berry for the nomination, was a candidate.

Senator Berry suggested that Col. Berry and Clift be placed under oath and asked about the $125,000.

Charges Levy in Washington.

"Solicitations," he said, "also were made in the city of Washington among Tennesseeans employed in the federal service, both in and out of the civil service category, in behalf of the coalition ticket."

The senator accused the WPA in Tennessee of "soliciting persons to accept positions with the WPA who were not in need of employment and who were not subject to relief, but who possessed certain political influence. He further charged that shortly before the primary the WPA rolls were expanded and pay adjusted in his state.

As to Berry's own campaign, the senator said, "I did not solicit, nor did I receive, nor did I accept from any federal employé under the civil service or otherwise, or from any state employé under the merit system, one penny."

Late today Harry Hopkins denied he had refused to investigate specific charges of improper political activity by the WPA in Tennessee or elsewhere.

ONE'S INDIANA NATIVE, THE OTHER OF OHIO, AND THEY'RE TWINS!

The first boy was born a few minutes before noon yesterday in the Hurd home in Lawrenceburg. The attending physician decided that since another child would be born soon it was necessary to put Mrs. Hurd in a hospital. An ambulance was called. She made the trip of 24 miles unattended.

Within two hours after Mrs. Hurd reached the hospital the second son was born. The first boy was brought to join his mother and brother last night. The boys weigh five pounds each.

PRACTICES LAW ILLEGALLY; GETS TEN DAYS IN JAIL

Abraham Barancik, a bookkeeper for the mortgage banking firm of A. J. Liebman, 105 North Clark street, was sentenced to ten days in jail yesterday. He was charged with practicing law without a license.

"You're a chiseler depriving honest lawyers of the fruits of long years of hard study," said Judge Eugene L. McGarry in the Renters' court. "I'm going to make an example of you and put an end to this practice."

Barancik had begun to argue an eviction case. Philip R. Davis, a member of the Chicago Bar association's committee on unauthorized practice, stepped forward and told the court that complaints had been received about Barancik. Judge McGarry acted at once.

Fines Imposed on 2 for Short Weighing Meat

Fines of $25 for short weighing meat were imposed yesterday on Sigmund Fuenfer, 2631 Division street, and Miss Helen Crawford, 2611 59th street, by Municipal Judge Francis Borelli. Joseph Gronskis, 10452 Indiana avenue, was fined $5 and costs for delivering a load of coal without a certificate from the city weighmaster.

FIGURES OF STRAW

By CALEB

HOW STRANGE a picture we conjure up with the words, "Big Business." We see, in imagination, a portly gentleman of forbidding mien, massive watch chain on his vest, a tall silk hat, a long cigar. For thus cartoonists love to picture Big Business.

Like Uncle Sam, the political boss, the farmer in overalls, the heavy-muscled laborer, this picture has been given substance by repetition, has taken on the familiarity of cliche—the danger of triteness.

Business—big and little—is not a single entity, corporate or otherwise. It is the sum total of the individuals in it. Every business—big and little—is made up of people. It is not a factory or the machinery in it. The hopes and ambitions, the smallness and the nobility, the selfishness and the magnanimity of all men are in it. They make business whatever it is—good or bad.

Business—big and little—can no more be poured into a single mold, pigeon-holed and classified than humanity can. Business is humanity; no more, no less, and as we know it today is still among man's youngest enterprises. Until the last few decades many businesses grew naturally with their country. There was little time and less occasion to wonder beyond the next few years or plan beyond a generation. There was so much room that strides could be made in almost any direction with few toes to be trod upon.

Now business has grown older. The days of carefree adolescence have gone. In retrospect the days past have been thrilling, full of action, golden with results that came easily, were spent easily.

Today we face problems of the future with the splendid background structure of a business youth—its triumphs and its mistakes. We pause momentarily to take stock—inventory assets and liabilities, cast a balance in the books.

But as business pauses to take stock—and progress from that to the establishing of new principles and rules of procedure—it is well to remember that business, big and little, is simply people. It is not a thing apart, but is ourselves. Studying it we study not some unrelated and distant individual, but ourselves.

FLYING HOSTESS HAS ENGINEER SUITOR GROUNDED

Court Ends Five Year Air, Rail Romance.

Frank Abraham has old fashioned ideas about courting and such goings on. He has been a locomotive engineer for twenty-eight years. He is 48 years old.

Miss Anne Becker has modern notions. She is an American Airlines stewardess. She has flown more than a million miles. She is 24.

The two had been keeping company for five years. Then things happened. The echoes came yesterday to the South State street court.

On one of her trips Miss Becker met an attorney, Albert S. Lipman, 111 West Washington street. He took some movies inside the plane. In August he met her at the Chicago airport and they drove to her room at the Mira-Mar hotel, 6218 Woodlawn avenue, where he showed her the picturcs.

They Call Police.

Waiting when they came out of the hotel was Mr. Abraham, the locomotive engineer.

"What are you doing with my girl?" he shouted. And such was his evident indignation that Miss Becker and Lipman retreated into the hotel and called police. When the police arrived Abraham was gone, but the windshield of Lipman's car was broken and the wiring was stripped from the engine.

Tells of Bruises.

Judge Eugene Holland yesterday was told also that six weeks ago, after Miss Becker had been out for an evening with Abraham, that she returned home bruised and with her clothing torn. This evidence was offered by Miss Becker's sister, Mrs. Magdalen Strysman, 5541 South Carpenter sireet.

"She doesn't want to see you any more," Judge Holland told Abraham. "Stay away from her. And sign a $5,000 peace bond to make you remember."

The judge dismissed the charges of malicious mischief and disorderly conduct against Abraham.

PLAN TO SHRINK OGDEN LAGOON, ADD PLAY SPACE

Part of the Ogden park lagoon, 59th street and Racine avenue, will be filled in to provide nearly five additional acres of play space, park district officials said yesterday. Recreational facilities will be provided on the new land.

Several children have drowned in recent years in the lagoon, which is nine feet deep in many places. When the improvement is finished the maximum depth will be four feet. The work is to be done by WPA laborers and will be completed before spring.

Policeman Shot in Battle with Bandits Makes Gain

Policeman Patrick O'Malley, who was critically wounded early Sunday in a gun batle, yesterday was reported slightly improved in North Chicago hospital. O'Malley was shot several times as he routed five negro bandits in a tavern at 2405 North Clark street. He killed one and wounded another. Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue station said warants had been issued for the three who escaped.

Judge Advises Restaurant Cowboy to Stay at Home

Joseph Crawford told Judge Eugene J. Holland yesterday, "I guess I just wanted to play cowboy." He was accused of brandishing a revolver in a restaurant at 1222 Wilson avenue. Crawford is 33 years old. He lives at 4430 Magnolia avenue. The judge placed him on probation for two years and advised him to stay on the home range.

FALLS FROM SECOND STORY; DIES.

Frank Snyder, 72 years old, died in the county hospital yesterday of injuries suffered last Thursday when he fell from the second story window of his home at 163 North Carpenter street.

The Human Mole

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. MARIAN WEAVER.

AMBITIOUS LAD LEVIES TRIBUTE ON BURIED LADY

Only Pennies Keep Son from Joining Her.

When Marian Weaver, the newest human mole, entered her grave the last thing she thought about was money. She had no idea that a pretty young woman, healthy and vigorous, lying five feet under the sod, would need any spending money.

Marian, who took up her new profession last Sunday, now has a definite use for money at the bottom of her peephole burrow near North avenue and Mannheim road in Proviso township. And it's all because of her young son, Ronald, 4½ years old.

A Pleasant Voice from Tomb.

When she isn't amusing herself, or eating her liquid diet, or peering up at the peephole trade, Mrs. Weaver is talking with Ronald. Ronald is her most assiduous guest. But Ronald is not entirely altruistic.

Pennies Keep Boy on Top.

At first he insisted that his mother come up right away. Now he wants to go down to visit her. If he can't do that—and he can't—Ronald insists that mother give him some pennies to buy candy.

And that's where Mrs. Weaver's spending money comes in. Her husband lowers the coppers down the peephole. Then along comes Ronald with his demands. Ronald lowers a string. Mrs. Weaver ties a penny to the end. And Ronald has added another to his hoard. Mrs. Weaver thinks her son will make a shrewd business man.

OFFERS HUSBAND ALIMONY; WINS SUPPORT INSTEAD

Master in Chancery Francis Benda awarded Mrs. Eleanor Thomas $25 a week temporary support yesterday. He had been offered a wide latitude of choice in her suit for separate maintenance and for an accounting on the business of the Oslo tavern, 2812 West North avenue.

"This is a three way proposition," said Attorney Norman Becker. "Mrs. Thomas is asking for support, or a salary, or she is willing to have her husband receive $60 a week alimony. It will all come out of the business, anyway, and she has a right to one-half."

Becker said Mrs. Thomas had been instrumental in building up a business of $2,500 a month. The couple was married Jan. 7, 1928, and separated Aug. 17. They have a daughter, Lillian, 9 years old. Mrs. Thomas lives at 1666 North California avenue.

HUNT 2 WOMEN IN SLAYING OF ILLINOIS FARMER

Body Found in Bed After Pair Flee State.

Fairfield, Ill., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Two women are being sought in three states tonight in connection with the mysterious slaying of Felix Shannon, 56 years old, a farmer near Mount Erie. One of the women has red hair. They are about 30 years old. They are suspected of having killed the farmer after he gave them a ride in his automobile.

Shannon's nude body, with two bullet holes in his head, was found yesterday in the bedroom of his home. A pair of woman's shoes and a woman's purse were found beside the body. In another room was Shannon's clothing, with only 13 cents in his pockets. His brother, Perry Shannon, who found the body, said the victim usually carried a considerable sum of money.

Find Auto in Ditch.

Shannon's automobile was found in a ditch a mile and a half from his home. A pistol with three discharged shells lay near the car. Shannon had been shot twice and a third bullet hole was in a pillow on his bed.

Information given by the slain man's youngest son put Sherif Ernest Burkett on the trail of the two women. The boy visited Shannon Sunday, having come to Mount Erie from Princeton, Ind., where he lives with his four brothers and sisters and his mother, who is estranged from the farmer.

The boy said that Sunday afternoon, when his father was driving him back to Princeton, they gave two women a ride to Oakland City, Ind. Shannon promised to call for the women on his way back, his son said.

Women Ask for Ride.

A witness before a coroner's jury testified he saw Shannon driving through Mount Erie Sunday night with a woman in his car. A farmer living near Shannon's place disclosed today that two women came to his farm Sunday night, not long after the estimated time of the shooting, and asked to be driven to Indiana. He said he drove them to Princeton, Ind.

The sherif said he learned that two women answering the description of those sought had appeared in Albion, Ill., last Sunday night. He also received reports that two women similar to those he is seeking had been seen in Henderson, Ky., last night.

Fined $300 in Sale of Adulterated Milk

Oscar Kelsey, 18 East Northwest highway, Arlington Heights, was fined $300 yesterday by Municipal Judge Francis Borelli after pleading guilty to charges of selling adulterated milk and not having a permit. Kelsey told the court he had been selling milk in an attempt to stay off relief. Judge Borelli set Feb. 18, 1939, for a hearing on a motion to vacate the fine.

DRUGGAN WORKS AS FARM HAND, COURT IS TOLD

Urbane Terry Druggan has been working as a farm hand. His mother said so yesterday in a petition to the federal court to save Terry's country estate near Lake Zurich from the foreclosure ordered months ago. Terry, the prohibition era beer baron, keeps the 240 acre estate in the name of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan.

She didn't say what kind of farm work he had been doing. But she listed him as one of the creditors, with a claim of $150 for wages. Terry's attorneys said they didn't know what he had been doing either.

BARBARA'S MATE DECLARES BOTH WANT A DIVORCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow and his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, intend to carry out their plans for divorce. The Danish nobleman made this statement through a London representative tonight. He is in Vienna en route to Hungary for a partridge hunt.

The count denied rumors he was seeking to patch up his quarrel with the Woolworth 5 and 10 cent store heiress. The rumors arose in Venice where he met his estranged wife recently and went swimming with her. Countess Barbara is vacationing there.

"At the meeting [in Venice] no mention was made of reconciliation," the count's statement said. "It is the intention of both to meet again as friends and remain friends in the future. The count has no intention of making any alterations in regard to the divorce proceedings and on the contrary he has taken all steps to facilitate the proceedings."

THREE BANDITS MENACE SCORE IN $3,500 HOLDUP

Warren avenue police were searching last night for three men, each about 40 years old. The men entered a branch office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company at 9 South Kedzie avenue yesterday and took $3,500 in a holdup. The bandits were unshaven and poorly dressed. They menaced a score of employés while taking the money from the cashier, Miss Lillian Dickey.

Two wore handkerchiefs over their faces. The third kept his chin buried in his upturned coat collar. The latter forced twenty agents to remain in their chairs in an outer room while his two companions entered the cashier's office. The trio fled down the stairs after taking the money

LITTLE ENTENTE AND HITLER WOO HUNGARY AS ALLY

Right to Rearm Is Won by Budapest.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A German diplomat who refused to be quoted tonight said that "Hungary will have to decide soon between Bled and Berlin."

This referred to efforts of the little entente — Czechoslovakia, Rumania, and Jugo-Slavia—to line up Hungary on their side while Germany was attempting to bring the nation under her sphere of influence.

In closing sessions of a conference in Bled, Jugo-Slavia, the little entente nations granted Hungary military equality, thus sweeping away military restrictions of the world war Trianon treaty.

Plan Friendship Pacts.

The little entente further announced that six agreements—non-aggression pacts and minority agreements among Hungary and the little entente nations separately—would be concluded in the near future.

The action came as Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian regent, was being fêted by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler during a state visit to Germany.

Italian observers said the little entente's decision was "in line with Italian policy." Representatives of the little entente nations hailed results of the conference as "enormous progress toward peace and security in central Europe."

Germany, now trying to extend her influence into southeastern Europe, was pictured by Jugo-Slav sources as annoyed at Italy's efforts to gain supremacy in the Danube basin. It was reported that Rumania and Italy were considering a friendship agreement similar to the five-year treaty signed by Italy and Jugo-Slavia last October.

Hungarians Tickled.

Hungarian diplomats were overjoyed that Hungary was being wooed simultaneously by Germany and the little entente. They expressed satisfaction that they had received "something for nothing."

The reëstablishment of Hungary's military equality followed a similar move by the Balkan entente on July 30. The military clauses of the treaty of Neuilly, limiting Bulgaria's rearmament, were wiped out then.

Germany, Budapest observers said, would play an important part when the proposed Hungarian-Czechoslovak pact on minorities is drawn up. It was believed Germany meant to dictate to Hungary the text of this agreement on rights of the 700,000 Hungarians in Czechoslovakia.

Germany wants to obtain the best possible treatment for Czechoslovakia's Hungarian minority to bolster her demands for autonomy for the 3,250,000 Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia.

Both the minority and military problems were created by the Trianon treaty of June 4, 1920, among Hungary and the allies. Hungary's independence was recognized, but her army was limited to 35,000. Her population also was reduced from 10,500,000 to 7,500,000 by ceding territory to Czechoslovakia, Rumania, and Jugo-Slavia.

Inspects Germany's Gibraltar.

HELGOLAND, Germany, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Hungary's ruler saw Germany's Gibraltar today in a state visit.

When he inspected the fortifications of this island stronghold with Adolf Hitler this afternoon Admiral Nicholas Horthy, the Hungarian regent, saw what even Premier Mussolini wasn't shown on his state visit to Germany last Sept. 25-30.

Helgoland is in the North sea. It is one-third of a square mile and commands estuaries of the Elbe, Weser, and Eider rivers.

CHINA DISSOLVES RED GROUPS; AIMS TO END DISCORDS

Orders Communists to Back National Party.

HANKOW, China, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Discord behind the front of China's united resistance was brought into the open today by an order of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's chief of staf dissolving organizations inspired or sponsored by Chinese communists.

Gen. Chen Cheng, as political and military boss of the Wuhan metropolitan area [Wuchang, Hankow, and Hanyang] ordered dissolution of the National Salvation corps, National Emancipation Vanguards, and other student and worker organizations which are under communist sway.

The order explained that Gen. Chen considered it imperative that all political and patriotic organizations be coördinated under one leadership so as to eliminate overlapping activities and guarantee efficiency.

Charge Violation of Pact.

Hankow's leftist press assailed the action, charging that it violated the spirit of a peace agreement which ended a decade of struggle between the Kuomintang [Nationalist party] and Chinese communists shortly before the war with Japan began. This agreement paved the way for organization of the united front against Japan, the newspapers said.

To offset leftist agitation Kuomintang authorities were trying to arouse enthusiasm for their own youth service corps.

Preparations for the defense of the Wuhan area brought a conflict between the foreign consular body of Hankow and Chinese military authorities. The latter rejected consular suggestions that certain fortifications in Hankow would have little military value and would defeat foreign efforts to establish civilian safety zones.

Battle on Shores of Lake.

Foreign officials feared the defense works in foreign sections of Hankow would draw heavy artillery and aerial attacks.

The Chinese-Japanese struggle for mastery of Poyang lake, about 135 air miles southeast of Hankow, continued today with undiminished fury. The Chinese maintained the invaders had landed on the west shores of Poyang but were clinging to a mere foothold on the water's edge under withering Chinese fire. The Japanese thrust toward Nanchang, Chinese air base about 225 miles south of Hankow, was described as "far from reality."

HITLER CLEANS UP PALACE FOR HUNGARIAN CHIEF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Germany's former white house, or Hindenburg palace, will be the residence of Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, and his wife in Berlin. The regent and his entourage will leave Hamburg for Berlin tomorrow afternoon.

The former white house was redecorated under the direction of Reichsfuehrer Hitler. The rather unpretentious rooms have been fitted luxuriously. Hitler also supervised the floral decorations. Light blue hydrangeas have been placed in the Horthy suite. They are Mme. Horthy's favorite flowers.

SPAIN COMMITTEE DELAYS DECISION ON FRANCO REPLY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The withdrawal of foreign fighters from each side in Spain as a policy to hasten the end of the civil war appeared to have been put in cold storage after further examination of Gen. Francisco Franco's reply today.

The earl of Plymouth, the chairman, consulted members of the non-intervention committee, but turned down the demand of the Russian representative that the full committee be convened. As a result the Spanish rebel leader's disapproval of the British plan for withdrawal of aliens leaves the committee in a deadlock. Franco had asked for granting of belligerent rights before any withdrawals took place.

QUIZ U.S. JEWS ON TOUR OF ITALY AS FASCISTS OPEN RACIAL CENSUS

ROME, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Italy started her special census of Jews today.

Questionnaires more than a yard long were distributed to all Jews and "suspected Jews." A warning that there would be severe penalties for those evading the census or giving false information was issued.

Since the count included all Jews in Italy as of midnight last night, foreign Jewish tourists, including Americans, were among those given questionnaires.

In Rome, police distributed blanks to hotel porters and apartment house janitors with lists of "suspected Jews" in each place. "Suspected Jews" were compelled to state whether the suspicion they were Jews was erroneous.

Information asked included names, ages, addresses of all members of the family, parentage, profession, citizenship, religion, date of arrival in Italy, and war service.

The census was ordered under the new Fascist racial program. It is preparatory to the government's plan to limit Jewish participation in "the full life of the nation" in proportion to their percentage of the total population.

FRENCH PLANE REACHES LISBON ON WAY TO U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 23.—The Lieutenant de Vaisseau Paris, giant French flying boat, settled to the Tagus river in Lisbon today, ending the first leg of an experimental flight to New York.

The French flying boat, the Lieutenant de Vaisseau Paris.

The plane completed the hop from Paris at 4:05 p. m. [11:05 a. m. Chicago time]. Henri Guillaumet piloted the plane, and Henri le Claire was co-pilot. Jacques Neri and Georges Bauchard are radio operators, and Paul Comet, navigator, aboard the plane which also has three mechanics.

The second stop will be in Horta, the Azores, where the German seaplane Nordwind arrived from New York at 8:45 a. m. [Chicago time] today. The Nordwind left Port Washington, N. Y., at 6 p. m. yesterday.

NAZIS FORECAST RELIGIOUS TRUCE; PASTORS TO YIELD

Expect Protestants Will Take Oath to Hitler.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—A truce between Nazi officials and the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] pastors was forecast in an official statement issued today. The church ministry said that by Sept. 30 all pastors of the Confessional group will have taken the oath of loyalty to Reichsfuehrer Hitler. The Confessional pastors have fought for freedom of the Protestant creed and have opposed Nazi domination of church affairs.

The Rev. Martin Niemoeller.

Confessional circles said they would make concessions to the authorities if they received assurances that the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, Confessional leader, is released from a concentration camp.

Seized After Release.

The pastor, who was a submarine commander in the world war, was seized on March 2 by the secret police after an extraordinary court had released him. The extraordinary court had fined the Rev. Mr. Niemoeller $600 after finding him guilty of vilifying Nazi leaders, and $200 for preaching illegally from his pulpit. It had sentenced him to seven months' imprisonment. The prison sentence was canceled because he had spent more than eight months in prison awaiting trial.

Despite the church ministry's announcement, it was estimated that nearly 200 pastors were planning to refuse the oath to Hitler, finding it incompatible with their duties.

Nazis Seek List of Foes.

In East Prussia the director of the confessional group was asked to provide the government with a list of pastors who, to date, had failed to take the oath. He replied that he was going on leave of absence, but that he was asking his deputy to handle the matter.

The deputy, whose name was Kaminski, shot himself, allegedly for family reasons. His friends believe, however, that he preferred death to the task of listing his colleagues, whom he feared would be deprived of their livelihood, if not arrested.

NAZIS BAN FREE ACCESS TO JEWS' DEPOSIT BOXES

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Jews or Aryans married to Jewesses no longer have free access to their safe deposit boxes in banks, it was disclosed today. By decree they are forbidden to open these strong boxes except in the presence of a policeman.

Jews owning automobiles may use only prescribed license numbers—all above 350,000. Thus, any Jewish owned cars are labeled as such for all to see.

The Frankfurter Zeitung, last Aryan newspaper in Germany permitted to print notices of births, marriages, and deaths of Jews, has been forbidden to accept such notices. They may be published only in Jewish newspapers. This regulation, it is said, is aimed at driving non-Aryan Christians back into the Jewish community.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR BASE WILL BE AT SOUTHAMPTON

Portsmouth Refuses to Pay Cost.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Southampton has won out over Portsmouth in their rivalry to become Great Britain's No. 1 commercial air base.

Southampton has been chosen as British trans-Atlantic air base after the refusal of Portsmouth to pay for building airport.

The refusal of Portsmouth's local authorities to pay for building an airport cost that city the chance to be the trans-Atlantic air terminus when service is established.

British experts favored Langstone harbor, Portsmouth, and it was selected. For more than two years local authorities and the air ministry wrangled about what share of the cost was to be borne by each of them. They were unable to agree and the site was switched to Southampton.

Cost Set at $3,600,000.

Originally Portsmouth was to pay half and the government half of the estimated cost of $3,000,000 for the base, which was to provide for land planes as well as seaplanes.

Later the estimate was raised to $3,600,000. The air ministry refused to increase its contribution, and rather than pay the entire $600,000 increase, Portsmouth dropped the scheme.

Southampton local authorities, through the harbor board, agreed to cede to the air ministry a stretch of water one mile long and 400 yards wide on the eastern side of Southampton water, near Netley castle. That area is to become the "empire air service terminal."

The big flying boats serving the empire routes already use Southampton as their terminus.

Plan Control Tower.

The air ministry plans to build a control and observation tower on the opposite side of Southampton water from the landing area. From there officials will direct all aircraft using the landing area, which parliament will be asked to recognize as a "licensed water aerodrome."

FRANCO PUSHES NEW ASSAULT ON WESTERN FRONT

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], Aug. 23.—(AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's Spanish rebel armies shifted their main assault today from the deadlocked southern and eastern fronts to the Tagus river area on the western front, 90 miles southwest of Madrid.

The rebel armies there were reported to be advancing rapidly in a drive which, after three days of steady attacks, took on the proportions of a broad offensive.

Occupy 6 Miles of Highway.

Since the movement began on Sunday, rebels said, their troops occupied six miles of the Talavera-Merida highway between La Nava de Ricomalillo and Campillo, and pushed eastward to dominate several miles along the highway to Toledo. Toledo is 50 miles to the northeast.

The advance straightened rebel lines in the important sector linking the southwestern and central fronts.

Transfer of rebel reinforcements to this sector after a stalled offensive against Almaden, 60 miles to the south, indicated that the rebels had abandoned, at least temporarily, their direct drive on the government's mercury mining area.

Loyalists Hold Hilltops.

Fighting on the Tagus river front and on the key sector of the Ebro river front north of Valencia was considered by observers as perhaps the heaviest in the civil war.

FRENCH FACTIONS GIRD FOR BATTLE OVER WORK WEEK

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Premier Edouard Daladier's cabinet continued business as usual today while political groups were taking positions on the question of the forty hour week. Premier Daladier proposed Sunday a longer working week. The atmosphere had partially cleared and the prospects of a political storm had somewhat abated. Left extremists were doing their best to fan opposition against revision of former Premier Leon Blum's social legislation. Resolutions will be adopted this week opposing modification of the forty hour law.

VAMPIRE POLITICS.

The treatment of the destitute men who have to work for the WPA to make their living is the greatest American political scandal of all time. It is a disgrace which condemns everybody directly or indirectly responsible for it, the persons who take the money and the persons who permit them to do it.

It's been regarded as disreputable for politicians to assess campaign contributions on jobholders, even when the placed men were political appointees, in politics as a business and when as party members on that basis they knew that they would have to come across to win campaigns and keep their jobs. Particularly when this has been done to civil service employes it has been thought discreditable to the officials who did it and long custom never made the practice a nice one. It was part of the shady business of American politics.

Men are on the WPA because it was planned that way. They are on the WPA because a new kind of vampire politics has taken desirable employment away from them and brought this country to the longest, the severest, and the most unnecessary depression it has ever known. These people are the victims of the planned society, which is more an anarchy than a society, and hasn't any plan to which a sane administrator would give desk room for more than ten minutes.

The country is getting along into the sixth year of this planned society with the hard times it has protracted beyond everything that has ever been experienced in the United States. If the land had never heard of these planners its resources and its energy would have brought it out of trouble long ago. It has had hard times before, but it never had a planned society to make them permanent.

When a man can get on WPA he can earn about $55 a month and keep his family going at subsistence level. The New Deal politicians, determined to hold their own profitable places and to run the country as they please, are not only coercing the WPA workers to vote for them but are soliciting money from them for campaign expenses. They have the federal treasury back of them to buy up every purchasable vote in the country. That isn't enough.

Men who are being paid out of federal funds because they have no other way of earning a living are told to come across out of their pay for the campaign expenses of the politicians who have put them where they are. Mr. Roosevelt's purged Democrats, independent enough to object to his communistic party discipline which permits no dissent or diverse opinion, find that these collections and this coercion of the people dependent on relief funds are to be used against them.

The Workers' Alliance, a communistic, direct action group organizing the WPA, is soliciting a fund of $50,000 in the New York City district of Representative John O'Connor, the chairman of the house rules committee, who is on the Roosevelt-Moscow blacklist. Harry Hopkins, head of the WPA, said he didn't like this. "I don't like to see any outfit do that," he said. "I'm against any political contributions being solicited from WPA workers. They have got little enough as it is and that ought to go for food, shelter and clothing."

Mr. Hopkins says he does not like it, but neither he nor Mr. Roosevelt is doing anything to stop it. They are taking the benefit of it. Senator Joseph Guffey in Pennsylvania has his name to a letter sent to the WPA workers in that state soliciting them for money. Possibly the corrupt practices act can do something about that.

The Roosevelt purge of the Democratic party by reformists, revolutionaries, and communists is intended to make it impossible for the conservatives to save their party from the supporters of Joseph Stalin. A few more years of planned hard times are all the disruptive elements think they need to prepare a nation for some truly desperate step. As the purge campaign progresses the present scandal of American politics will grow. The Roosevelt forces intend to win it it takes every dollar that can be shaken out of the treasury for relief and out of the pockets of the people on relief for politics.

The ethics, the humanities, the pretensions, and the sainted attitudes of the New Dealers are destroyed by what they are doing to the victims of their own plans.

THE WORLD'S A HUNK OF CHEESE.

Admiral Horthy, the regent of Hungary, as the guest of Herr Hitler has seen the sea for the second time since the world war. The first sight of it was several years ago when he paid a similar state visit to Italy. Hitler is trying to fill the eye of the Hungarian admiral with the spectacle of Germany's new military might both on land and sea.

Horthy is an admiral in a world in which Joseph Stalin is a great Jeffersonian democrat, in which the purged Russians are the freest of people, in which Mussolini is the prophet of the new order of human happiness, in which Herr Hitler as the first Aryan is the defender of the rights of man, in which the future of the human race has a concentration camp for its Garden of Eden, the secret police as Good Samaritans, storm troopers as guardian angels, the Japanese as the best friends of China, and Earl Browder as the man who received the torch of liberty from Abraham Lincoln.

In such a world an admiral needn't see the sea more than once in twenty years.

AMERICANS IN SPAIN.

The Dies committee approached a matter of considerable importance the other day when it heard testimony touching on the recruiting of Americans to fight in Spain. For some reason which is not clear the committee, instead of pursuing the matter itself, voted to request Attorney General Cummings to investigate. This was a mistake. There has been no secret about the recruiting. As Mr. Cummings all these months has shown little interest in the subject, it is not likely that he will pursue it with much vigor now.

And yet the matter is of interest and importance, as our experience in the world war shows. Long before we declared war hundreds of American boys had enlisted for service in or with the allied armies. The Lafayette escadrille was composed of Americans and its exploits were reported in much detail for the benefit of American readers. This was most useful to the allies because it led many Americans who might not otherwise have done so to feel that the allied cause was theirs.

The Lafayette escadrille was but one of many such organizations. Attached to all the allied armies were ambulance units and surgical units manned by Americans and financed with American money. Other Americans drove army trucks and of course many hundreds of Americans enlisted in the Canadian, British, French, and Italian armies. Later on Americans joined the Polish and Czechoslovak legions. All of this recruiting contributed to the creation in this country of a sense of solidarity with the allies and made it that much easier to break down resistance to participation in the war.

The enlistment of volunteers—on either side—in the Spanish war can have precisely the same result. No doubt that is one reason and perhaps the chief reason for the recruiting in this country.

Where is the money coming from? The question has seldom been asked and never answered. The estimates of the number of Americans now fighting with the loyalist armies in Spain vary from 2,000 to 8,000, with 4,000 regarded as fairly close to the fact. Only a small proportion of the men who have enlisted had enough money to pay their passage from their own pockets. It could hardly have cost less than $200 to transport an American recruit to Madrid. If 1,000 of the 4,000 paid their own way, 3,000 were sent abroad at a cost of $600,000 to somebody or some organization somewhere.

It is possible though not probable that the bill is being paid from Madrid. When Spanish recruits can be had for nothing it is not likely that a hard pressed treasury will pay $200 a head for raw recruits.

A good many thousands of dollars were raised by a number of organizations in this country, presumably for hospital services and civilian relief in loyalist Spain. It is not impossible that some of this money was diverted to recruiting soldiers and sending them abroad. It may be significant that when these organizations about a year ago formally reported their income and expenditures to Washington the accounting showed that in numerous instances only a small portion of the funds had been sent abroad for relief. It would be interesting to know what became of the rest.

The Stalin régime is also suspect. There is no doubt that communist leaders in this country have approved the recruiting campaign and that the party in this country takes its color from Moscow. All Europe is preparing for war, and the rival alliances, knowing the decisive value of our participation in the last war, are hoping to recruit us as allies in the next. The presence of several thousand Americans in the loyalist army in Spain would further Stalin's plan by encouraging their friends and relatives in America to identify themselves with the so-called democratic cause in Europe. Just as the Lafayette escadrille and similar organizations made it easier for President Wilson and the Democratic party to take sides in the last European conflict, so the volunteers in the so-called Abraham Lincoln battalion can help bring about a similar result today. Mr. Wilson found it possible to join czarist Russia in a crusade to make the world safe for democracy. The communist hope is that Mr. Roosevelt and the Democratic party under communist pressure will do it again. If we could accept the old czarism as a fit partner in a democratic crusade we may not balk at the new czarism of Stalin.

The recruiting of Americans to fight in Spain comes directly within the scope of the Dies committee's investigation into the subversive activities of alien governments in America. The enlistments for both sides should be investigated. The committee should pursue the inquiry as far as it can. If Mr. Cummings wishes to investigate he may do so on his own account.

TALL CORN.

[Indianapolis News.]

The production in Illinois of the so-called prize winning tall cornstalk measuring sixteen feet has moved Gov. Townsend to call upon the corn growers of Indiana to show the world what is meant by tall corn. The sixteen foot stalk produced in the rich prairie lands of Indiana's western neighbor may be a giant in the estimate of its grower and his neighbors, but in Indiana it would be classed as a runt, a stalk which began life under adverse circumstances, was poorly tended, struggled through an underprivileged childhood, and achieved such stature as it could contrive only with the aid of careful nursing and training by its grower, the county agent, the Purdue experts, and, perhaps, even a word of encouragement from Secretary Wallace. Gov. Townsend has fittingly suggested that this dwarf be called "Shorty."

It is expected that little difficulty will be encountered in finding stalks in Indiana corn fields that will tower over this Illinois midget. Iowa, of course, boasts of its tall corn. When its citizens fare forth to political, fraternal, veterans', and other national conventions, they arm themselves with native cornstalks and sing their tall corn song. Due note has been taken of the fact that much of this soaring corn is grown from Indiana seed. So, for that matter, is much of the corn grown in Illinois and other states. While Indiana seed corn is second to none and its supremacy is widely acclaimed, it is a fact of common knowledge that when the corn is taken from its native state it tends to pine away and is never capable of achieving the utmost in altitude. Only when springing from the richness of Indiana soil, under the careful guidance of an Indiana corn grower and canopied by the benign skies of this highly favored state, does it really achieve its loftiest ambitions.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

LINCOLN WAS A HOOSIER.

Indiana's share in the Lincoln tradition forms the subject of a work of historical research, soon to be published under Chicago auspices, which bears the arresting title, "The Missing Chapter in the Life of Abraham Lincoln." Its purpose is to illuminate a cloudy period in the career of the Emancipator—the thirteen formative years of youth, from his eighth to his twenty-first birthday, which he spent as the son of a peasant farmer in the region now called Spencer county in the southwestern section of the state. The thousands of other books of Lincolniana have either ignored or slighted this period for lack of material.

Nevertheless Lincoln was a boy of the Hoosier frontier from 1818 until 1830, in the valley of Pigeon creek. His mother died and was buried there; he found his kindly step-mother there; he got his formal education, such as it was, under Hoosier schoolmasters. Since the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts, he undoubtedly carried through life much of the Indiana mood and point of view.

This work, written by Mrs. Bess V. Ehrhart of Rockport, the Spencer county seat, has as its background years of research directed by John E. Inglehart, founder of the Southwestern Indiana Historical society, and William Fortune of Indianapolis, a native of the Lincoln country. They believed that "the missing chapter" could only be written by assembling biographies of Lincoln's boyhood neighbors and reminiscences of their descendants. About 300 such documents were written by people of the region, and many new facts were accumulated. Mrs. Ehrhart selected 155 of these papers for use in her work.

She also gave careful attention to the findings of two early Lincoln investigators—Miss Anna O'Flynn of Vincennes, who provided Ida M. Tarbell with the Indiana material for her first Lincoln book, and the Rev. J. Edward Murr of Washington, Ind. The latter knew the Lincoln family intimately, for he had a pastorate at Gentryville, two miles from the Lincoln cabin and a mile from the Jonesboro store which the young rail-splitter frequented.

It is regrettable that this "interview the neighbors" idea did not occur to some Elizabethan worthy within 75 years after the death of a certain William Shakespeare, whose mysterious youth will worry scholars until the millennium.

Chicago's Chaldeans.

Amateur astronomy was a hobby among certain affluent and learned Chicagoans of the past generation. Witness the observatory on the roof of the five story building at the northeast corner of Michigan avenue and Superior street. And another, near by, on Bellevue place. Perhaps the old sky-gazers are still sitting there, with their white beards flowing down to their girdles, seeking to solve the riddle of the universe while their grandchildren are lolling in penthouses and talking about movie stars.

Truth About Corrigan.

Corrigan is the name and you may think he is Irish, but there flows in his veins the royal blood of the family of Fillilloo birds. These birds fly backward [1] to keep the dust out of their eyes and [2] because they don't care where they're going, but want to know where they've been.

Let's Call Them Oubliettes.

"Rumpus room" is the latest name for the basement bars, paneled in knotty pine, which are so much in vogue among suburban home builders. They are better known as "playrooms." We hear that a much-entertained Chicagoan is forming an Anti-Playroom society for the suppression of this trend in domestic architecture. "Many of my friends have charming houses," he complains, "but when I visit them I never succeed in getting out of the cellar."

A VOICE FROM SOUTH DAKOTA.

Yours is the clicking pavement,
I'm to the prairie tied;
You have the human beehive,
I have the ranges wide.

Yours is the sickly glimmer
Of the electric light,
Mine is the star eternal
Smiling upon the night.

You have the endless jostle
Of people you do not know,
I have the coyote calling
From a butte in the twilight glow.

Keep what you have and love it;
I, in turn, will retain
Sky rim, canyon, and coulee,
Boundless prairie and plain.

MEDICAL AID DURING THE CHANGE OF LIFE.

WITH many women the change of life [the menopause] is a critical period. With some the symptoms may persist for two or three years or longer, while with others there may be scarcely any manifestation worth recording. At any rate, there comes a time in the life of every woman—usually between the ages of 45 and 50—when the menstrual flow will cease gradually. Occasionally it will disappear for a month or two, returning in full or partial force. Even before the first signs of irregularity the patient may experience spells of depression, irritability, loss of memory, and sleeplessness.

As a rule, the primary warnings are ushered in with the so-called hot flashes. These are waves of heat which spread rapidly over the body and which are often accompanied by perspiration. They may be stimulated by emotional upsets, by rushing about, or through occupying a room that is too warm. Secondary indications include headache, dizziness, ringing in the ears, faintness, and cold hands and feet. Now and then a true psychosis will ensue, and along with the reactions of the nervous system will come a deposit of fat at the waistline or on the upper thighs. Many will state that they feel as if a rubber tire had been fastened about the abdomen.

Certain gland modifications should be described in order that we may understand clearly what is going on. The breasts undergo a minimal amount of atrophy. They may not actually shrink in size because gland tissue frequently is replaced with fat. Again, the uterus and the ovaries become smaller and hence less active. Back of the whole picture lies the failure of certain endocrine depots to form their normal secretions—chiefly the thyroid and the pituitary which in turn influence the behavior of the pelvic organs.

The situation can be met successfully, in most instances, with the utilization of what are called estrogenic hormones. Progynon-B is the most powerful of this group, although estrone [theelin] may serve the same purpose. It is, however, but one-fifth as strong. Many middle aged women profit immeasurably through the employment of theelin or emmenin. But when given by mouth most of these preparations are only half as effective as when administered hypodermically.

The question of how much should be supplied must be answered by careful trial. Fortunately, there seems to be no danger incident to the use of these hormones. More will be needed if the condition has been allowed to continue until the hot flashes number, for example, thirty per day. As unwelcome sensations disappear, the material may be lessened gradually as the system is engaged constantly in adjusting itself. After a time it may be omitted entirely with no return of discomfort.

The case is reported of a 46 year old woman who visited her physician, complaining of excessive fatigue and sudden hot sweats. A cold skin which was excessively dry probably bothered her more than anything else. In addition, lumbago, or joint pains, particularly of the knees and ankles, gave her no small concern. Thyroid extract was combined with theelol and three months later she said that she felt normal in every respect. A rapid gain in weight which had occurred subsequent to the cessation of menstruation vanished, although the dose of thyroid gland was not sufficient to increase the heart rate. Her metabolic test showed a minus 30, which rose to minus 10 within a month.

For many the change of life presents nervous and circulatory disturbances which can be managed satisfactorily as outlined above. The emotional features, however, may require additional aid, and there is probably no stage in a woman's life when more consideration, more forbearance—on the part of both family and friends—are needed. With the passing of the storm—mild or severe, as the case may be—many will enter upon the happiest period of their lives with a sense of buoyant health.

CAUSES OF HICCUP.

A. R. writes: I am afflicted with hiccup every day, sometimes two or three times daily. I have tried eating slowly and chewing well, but the trouble continues.

REPLY.

We had an article on persistent hiccup on March 7, 1938. The phenomenon is occasioned by a sharp spasm of the diaphragm which results in a quick inspiration. The glottis closes promptly, hence the clicking "hic." Any stimulus which affects the nerves leading to the diaphragm may bring on the complaint. Inflammation in the organs above or below the diaphragm may be responsible. Sometimes, however, the whole matter is due to hysteria. Temporary relief may be obtained by breathing in and out of a paper bag. A dozen or so respirations may be all that is required. Compression or cold compresses applied to the abdomen and stomach may cause abatement. Sometimes holding the breath for 20 to 30 seconds will suffice. Patients should school themselves—at all times—to eat slowly and to avoid swallowing air. Try a meal that contains but one-half the normal amount of food.

FOR MOSQUITO BITES.

P. E. L. writes:

1. Why is it that some persons suffer no itching or swelling after being bitten by mosquitoes, while others are in misery?
2. Is there a preventive against mosquito bites?
3. What can be done for relief after a bite?

REPLY.

1. Some skins are quite sensitive to insect venom. In other words, the patient possesses little or no immunity against the poison. Many persons observe that though they react violently to mosquito bites early in the season they will become practically immune late in August.
2. A mixture of citronella and cedar oils is useful.
3. Should a bite occur, touch the area frequently with spirits of camphor or ammonia water.

LIKE MAN'S BEARD.

E. I. writes:

1. Will the constant daily removal of hair from the legs with pumice or a hair removing mitten do any damage after a length of time?
2. Is it natural for the hair on the legs to grow so rapidly as to need this every day in order to be completely smooth?

REPLY.

1. Not unless too vigorous rubbing irritates the skin.
2. Yes. The situation is comparable to the beard in males.

GENEROUS JAMES.

Hinsdale, Ill., Aug. 20.—Do you believe that many business men today receiving salaries equivalent to James Roosevelt's, indicate as little responsibility to the underprivileged as Jimmy's contributions show? Here are the figures:

	Income.	Contributions.
1932	$19,576.95	$ 17
1933	21,714.31	27
1934	49,167.37	328
1935	33,593.37	165
1936	44,668.60	0
1937	23,834.38	393

These figures, taken from young Roosevelt's published income tax records, clearly indicate how generous people can be when it comes to spending their own money. JACOB JONES.

HOW ABOUT A "PEN PAL"?

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 1.—I think the education of people could be augmented and made very interesting through correspondence with people of all ages in other countries.

Through correspondence I should, of course, become a "pen pal" and we should write each other about points of interest in our respective countries. This will also promote a better understanding between people.

It is interesting, thrilling, and educational to have a "pen pal" in your country. You helping me in this regard would be of advantage to every one.

PROPOSES A RESEARCH SQUAD.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—I hope the feat of Officer Michael Shannon in rounding up a gang of youthful burglars secures a well merited promotion for the officer in question.

The recent wave of 'teen age crime has certainly revealed some excellent clinical material. I would suggest the formation of a "research squad" to cooperate closely with the police and clean up all social data in crimes of this type. Probation and parole are becoming outmoded responses. Society must seek an earlier rendezvous with youth on the rampage. CITIZEN.

RODEO NOT SO BAD.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—No one is more against cruelty to animals than I am, but Margaret Lofland in her letter in your columns is greatly mistaken in her sympathy for the "miserable lives of the animals used in the rodeo."

Rodeo stock gets the best of care. It has to, to be in shape for a creditable performance. The buckers are picked from the entire country. My hat is off to the red blooded men with "guts" enough to take part in these contests that so vividly bring back the years I spent in the saddle. In those years I never saw a calf or steer injured by roping. V. A. E. BROWN.

HE WAS THRILLED.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—May I be one of thousands to congratulate the great Chicagoland Music Festival that thrilled a packed Soldiers' field yestereve and which, under your sponsorship, was received with wild acclaim?

Never before have I seen such a spectacle. TED WATSON.

IN THE TRAFIC JAM.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Were you in the trafic jam last night? All praise to the Music Festival. It was everything we hoped for and more.

But why must we be forced to arrive at such a pleasant performance in such a vile frame of mind?

Coming from the south side we were not allowed to enter the much advertised parking space at the south end, though we arrived early. We were pushed literally by inches in the heavy trafic north beyond Soldiers' field and Field museum, then pushed south again, waiting endlessly in the crush of heating cars.

When we finally reached the favored entrance to the parking space, the space was filled. We eventually parked at 22d and Indiana. And they say that trafic in Chicago is managed! Of all the asinine, brainless, stupid demonstrations, this was the worst.

We arrived at the festival in time to hear Alec Templeton and the remainder of a splendid program, which made the evening worth while. A FESTIVAL FAN.

WEBSTER DEFINED IT.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—When there is an unwaranted auto honk it's just what Webster calls it: A cry of a wild goose. RAY HANSEN.

ENGLAND VS. BRITAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Another TRIBUNE quirk: "King of England to shoot grouse" is the heading. Both England and Britain contain 7 letters, so take up the same space. One is correct and accords with the treaty of formation of Great Britain; the other is a crazy anachronism, a dictum of a brave but thorough scoundrel in 1066 who, after giving the name to a small part of Britain, killed off all the Angles and Saxons, destroyed most of their records, thus making the titles Angleterre and Anglais absurd, yet failed to force millions of Britons to speak French.

I wonder how long the asses will continue to bray "English" just to please the still existing French-Norman nobility? FRED G. WHAMOND.

PROPAGANDA IN HOLLYWOOD.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—I hasten to congratulate Ed Sullivan and THE TRIBUNE on the former's article in your paper of recent date. It is high time to speak out against such propaganda for the Reds as the picture "Blockade" and the many entertainments being given to raise funds for the over-the-sea Reds. The sad feature is that little if any of the money raised gets beyond the hands of the boys who promote these things. The U. S. A. is a pretty good old place and funds of this kind could be used in many worthy causes at home. T. W. FARRELL.

INSURANCE POLICY.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I have a twenty year endowment policy, taken out when I was 14 years of age. I am now 30 years old. Present policy has a cash surrender value of about $400.

2. This policy is being held by my mother [named beneficiary] and my sister [holding said policy] both of whom have paid the annual premiums for the last few years. Due to a family misunderstanding could you advise whether [3] I am legally entitled to it?

4. Could new policy be issued to me from company upon presentation of annual receipts with above stated facts?

5. Is it necessary for me to hire an attorney? S. M.

1 and 2. These two statements seem inconsistent with one another.

3. If you have permitted your mother to hold it for security for her advances we see no reason why you should not be bound by this arrangement.

4. The chances of taking out new insurance would depend upon your passing physical examination. We do not see what this has to do with the old insurance.

5. For what purpose? Your object is not clear to us. Surely you do not expect your mother to give up her security without being reimbursed.

TAVERN LICENSE.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you please list the restrictions, if any, on opening a tavern business, in regard to near locations of schools, churches, etc. J. B. R.

Chapter 43, section 127 of the Illinois revised statutes says:

"No license shall be issued for the sale at retail of any alcoholic liquor within 100 feet of any church, school, hospital, home for aged or indigent persons, or for veterans, their wives or children, or any military or naval station; provided that this prohibition shall not apply to hotels offering restaurant service, regularly organized clubs, or to restaurants, food shops or other places where sale of alcoholic liquors is not the principal business carried on, if such place of business so exempted shall have been established for such purposes prior to the taking effect of this act. No alcoholic liquor, other than beer, shall be sold for consumption on the premises within 1,500 feet from any building used for regular classroom or laboratory instruction on the main campus of any state university owned or maintained, in whole or in part, by the state of Illinois, and which is endowed by the proceeds of the sale of public lands set apart for that purpose by the act of congress of the United States of July 2, 1862, entitled 'An act donating public land to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and mechanic arts.'" TRACTION PLAN ASKS 658 MILES FOR BUS LINES

Propose Abandoning Third of Street Car Tracks.

More than 350 miles of street car track operated by the Chicago Surface Lines will be abandoned and replaced with modern motor coach operations under the terms of the traction unification ordinance which city and company officials are drafting.

This was announced yesterday by Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the city council committee working on the new ordinance. Quinn said the proposed bus substitution program has been tentatively approved by the surface lines engineers.

The plan calls for abandonment of about one-third of the present street car tracks. The surface lines now operate 1,038 miles of single way track and 135 one-way miles of bus lines. [Most routes are operated as two way lines so the total street car and bus route mileage, measured by the amount of streets served, is about half of the single way total.]

Ask 167 Miles in Extensions.

The council committee proposes that 356 miles of the car lines be changed over to buses, leaving 682 miles of car tracks. The committee on Monday announced that the new ordinance will require that 167 miles of extensions be added to the present surface lines systems. The new routes would be bus lines.

The new surface lines system would then total 1,340 single way miles, consisting of 682 miles of street car lines and 658 of bus lines.

Quinn said that a special subcommittee of aldermen and company representatives will draft the sections of the new ordinance providing for the bus conversion program. The subcommittee will be headed by Ald. William A. Rowan [10th].

The subcommittee will prepare, also, sections of the ordinance dealing with extensions of the rapid transit system, modernization of equipment for the elevated and surface lines and the construction and use of subways.

Indorse Subway Today.

The proposed State street subway will be indorsed today by a delegation of downtown business men and property owners who are to appear before the federal engineering board studying the subway plans. The board is making a survey for the public works administration to determine whether a federal grant should be alloted for the project.

The delegation will suggest changes in the subway plans relating to the southern portal near 12th street and the location of station entrances and exits, but otherwise will support the proposal.

The group, it was announced by the PWA board, includes John T. Pirie Sr. of Carson Pirie Scott & Co.; George Richardson, trustee of the Marshall Field estate; William F. Krahl, president of the Stevens Hotel corporation; Robert H. McCormick, a director of the Greater Central District association; Philip F. W. Peck, president of the same organization; Harold G. Sperling, president of the Wabash Avenue association, and Wallace J. Stebbins, vice president of the Van Buren Street Property Owners' association.

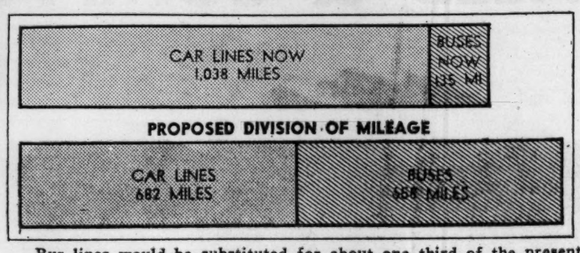
Henlein to Head Delegation to Congress in Germany

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German [Nazi] party in Czechoslovakia, will head a delegation to the international meeting of delegates of Germans living abroad. The meeting will be held Aug. 28 in Stuttgart. Henlein is expected to address all the delegates. He is chairman of the Association of German Minorities Living Abroad.

Plan to Substitute Bus for Car Lines

(Story in adjoining column.)



Bus lines would be substituted for about one third of the present street car trackage of the Chicago Surface lines under terms of a unification ordinance being drafted by city and company officials. About 88 per cent of the present surface lines system consists of street car lines and 12 per cent bus lines. Bus substitution and extensions under the ordinance would make the system half car lines and half bus routes.

COURT ORDERS MIND TEST FOR LARRY O'BRIEN

Halts Trial of Fallen Political Power.

There was a time, not so long ago, when Lawrence C. [Larry] O'Brien was a power in Democratic circles on the near north side. From Goose Island to the lake and from the river north to Schiller street O'Brien spoke with authority throughout the 42d ward.

For eight terms he represented the 29th senatorial district in the general assembly. Then O'Brien went to the federal prison at Leavenworth for fifteen months for not paying enough income taxes.

O'Brien eventually emerged. But he found conditions had changed. And the power he once wielded had passed to other hands.

The Crowning Insult.

Came yesterday and the crowning insult to a tumultuous life. O'Brien was ordered to undergo a mental examination by the Municipal court psychiatrist. It was a sad blow to the florid, paunchy saloonkeeper.

His troubles came about before Judge N. J. Bonelli in the Chicago Avenue court. O'Brien was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery. The complainant was Dennis Murphy, 1041 Belden place.

Murphy has taken over the Glad House tavern at Clark and Ohio streets. O'Brien operated it until his license was revoked six weeks ago because his women entertainers didn't wear enough clothes.

Murphy accused O'Brien of entering the tavern on Aug. 14 with three hoodlums, who beat Murphy and his wife. O'Brien maintained he still had a lease and that the tavern was his.

Yesterday O'Brien frequently interrupted witnesses. He began coaching his own. Then he tossed remarks at Daniel Murphy, attorney for Dennis Murphy.

"From the actions of Mr. O'Brien here in court," Judge Bonelli finally commented, "it become my duty to have him examined by the court psychiatrist, Dr. David B. Rotman. Either O'Brien is in contempt of court or he isn't normal. And I'm not going to send a man to jail who is not perfectly normal."

Dr. Rotman said he would have his report ready by Friday. The case was continued until Sept. 8.

"I've been tested at Leavenworth and found 100 per cent," boasted O'Brien. Then he added, turning to the judge, "And I didn't think I'd get that from you, your honor. I worked better for you in the ward than any other man."

300 from Wrecked Ship Continue Journey to Rio

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

CAMBRIDGE, England, Aug. 23.—The discovery of the fossil of a hitherto unknown anthropoid ape which had human teeth was reported today to the British Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Robert Broom found the fossil in South Africa. The find jolts current theories and leaves scientists knowing less than ever about the dividing line between ape and man.

Anthropologists hitherto relied upon teeth in drawing the line. The Piltdown man, which lived 500,000 years ago in England, had an ape's lower jaw and teeth. Dr. Broom's fossil differs from the two living African anthropoids, the chimpanzee and gorrilla—being more a creature of the ground than the trees. Scientists here were inclined to believe that the fossil anthropoid stood nearer than do the chimpanzee and gorrilla to the stock from which man sprang.

Henry Field, curator of physical anthropology at the Field museum in Chicago, reported on studies he has made which lead him to the conclusion that Iran [Persia] was the cradle of the human race. He declared that Iran was "perhaps the original source of diffusion of the prominent hook nosed type which is scattered among many racial stocks." Thus, the hooked nose was deemed as "Aryan" as it is Jewish.

NAME LIVE STOCK CHAMPIONSHIPS AT ELGIN'S FAIR

Several thousand persons attended the opening of the Elgin agricultural fair yesterday. The program will end tomorrow. Arthur C. Johnson, Kane county farm adviser, announced grand championship awards in cattle divisions of the Kane county 4-H club competition.

Arthur Howard Jr., 15 years old, of Dundee, won the grand and reserve championships with two Holstein dairy cows. The grand championship in beef went to Harold Getty, Hampshire, for an Angus steer. Valerie Davis of Big Rock won the reserve championship with an Angus.

LEWIS PARLEYS WITH FACTIONS OF AUTO UNION

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chairman, talked over the strife in the United Automobile Workers with representatives of the disputing factions today and then summoned Homer Martin, U. A. W. president, here for a conference. The anti-Martin faction in the union has asked Lewis to intervene in an effort to end the strife.

The U. A. W. is affiliated with the C. I. O. but is an autonomous union. Persons close to Lewis said he was powerless to "do more than advise."

JITTERBUGS GO WILD; 120,000 JAM STADIUM

Orchestras Out of Luck.

Finally the music ceased entirely. The jitterbugs tromped on the electric lines leading from microphones to the sound control room, severing connections. The orchestras didn't have a chance.

As the minutes passed with no sound from the loud speakers the fervor of the crowd turned to bewilderment. There were protests that the arrangements had been poorly made and no program set in advance.

Those in the field soon turned to other diversions. There was considerable drinking. After a time the jitterbugs realized the entertainment was out of control and they gave no more attention to music.

A few of the most enthusiastic "alligators" began to shag or swung into the Big Apple without benefit of rhythm. Circles formed and spectators beat time with their hands. Some sang their own accompaniments, others produced trumpets and made their own swing music.

Snake Dancers Add Confusion.

Still others, the youngest of the lot, clasped hands and formed gigantice snake dances. They wove through the crowd running, stumbling, pushing. Boys and girls fell, but rose smiling.

The first police reënforcements cleared the three large stands. A new quota of bands moved in and resumed playing. But nobody cared for the music by that time. Those in the stands were watching the antics of the swingers.

A group of colored boys found a fifty foot rope. Half a dozen of them grabbed each end and began running through the crowd using the line like a scythe. Dozens were bowled over. But there was no ill humor. It was accepted as part of the general hilarity.

Captain Sees Something New.

Capt. Michael Hayes, who was in charge of the police, watched the crowd and then shook his head.

"I've never seen anything like this in Chicago. I've never seen it anywhere. There are a lot of nice boys and girls here, but this thing also has brought out an undesirable element.

"Some of the things that are happening here tonight could cause real trouble in any other kind of a crowd. Thank heavens they seem so cheerful about everything."

Finally Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel for the city, took charge of the program and announced that the contests among the amateur swingers would be called off. All the professional bands, however, were given an opportunity to show their stuff.

"It's a shame," said Hodes afterward. "The whole thing got away from us. We spent considerable money in planning this and now we'll probably be billed for the damage done to the stadium infield by this crowd. I'm told the whole thing probably will have to be resodded. That will cost $4,000. I don't know where the money will come from."

UNIONS, NORTH SHORE LINE SEEK STRIKE SOLUTION

After conferring for nearly nine hours, conciliators and negotiators adjourned early today without finding a formula to end the strike that has kept the North Shore railroad shut down for eight days. The conference will be continued today.

In attendance were Col. A. A. Sprague and B. J. Fallon, receiver and operating head of the road; John A. Moffitt and Harry E. Scheck, federal labor conciliators; Martin P. Durkin of the Illinois labor department; O. David Zimring, attorney for the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employés, and representatives of two other unions.

The strike was called by five unions, which have about 1,300 North Shore line members, when the receiver obtained a court order reducing wages 15 per cent. The cut was necessary, he said, to keep the road in operation. The men insisted there should have been arbitration of the pay scale.

Until yesterday there had been no meeting of the unions and the management. It was rumored that some definite proposal for a settlement would come out of the conference.

Robinson Brig Now Anchored at Gloucester

BY JUDITH CASS.

OUR correspondent from the north shore of Massachusetts sends word that one of the strangest looking craft seen for years in those waters now is moored in Gloucester harbor. It is the Florence C. Robinson, named by her owner, William A. Robinson, for his wife, the former Florence Crane. The craft, which was named the Ana Poor Anyamn when it was built at Jaffna, Ceylon, nine years ago, arrived at Ipswich about ten days ago, but was taken to Gloucester after a few days.

The ship is a teakwood brig, 90 feet over all. Mr. Robinson saw it at Jaffna in 1931 when he was on a world cruise in his 32 foot ketch, the Svaap. He purchased it last year when he and Mrs. Robinson were cruising in the Indian ocean and Red sea. The brig, which was built for the Indian ocean trade, has a high poop deck, two spars with raffe sails, and looks like the H. M. S. Bounty, on which the Pitcairn Island settlers mutinied.

It was brought to this country by Capt. Donand A. McCrush, a Gloucester skipper, and is manned by a crew of five Hindus. The Robinsons plan to use it as a pleasure boat and there is a possibility that they will cruise to the South Seas in it this winter, although their plans are not definite.

Robinson Building Clipper for Sale.

Mr. Robinson is building in his shipyards at Ipswich a Baltimore clipper, but it will be sold. Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., who is spending the summer at Castle Hill, her beautiful estate on the ocean in Ipswich, is planning to stay there until Oct. 1. Then she will go abroad for six weeks. She will visit London and Paris and upon her return to this country will come to Chicago for the winter.

The Cornelius Cranes, who have been in Scandinavia, are returning the middle of September and plan to be with Mrs. Crane at Castle Hill until she sails for Europe.

The same correspondent who sent us news of the Robinsons and Cranes writes that Miss Nancy Leiter's collection of yachting trophies is growing by leaps and bounds. Miss Leiter and her mother, Mrs. Joseph Leiter, are at Edgewater House; their summer home at Beverly Farms, Mass. Sailing her new yacht, the Venture, Miss Leiter won several races in the international 8 meter class at Marblehead last week. Already this summer she has scored wins or second places in a dozen races.

Miss Leiter Hostess at Yacht Club Dinner.

Miss Leiter entertained thirty at dinner at the Eastern Yacht club at Marblehead preceding a ball for the New York Yacht club members on their annual cruise.

John Clay Jr. is another Chicagoan who is adding to his laurels as a yachtsman. Skippering his yacht, the Sea Gull, in the triangle class, he won in the Eastern Point Yacht club races at Gloucester with a good margin over the second craft. The Clays' summer home, Finisterre, is on Eastern Point at Gloucester. Leonard Ellis is still another young Chicagoan who is making a good showing in sailing this summer. He skippers the Ted V. in the triangle class. He is a son of the Charles Groverman Ellises, who spend the summers at Killybracken on Eastern Point, Gloucester.

Sheridan Shore Club Holding Race Week.

Sail boat races nearer home that are interesting Chicago sailors are taking place this week. The fifth annual race week of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club began last Sunday and will end on Saturday with the winner's dinner at the club. During this week there are many festivities planned for the skippers of the yachts and their crews. Yesterday there was a bridge tea in the clubhouse and tonight Dr. and Mrs. Charles Edwin Galloway will give a barbecue at their home in Winnetka. On Friday there will be a dance at the club.

Mrs. W. Burton Ellis has arranged to serve luncheon to the skippers and crew every day of the races. Mrs. William Van Gathany is assisting her. Mrs. Thomas A. Waage is in charge of the lunches and Mrs. Paul Morrison is taking care of the bridge tea. Mr. Ellis is chairman of the men's committee in charge of the dance and the banquet.

To make the week doubly exciting the Illinois Valley Yacht club from Peoria is competing in the Great Lakes championship race every morning and many additional yachts are anchored in the harbor.

Northbrook Kennel Club Show Oct. 2.

Canine blue bloods in Chicagoland are being put in the pink of condition for the Northbrook Kennel club show. It will be held on Sunday, Oct.

Club Dinner-Dance.

The final dinner-dance of the summer will be held Saturday evening at the Westmoreland Country club.

Guy Stillman, Miss Holbrook to Wed Today

A simple little country wedding is the way the families describe the ceremony that today at high noon will make 18 year old Nancy Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Holbrook, the bride of Guy Stillman, 19 year old son of Mrs. Fowler McCormick and James A. Stillman.

Mr. Stillman and Dr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman arrive this morning from their homes in New York for the wedding.

It is a simple little country church in which the wedding is taking place, St. James' Episcopal church in Dundee, a town of 5,000 southwest of Barrington, where the Holbrooks and McCormicks have farms. Probably the little church never has been decorated more elaborately, however, than it will be for today's wedding, at which there will be less than a dozen guests.

On each side of the altar rail will be a tree of white stephanotis and on the altar itself there will be smaller trees of the same waxlike flowers. Covering the rail will be hedges of smilax and cibotium with stephanotis interwined in them. Each of the five windows in the church will be ornamented with a box of white petunias.

The service will be read by the rector, the Rev. Albert Taylor. The bride, in a short white velvet gown with collar and cuffs of rose point lace, and a small white velvet hat, will be given in marriage by her father. The gown has a fitted bodice, a full gored skirt and short puffed sleeves. Miss Barbara Holbrook, who is to be married to David Mojonnier of Oak Park on Sept. 10, will be her sister's only attendant. The other sister, Marilyn, 12, will be among the guests.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook will entertain the wedding guests at breakfast at their home, which adjoins the Fowler McCormick home. Pyramids of valley lilies and a conventian wedding cake will decorate the dining table, and in the living room there will be two metal garden figures, ladies, holding vases of valley lilies. Their full skirts are of ivy and lilies of the valley. Garlands of smilax and white ribbons complete the decorations of the living and dining rooms and hall.

The bride will carry a shower bouquet of valley lilies and stephanotis and her sister will carry a bouquet of pinkish lavendar orchids. Miss Barbara's frock is a raven color Rodier wool, trimmed in velvet of raven tones. Her felt hat is of the same rich colors as the velvet trimmings.

Today's bride was graduated last June from Barrington High school. Wher her engagement to young Mr. Stillman, who is a student at the Rensselaer Polytechnic institute in Troy, N. Y., was announced last March, the wedding was planned for three years hence, when he will have finished his college course.

Being married now will not interfere with getting his degree, however, for Mr. and Mrs. Stillman will live in Troy for the next three years. They are leaving this afternoon for a brief honeymoon at Niagara-on-the-Lake in Canada, but they will return to Barrington for the Mojonnier-Holbrook wedding.

Dashing Fur Hat for Early Fall

Iowa Stamps to Be Sold at Philatelic Meeting

New Iowa commemorative stamps and other current stamps, as well as obsolete stamps, will be displayed and put on sale by the postoffice department in the Hotel La Salle tomorrow. The office will be open during the 44th annual convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans. An exhibition of rare and interesting stamps also will be held at the convention. Eighteen gold and silver cups will be awarded to winning exhibitors.

Lawndale Ladies' Aid.

The Lawndale Ladies Aid society will give a card party this afternoon at the Capitol building, State and Randolph streets. New members and others who will take part in the society's Tag day Sept. 12 will be guests.

Autumn Color Decorates New Clothes for Fall

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The new and spicy fall colors are all over the town. You can see them in the glamorous new showings of fall hats, the glittering displays of rather barbaric costume jewelry and husky dusky new shades of tweeds and woolen fabrics. These are positive proof that fall is coming to the countryside as well as town.

Stunning tweed outfits [skirts, jackets, suits, and dresses] are obligingly designed for change and double change. These are the prize showings. Thin and thick weights, or the inbetween comforts, come in the most effective fall colors ever unpacked.

Topcoats of plum color are ready to wear with a chartreuse angora sweater and a forest green skirt, with a swanky plaid wool fitted jacket adding the fourth color contrast for the costume. The glorious tones of autumn gold run from the palest of green gage yellow to the deep tawny shades of old gold. Violet blues, deep imperial purples, regal reds, and some of the most beautiful greens ever achieved give the off-shades a good race for popularity.

The delicate, misty off-shades in the featherweight woolens are used for slim sheath dresses to be worn with a vivid checked or plaid wool jacket.

Tweeds for the American woman have a flair for fit that sometimes is lacking in the imported numbers. American streamlines are perfect for the smartly tailored suits and three piece costumes in monotone mixtures or the individualized mix ups of plain skirt and brightly plaid jacket. Shirts of exquisitely heavy silk are tailored with the same sleekness as the suit. These and sweaters in all kinds of contrast colors are the best suit accessories for these new tweeds.

Fashion photograph. . . . Twin fox brushes are twisted to form the furred disc of this new pre-winter hat. A tiny shadow of a brim, a band at the back to hold the hat in position and a couple of yards of fine net veiling down the back combine to make this sophisticated creation designed to wear with a slim black suit, a fox muff and deep cuffed gauntlets.

Tenderfoot's Inheritance

By Marie De Nervaud

SYNOPSIS.

Anne Claxton arrives from New York at the Wyoming ranch she has inherited, after refusing the last minute proposal of her city beau, Gerald. Steve Hayward, neighbor ranch owner, tells her that Jake Collins, who owns the adjoining ranch, expects to buy her heavily mortgaged ranch, but her uncle never would sell to him. Anne determines to stay and fight. She is immediately attracted to Steve, but Gwen Collins, Jake's daughter, shows a proprietary interest in him. She wins over old Tim Salter, her uncle's foreman, and Whitey, a handsome ranch hand. She finds the house in disorder and a gun missing from the rack. Tim thinks Collins had been there and threatened her uncle with the gun and that her uncle died from a heart attack. Collins calls with Lawyer Bill Jennings and turns ugly when she refuses to sell. When Steve calls and advises her to sell she is cool to him. Steve is offended and jealous of Whitey. To help surmount financial difficulties Anne writes to invite her former boss, Mr. Trainor, and his family to the ranch as paying guests. Collins serves notice that he is going to fence in the water holes, which he claims are on his property. Anne receives a letter of acceptance from the Trainors. Riding alone Anne is thrown from her horse. Walking back to the ranch, she is rescued by Steve from a maddened steer.

INSTALMENT XV.

MORE THAN LOYALTY?

The silence that fell between Anne and Steve now had nothing of that earlier strain to it. Anne felt with a happy sense of elation that her relationship with Steve had entered a new phase. She wasn't going to let any emotional lapse spoil it this time. She wanted Steve for a friend, that was all.

Even while she gave herself inward vehement assurance on this point, Anne was conscious that the color was coming into her cheeks, and that her heart was beating with a queer, uneven rhythm.

A sudden "whoopee" shattered the magic moment. The next instant, Whitey appeared over a coulee at some distance from them. A second triumphant shout announced that he had seen them. He raced toward them, pulling up at their side in a cloud of red dust.

"Sufferin' coyotes, yuh gave us a scare!" He looked at Anne, severity surging up through his relief in much the same reaction Steve had had. "I told you not to go out alone!" He nodded a curt "Hello" to Steve.

"Don't scold, Whitey! I know it was a stupid thing to do." Anne couldn't help laughing at the way Whitey glared from her to Steve. "But I've learned my lesson. I won't do it again." She went off into an account of her adventure with the steer, and Steve's timely rescue.

"All right! I'll stay!" He shouted back.

"You sure were in luck that he turned up," Whitey admitted. "Here, take my cayuse, and I'll walk."

"Won't you come back for supper?" Anne smiled at Steve to make up for Whitey's brusqueness.

Before Anne had a chance to protest, he was in the saddle. He wheeled and streaked back over the mesa.

Anne looked after Steve's retreating figure with a frustrated sense of having lost something precious that she had been on the point of regaining. If only Whitey hadn't shown up just then!

With a "I'm sorry I worried you, Whitey," Anne touched up her horse, and headed for the ranch.

"Strikes me I'm goin' to deem high of this here friend of yours," Tim observed at supper, handing Mr. Trainor's letter, which Anne had given him to read, back again. "We'll have to save enough of that cash to provide food for 'em, and the rest can go into the ranch P. D. Q."

"That's what I thought, Tim," Anne agreed. "Whatever happens, I mustn't run short of supplies. Mr. Trainor has trusted me, and I'm not going to let him down. What did you find on the north range?"

"Nothin' to get steamed up about." Anne was gazing into the glowing coals of the tiny open hearth of the stove, and missed the warning look that passed from Tim to Whitey.

"Perhaps Jake Collins' bark is worse than his bite; I hope so," she mused. A sudden desire to be alone brought her to her feet.

"I'm going to turn in early," she glanced over at Whitey, who had hardly said a word throughout supper. With a "good-night" that included them both, Anne slipped out into the darkness.

Half way to the house, she remembered that she had forgotten to arrange with Tim about going to town the next morning.

"I'll say a clam's a regular chatterbox compared to yuh!"

Anne smiled at Tim's sarcastic tone, but Whitey's answer brought her to an abrupt halt, and wiped the smile from her lips. "I'm pulling out, you've got money enough now to hire some one to take my place. I'm leaving just as soon as you can fill it."

From the silence that greeted that announcement, it was clear that Tim was as astonished as Anne was.

His recovery from the surprise expressed itself first in a series of explosive oaths that made Anne chuckle in spite of her dismay. Finally becoming articulate, Tim angrily refused to take Whitey seriously.

"What's got into yuh?" he demanded. "I never thought yuh'd turn yellow! Afraid of gun play on the north range? This is no time to pull out!"

"You know I'm not afraid of gun play!" Whitey flashed back.

"What's eatin' yuh, then? Yuh can't pull yore picket pin now! Yuh're needed right here, and yuh know it as well as I do, after our parley with Walt Meyer up there. He ain't Jake Collins' foreman for nothin'! And he won't stop at shootin', neither. Knowin' all this, yuh up and says, 'I'm pulling out'!"

"That's not the reason," Whitey growled. "You can get plenty of guys to take on a job with a chance of gun play to it."

"Yeah, but they're apt to be the tough ones. I need yuh to keep 'em in line. Come on, spill it. What's stampedin' yuh this way?"

This time it was Whitey who let out the string of oaths. There was the sound of a chair being roughly shoved back. Anne had just time to slip into the shadow of the mess shack wall, before the door was flung open and Whitey strode out.

"All right, I'll stay," he shouted back, then turned and made for the bunkhouse.

Anne heard Tim let out a low astonished whistle as he slowly closed the door, without seeing her. She leaned weakly against the rough shack, trying as best she could to grapple with the problem of this strange behavior of Whitey's, and the devastating news of the activities on the north range.

Waiting until a light in the bunkhouse proclaimed that Whitey would probably not reappear, Anne slipped away through the darkness to the haven of the ranch house. Shep, who was stretched out on the porch, rose lazily to meet her. Anne let him inside.

She lit the fire, and drew close to it, suddenly conscious of how chilled she was. Her hands trembled as she held them out to the blaze, and a feeling of desperate loneliness closed over her.

What had made Whitey behave that way? A sudden color flooded Anne's cheeks at the inescapable conclusion that perhaps he was jealous. Was it possible that beneath that shy manner of Whitey's he was beginning to be fond of her? Something more than just his loyalty to her as the owner of the ranch?

Her eyes darkened as she recalled the certainty of Tim's tone as he had predicted gun play over the water holes.

The fact that he was keeping it from her showed how serious he thought it was. She couldn't discuss it with him without admitting she had overheard Whitey's outburst as well.

There must be some way of settling it, without resort to violence! Why not go to see Jake Collins and try to arrive at some understanding?

The more Anne thought of this idea, the more it seemed the thing to do. Her impression of Jake Collins wasn't reassuring, but he had been angry that morning that he had come over to the ranch at finding his hopes balked. Now that he had had time to cool off he might be more reasonable.

Anne was sure Tim would be against any move of conciliation. Why wasn't it better to act on her own initiative, without blindly accepting his estimate of Jake Collins?

If she went to him in perfect frankness, and was ready to make reasonable concessions if he was convinced of his right to the water holes, the whole thing might be smoothed out.

"Steady Beau" at 13 Is a Sign of Stupid Parents

BY DORIS BLAKE.

When a letter starts out as Lonely's does: "Since I was 13 I have had the same boy in love with me and we have kept steady company" your immediate thought jumps to the parents of the youngster. What kind of guardians can they be?

Do they encourage a girl of 13 to isolate herself from her school group and to confine her interest to one youth? Do they know about it? They may not, it is true. On the other hand there are stupid mothers who take an inordinate pride in reporting their young offspring in the throes of a heavy romance at 13. They encourage it instead of seeing that the very young affair is changed into a simple boy and girl relationship with the love element ignored.

They encourage the thing instead of making it their business to surround the child with a group of her contemporaries in which she will enjoy the more wholesome effects of group friendships. A 13 year old girl, even today, is but a child. She can't be, she shouldn't be, featured in a romance with one youth. It isn't healthy or normal or wholesome.

Think of a girl writing: "I have been going steady with a boy since I was 13. I never had an eye for any other boy. We made an agreement to this. He wouldn't go out or dance with or entertain any other girl and I wouldn't see or go out with any other boy. Since 13 we have been going to the movies and to supper at least twice a week together. Every once in a while he would have some gift for me, a sort of surprise. Etc., etc."

Well, the girl is now 17 and broken hearted because the boy has flown to another girl's side. This new girl of his is years older than he. The last few times he took our miss out he told her he would have to go easy on money as he had to save now. Our miss is sure about whom he spent the money on.

The problem isn't the boy's current conduct nor the girl's broken heart, but the sheer stupidity of parents lending support to romance at 13.

BLAKE ANSWERS

Swallow Pride and Apologize.

"Dear Miss Blake: While arguing I called my friend a stubborn mule. Now he is angry. What shall I do?

"J. A. R."

Why not swallow your pride, as you seem to be in the wrong, and make it up with him?

All's Fair in Love, Girls.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 and love a fellow of 23. My girl friend also likes him. What shall I do?

"Gene S."

All's fair in love, Gene, and you have as good a chance to win him as has your friend.

Wabash Valley Will Hold Reunion Week; Recall Pioneer Era

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 23.—[Special.] — A homecoming of Hoosiers will be held here for a week beginning Monday. The folks also will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Northwest Territory and the 126th anniversary of the beginning of the battle of Fort Harrison.

All former residents of the Wabash valley have been invited to return for the occasion. Committees to further the event have been formed in every state in the country, and in Alaska, Canada, and Mexico.

Among the many entertainment features of the program to be presented will be a chorus of 1,000 singers who will march through Terre Haute streets singing songs of long ago. Prominent among the songs there will be "On the Banks of the Wabash," written by Paul Dresser, a former citizen of Terre Haute.

Nautical Quilt Design Pleasing in a Boy's Room

Ships at Sea.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Ships at Sea" is the name of a pieced block which originally was designed for the room of a growing boy. As a rule the coverlet was small and created in blue, blue printed material, red, and white, because these were the most suitable colors for masculine taste available at the time the block first was pieced. Modern usage has selected this same block for a full sized bed, and has changed the color combination so completely as to be thoroughly feminine with green, and green printed materials, pink, cream, and light blue. Thirty-two pieced blocks set together in an all-over design form a most unusual coverlet. The quilt is squared off with pieced half blocks and quarter blocks, and finished with a seven inch border and a half inch bias binding.

2. in the riding hall of the Onwentsia Country club in Lake Forest.

The Northbrook Kennel club did not hold a show last year, but for six or seven years before it arranged annual shows at the Glenview airport.

Judge H. E. Eldert is president of the Kennel club. Some of the north shore residents who undoubtedly will show their dogs are the Conway Olmsteds, Hulburd Johnston, Paul Loeber, the Owen Wests, and Harold and Irving Florsheim.

Baron Beck Will Arrive Next Week.

Baroness Beck is leaving Lake Forest tomorrow in response to a cable from her husband bringing the news that he was to sail yesterday in the Europa from Bremen for New York. The baroness, the former Martha Morse, will spend the week-end with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Covington of Omaha, at Montauk Point, N. Y., where they are spending their vacation.

On Monday the baroness will meet her husband and they will return to Lake Forest. How long they will be there is dependent upon how long the baron can be away from their home in Munich. The baroness' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse, who are motoring in Germany, Switzerland, and Italy with the Charles H. Swifts, are expected to return to Lake Forest in October.

Miss Janet Fairbank will not be enjoying The Butternuts, her family's summer home at Lake Geneva, for many more days this summer. She sails on Aug. 31 in the Europa for Germany. She plans to spend the winter in Vienna and Berlin, continuing the study of voice.

Jere W. Patterson Leaves for Saratoga.

Jere W. Patterson, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Wayne Wills, left yesterday to visit friends at Saratoga. Mr. Patterson, who was graduated from Princeton university this spring, sails on the Britannic on Sept. 4 for Europe. He will visit in France and Switzerland before going to England on Oct. 1. Mr. Patterson has a Rhodes scholarship and will study at Magdalen college at Oxford university this winter.

From Santa Barbara comes the news that many parties have been planned for the Valentine Bartletts and their sons, David and Charles, who arrived in Montecito Monday. They will spend two weeks there as the guests of the Charles Deere Wiman.

Also from Santa Barbara comes word that Mrs. Olive Runnells has as her guests at her home in Montecito her brother, Pierce Withers of Houston, Tex., and Gurney Newlin of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Frederic De Young on Vacation Journey.

Mrs. Frederic R. De Young and her son, Herbert De Young, have left to spend two weeks at the Seigniory club in Quebec. The former Ruth De Young and her husband, Herbert V. Kohler, will move into their new house at Kohler, Wis., in about a week. Mr. and Mrs. Kohler were married a year ago June 21 and had expected to be in their own home long before this. The house was started when they were abroad on their wedding trip.

The Ralph H. Hobart family is scattered in various parts of the country. Mr. Hobart and his son, John, are salmon fishing in California, Mrs. Hobart is in Charlevoix, Mich.; Miss Virginia Hobart is visiting in the east, and Miss Barbara Hobart is at home in Winnetka.

Baron and Baroness Serge Tornow of Paris, France, are visiting the baron's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Tornow of La Grange.

Open New Hall of Far East at Museum Today

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The world of the far east, as reflected in articles of everyday use and decoration, religious symbols, war materials, houses, boats, and books, will be opened to visitors of the Field Museum of Natural History today.

After years of preparation the museum has gathered in one hall objects of beauty and utility representing life in Corea, Siam, Siberia, India, Burma, Ceylon, the Ainu of Yezo, and the Andaman and Nicobar groups of islands in the Pacific.

Here one may study hats or religion, as the fancy dictates. The objects show the life of today among the primitive people of these lands, for they still are in the handicraft age, and styles have not changed much in a thousand years.

Hindu cosmology is shown in a remarkable brass temple censor from Benares, the city where the sacred cow is kept in one of the temples. This censor is nearly twelve feet in height and shows the seven worlds of the Brahman religion, transposed upon each other in lacelike carvings in which 162 figures are used.

Another interesting feature is the Siamese forerunner of the modern motion picture. These are figures used in shadow plays. They are mounted on glass and illuminated from behind. In Siam a large screen was set up in front of the spectators. A fire was built behind the screen, and the figures, fastened to sticks, were carried between the fire and the sheet. They were manipulated to present the action of the play, which was carried on by recitation and often included a thousand different scenes.

All sorts of costumes are on exhibit, from those worn in tropical islands to the fur and woolen pieces of the disappearing Ainus. There is a marvelous rug made of delicate, flexible, interwoven strips of ivory. The Taj Mahal is seen in a model of alabaster, made by a workman of Agra.

Dr. Albert B. Lewis of the staf of the department of anthropology has spent four years in getting this collection together.

Helen Gambrill Bows Sept. 7

Miss Helen Elizabeth Gambrill, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gambrill Jr. of Evanston, will make her debut at a tea-dance at the Exmoor Country club in Highland Park on Wednesday, Sept. 7, from 4 until 7 o'clock. Miss Gambrill will be at home to enjoy only the early fall and Christmas debutante festivities for she will be a sophomore at Vassar this winter. [Paul Stone-Raymor Photo.]

For Slim Juvenile Figures

FROCK FOR SCHOOLGIRLS.

The slim figures of juveniles need something to give them fulness, to relieve the awkwardness of their "growing girl" silhouettes. One answer is the gored skirt. The model we're offering in the pattern today has sixteen gores, more than enough to give flare, and plenty to give swish and swing. The bodice, however, is fitted to the figure flatteringly, and the sleeves are puffed.

There are at least two ways you can style this dress. The version at the left suggests a square neckline edged with ruffling, more of which is used on the bands of the short sleeves. Embroidery is called into service, too, and the pattern for it is No. E-11175, available for 10 cents extra.

Or the dress may have a Peter Pan collar for contrast, and the sleeves may be long. Woolens are especially perfect for this version.

Style No. 2668 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2¼ yards of 39 inch material.

Dr. Mudge Retires Today as Presbyterian Official

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—The Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge will retire tomorrow, on his seventieth birthday, as stated clerk of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America. He has held the office seventeen years. The post will be taken over by the Rev. Dr. William B. Pugh.

Apple Tree Is in Blossom Second Time This Season

Fairland, Ill., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—An apple tree on the Lawrence Griffith farm is bearing its second crop of blossoms this year. After shedding this year's leaves three weeks ago new leaves and blossoms appeared. The tree bore apples this summer.

Apparently there are a good many vegetarians or would-be vegetarians in the middle west, for vegetarian menus in this column usually meet with approval, I've found.

Here's one of them, which contains three vegetables and a fruit. The usual "vegetables for salad and fruits for dessert" scheme is given the "go-by" in this plan. The fruit is used for salad and the dessert is one of those comforts to a busy woman, a pudding made from a prepared mix.

SHORT-CUT VEGETARIAN DINNER
Casserole of Macaroni, Cheese and Tomatoes
Buttered Italian Squash
Glazed Carrots
Fresh Peach and Chopped Nut Salad
Quick Bran Pocketbook Rolls
Coffee

Casserole of Macaroni, Cheese, and Tomatoes.

[Serves four]

1 cup uncooked macaroni
2 cups tomato sauce
1 cup cheese, sliced
Buttered crums

Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain and add tomato sauce made by thickening 2 cups canned tomatoes with mixture of 2 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons flour, and adding ½ teaspoon salt. Add cheese. Place mixture in a buttered casserole and top with buttered crums. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 minutes.

GLAZED CARROTS.

Allow three or four small carrots to a serving. Scrape and cook until tender in boiling salted water. Drain. Melt 4 tablespoons butter and add 4 tablespoons sugar and ¼ cup water [for four servings]. Add carrots and let cook over low heat until glazed but not browned. Drain from sirup and serve.

Bran Pocketbook Rolls.

[16 rolls]

1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
¾ cup milk
1 cup whole bran

Sift flour, measure, and add baking powder and salt. Resift. Cut in shortening. Pour milk over bran, add to flour mixture, and blend. Turn out onto a floured board and knead gently 2 to 3 minutes. Roll ¼ inch thick and cut with a 2 inch floured cutter. Fold double and press the edges together lightly. Place in greased pan and brush biscuits with melted butter. Cover and let stand 20 minutes before baking. Bake at 425 degrees for about 20 minutes.

Packaged pudding mixes are inexpensive and most of them need only the addition of 2 cups of milk for cooking. The cooking period is brief. Shaved, unsweetened chocolate gives a good contrast in appearance and in flavor when used with plain vanilla pudding.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Nails with a satin base! Now doesn't that sound interesting? It means that there is a new creamy liquid created to aid women in the care of their nails.

Nail grooming has developed into a necessary procedure. If there is a woman living who doesn't almost cherish the remark "What beautiful nails you have," we'd like to see her. We don't know whether the ancient Chinese should be given the credit for causing women to give more care and attention to their nails or not. At any rate the long, delicate ovals that they strive for nowadays seem to have had their origin with that race. And as long as they are the cry of the hour, they have to be protected.

This new liquid is a protective base, pale pink in color, and slides on like oil. It carries quite a high polish, and while the manufacturer says nothing about it, we think it could be used alone as a polish if one wanted a very delicate coloring with a high sheen. However, that is not its purpose. After this foundation coat the nail polish is applied. You then protect this polish by another coat of the base, if you wish. The wearing time of your manicure will be prolonged.

If you are an experimenter with shades of polish, you might like to try a new one with a fascinating, soft-tongued name and in the rose family. You can get a single bottle of it or you can "start from scratch" and get a box with three products necessary for a manicure; a remover, the base, and the polish.

Funny thing about bright polishes. Even if you are one of those dyed-in-the-wool natural polish users, once you've dipped your brush into some of the luring shades, you'll find yourself fascinated by your own hands. Well and good, for this craving means better nail care.

And, a vote of appreciation about the brushes. They're fat, and simplify the task of applying both base and polish. FLORENCE MURDOCH.

Periodic Long Lectures Won't Bring Results

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

"Example is better than precept" is another homely bit of wisdom.

They're both good mottoes—in case you're in need of a motto—for mothers. But, particularly the first. Yet parents don't always realize it. And in two ways: the ones who are trying all along the way don't realize the fruitful work they are doing; the ones who aren't following this insistent method, but instead, who come down hard at long intervals don't realize that this latter is a poor technique with children.

It's not in the long "lecture" or parental sermon that you do most to help form your child's character or develop his personality. It's the word here, the tactful suggestion there, the daily example in keeping your promise, the seizing upon a happening to point up a desirable attitude, the praise of earnest effort, the frequent recognition of small successes, the ever-ready responsiveness, and the answers to questions—it is all these that lead and guide your child most effectively and which in the long run make the most pervasive and lasting impression.

This method is like the paddling of the skilful canoeist, who by the right turn of his wrist at every stroke, by watching the snags and shallows, keeps his canoe steadily on its course, without loss of progress or energy.

In other words, to drop the analogy—and I don't think analogies are so good, after all—it's the hour-by-hour living with your children, learning to know them, to know what they need and then giving it to them, that scores highest in results.

Naturally, all this is not to be absolutely sweeping. No statement can be. There are times when you do have to have a serious talk with your older children about something.

But this sort of thing should be the exception and should, on the whole, not be a long-drawn-out affair.

"Living With Our In-Betweens (Children from 6 to 12)" is the name of a booklet sent upon receipt of a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Beauty Needs Fall Program of Discipline

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"The world owes me a living," chirped the grasshopper, gayly dancing while the ants rushed about storing up food. When the winter winds blew the ants were snugly fixed while the grasshopper bemoaned his shivering, hungry fate.

In the above there is a moral for beautiful women who want to keep their beauty, declares Veronica Dengel, into whose hands come hundreds of women bearing the sad harvest of a summer too well, too lazily spent.

Miss Dengel has worked out what she calls her "autumn dozen," as antidote for the lazy summer ills. Likewise they are commended for all women in search of personal improvement. Among her twelve commandments you will find one which tells you to begin luncheon and dinner—especially dinner—with a large salad.

By eating this first the appetite is curbed against too much heavy foodstuff. Miss Dengel tells you that if you have a craving for sweets and starches leave them until the end of the meal when you won't have room for much. Cutting your butter allowance in two is advised until the rubber tires have been exchanged for hard muscle. She suggests substituting grapefruit juice and tomato juice for some of the orange and pineapple juice.

"If you are not now having an all-fruit breakfast, try it for three weeks.

"Start the day off with a glass of hot water into which juice of one lemon has been squeezed.

You are told to confine your total liquid intake to two quarts a day, adding a little lime juice or lemon juice to the glass of water taken at bedtime.

Watch your elimination. Do some rolling and stretching exercises for waist and hip control.

Think about your hair. Have a few oil treatments. Rotate the scalp under your fingers—and brush the hair morning and night.

Use plenty of oil on your skin and rub a little of the grease on your elbows.

Above all, however, keep that fable about the grasshopper and the ant alive, so that you won't get into the early winter months a-shivering with chagrin over your belated attempt to get into form.

How to manicure your nails properly is one of the important subjects of Antoinette Donnelly's booklet, "Handmade Hand Beauty." Get a copy of this valuable aid to maintaining beautiful hands. On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

The Housewife

If you're one of the tired housewives who enjoy a long, leisurely bath you should get one of those tricky little pillows to rest your head against and have a bit of real luxury. These pillows are made of sponge rubber and are attached to the tub with two strong suction cups. The pillows come in a variety of colors—green, natural, orchid, blue, coral, black, and white. And they are not expensive.

Shoulder rests for the bath tub are also made in this same spong-soft rubber. They are a good deal larger and cost more. They would be nice gifts for invalids. EDITH WEIGLE.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Merely because our suit bid has been adversely overcalled with no trump is not good and sufficient reason for our failing to lead that suit. Naturally, if we can find a safer, constructive lead, we should make it, but we certainly should not abandon an establishable six card suit in order to lead a mangy four carder.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 heart	1 spade	Pass	2 no trump
Pass	3 no trump	Pass	Pass
Pass

West's opening heart bid was fully justified. True, he had his two and one-half honor tricks only by virtue of his plus values, but with a six card suit a pass would have been unduly conservative. North's one spade overcall was justified, not vulnerable, and South, with about three honor tricks, including two heart stoppers, made the strong bid of two no trump. Since this was in response to an overcall instead of an original bid, it was not absolutely forcing. But North, with reasonable solidity in his four card spade suit and a diamond suit that might be established, chose to go to game rather than "hang" one short.

West, convinced that all the high hearts were in South's hand, shied away from that suit, to open the deuce of diamonds. It was an unfortunate [or bad] decision. Dummy ducked and East's jack went to the queen. The spade ten was then laid down, and West won. West, persisting with his first thought, laid down the diamond nine so that if declarer had the blank eight at this stage, it would be covered. Dummy's diamond ten won, and a low club then was led. East deliberately put in the eight spot and declarer, fearing that the seven was in West's hand, could not afford to duck since, if East's eight held, a heart would be led through the A-Q. At this point declarer's main idea was to duck a couple of clubs into the nondanger hand, West. To that end he played the jack, and West's blank king won. West returned the diamond king. Dummy's ace won and declarer then resumed his plan to establish clubs. He found it necessary, however, to use the ace on the next lead and, when West showed out, the club suit had to be abandoned. But this was merely a temporary setback. The spade suit was run off and dummy's low diamond was put to the excellent use of throwing West on lead. Obviously, West had to return a heart up to the major tenace, thus giving declarer two heart tricks and his contract, with three spades, two hearts, three diamonds and one club.

An opening heart lead would have made a vast difference. Even if declarer had caught the singleton king of clubs, he would not have been able to establish nine tricks against perfect defense.

GIANTS CRUSH CUBS, 6 TO 2; SOX WIN, LOSE

OFFICIALS ARE NAMED FOR ALL-STAR FOOTBALL GAME

WAY CLEARED FOR RIVALS TO DISCUSS RULES

Tommy Hughitt Is Referee.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Tommy Hughitt, veteran football official from Buffalo, N. Y., has been selected by Ray Flaherty, coach of the Washington Redskins, and approved by Bo McMillin, head coach of the All-Americans, to referee the game in Soldiers' field a week from tonight. Other officials for the game will be Fred Gardner of Cornell, head linesman; E. C. Krieger of Ohio university, umpire, and Larry Conover of Penn State, field judge.

The same system of selection was used this year as last. Coach Flaherty nominated the referee and field judge. Coach McMillin and his assistants nominated the umpire and head linesman. Both selections met with approval of the opposing coaches. These men now have been notified and they will report in Chicago the day before the game when Flaherty and the All-Star coaches will meet to discuss the rules under which the game will be played.

Pass Rules Differ.

As in other years, the differences between the professional rules and the college rules force the teams to agree on which rules will be followed. The most important difference between the two codes applies to the forward pass. The professional game permits a forward pass to be thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage. The college rule permits a forward pass to be thrown only from any point five yards behind the line of scrimmage.

The college forward pass rule has been in effect in the four previous charity games, and while Flaherty has not yet given his approval, it is expected he will, since Sammy Baugh, his star passer, generally throws from a deep position.

McMillin is willing to have the goal posts placed on the goal line, a concession to the professional rule, since the college game is played with the posts on the end line. He also has agreed to use the professional rule which permits a player to communicate with his teammates immediately upon entering the game.

Plan Scrimmage Today.

Selection of Conover and Hughitt marks the first time that officials outside of the midwest have been chosen for the All-Star game. Both men have officiated for many years in both professional and college games.

The All-Americans will be the luncheon guests at noon tomorrow of the Interfraternity club of Chicago. This is the only official reception for the players and the coaches of the All-Star team. The luncheon will be held in the La Salle hotel. The public is invited.

The All-American squad will scrimmage this afternoon in its third and probably next to last heavy workout. If the weather is exceptionally warm the scrimmage may be held tonight. The boys also are scheduled for a workout this morning.

The All-Star coaches now are emphasizing precision in execution of their plans. The squad drilled last night, the second workout of the day, under the Dyche stadium lights. For the first time McMillin insisted on secret practice. Heretofore the members of the Northwestern coaching school and other fans have been permitted to watch practice.

White to Be Tested.

Whizzer White, the University of Colorado half back, who has signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates for the professional campaign at the largest salary ever paid in the National league, may be the best passer on the All-Star squad. His work, which will be given a better test in today's scrimmage, so far has been satisfactory.

Corby Davis, Indiana full back, who has been out of contact work for more than a week because of a pulled muscle, may get a chance to scrimmage today. Others on the exceptionally large list of cripples also may be marked for duty today.

JIM M'DONALD PLAYS FOOTBALL! WHY? HE LIKES IT

All-Star Back Outguesses His Opponents.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Jim McDonald of Ohio State, a quarter back on the college All-Star football squad, comes right out and says he plays the game because he likes to play it. Perhaps he has that "Die for dear old Rutgers" spirit; no doubt he would do anything to see the old school win; since he's human he must get a thrill out of distinguishing himself among his fellow students—but he doesn't do any sentimentalizing about these things. He plays football because it's fun.

It's not just a knock-down-and-drag-out affair with him either. It's brain work. He gets his greatest satisfaction out of sizing up an opponent's offense and getting to the right spot at the right time. To him, football is a science and his mind is working just as hard as his body every minute he's on the field.

Football—It Takes Study.

This smart back field man, who will play against the Washington Redskins a week from tonight on Soldiers' field, yesterday outlined some of the principles that brought him to the top in college football.

"You can't just go out there on a Saturday afternoon and play a good game of football even though you are in perfect physical shape," he said. "You have to study and prepare for it.

"You see, it's always been my job to back up the line. I have to go wherever I think the play is going. So before every game in college I spent at least a week poring over all the scouting data we had on our opponents. I used to call the signals for our own team and that helped me in trying to figure out what their quarter back was going to do.

Doped Opponents' Plays.

"I'd always say to myself as we'd line up, 'What would I do now if I were calling signals for those fellows? Then they'd come out of their huddle and I'd watch just what position their backs and ends would take. Knowing their formations from the scouting data, I could then make a pretty good guess on how the play was going.

"Then just before the ball was snapped I'd holler, 'Watch it, Joe, they're coming off tackle' or 'Look out, boys, this one's through center.' When I'd guess right it would have a damaging effect on their morale and would help us a lot.

"You have to concentrate all the time you're out there if you want to put your best into the game and get the most fun out of it. You can't be thinking about your girl or about the crowd or about anything else."

McDonald played three years of football with Ohio State and during that time the Buckeyes turned out some of the greatest teams in their history. What few games they lost

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

It is estimated that a third of the 40,402 who paid to see last Sunday's double-header between the Cubs and Pirates were out-of-towners and that half of these brought their lunches. . . . Several hundred opened their shoebox repasts and used the concession shelves provided for those who buy food on the premises. . . . Moreover, many helped themselves to the mustard, horseradish, and relish. . . . All of which was tolerated with good grace by the management, which wanted every one to have an enjoyable time. . . . Samuel Riddle offered $100,000 for El Chico, William Ziegler's unbeaten 2 year old, but the bid was rejected. . . . Harry Lasater, Illinois tackle, whose shoulder requires an operation, probably will remain out of football this fall. . . . Sparky Adams, for many years a Cub favorite who later played with distinction for the Pirates and Cards, is managing a coal miners' team in Tremont, Pa. . . . Ford Frick, president of the National league, plans to visit England next winter. . . . The world champion Blackhawks will start skating at the University of Illinois rink on Oct. 11, according to Manager Bill Stewart's present plans. . . . Bill says he has three good player deals percolating.

Whizzer White's coach, Bernard Oakes of Colorado, will be in Soldiers' field next Wednesday night to see his protégé match his forward passing arm with Sammy Baugh's. . . . So far Charley Grimm's radio sponsors have confined him to the baseball chatter. . . . He is practicing on commercial blurbs. . . . Bernie Moore, football coach at Louisiana State, says he will have the best blocking back in the country next fall. . . . His name is Booth. . . . Tiny Thornhill of Stanford was line coach at Centre college when Bo McMillin of Indiana, head coach of the All-Stars, was burning up college gridirons. . . . Bo, by the way, is the best dancer on the All-Star staf. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ducky Pond of Yale are thinking of adopting a baby. . . . Joe Boley, Philadelphia A's shortstop in their last heydeys, is managing a team in Mahoney City, Pa. . . . Army and Notre Dame will announce a sellout for their game in Yankee stadium Oct. 29 within a week or two. . . . Dorothy Kirby covers golf tournaments in which she competes for a paper in Atlanta, her home town. . . . Luke Johnsos, assistant coach of the Chicago Bears, is the father of a six pound daughter, born on Saturday.

Quick, Boy, a Pop Bottle!

Now that Hubbell's arm is giving out, why don't the Cubs offer Collins, Herman, Jurges and Hack plus $50,000 for him. Terry probably would want more dough, but in time he would see the light and the Cubs would have another expensive has-been.

BARBARA RANSOM LOSES 1ST MATCH IN WESTERN GOLF

Patty Berg, Marion Miley, Mrs. Hill Advance.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Those of the golfing citizenry who felt that the thirty-eighth closed tournament of the Women's Western Golf association, now in progress over the No. 4 course at Olympia Fields, is just a little preview of the national event at Westmoreland next month, were rudely awakened yesterday. After the first round of sixteen matches in the championship bracket, they are convinced that they have a real honest-to-goodness golf tournament to watch in the western. Low scoring performances and a batch of upsets and close matches lent strength to that conviction.

First of the reversals came in the opening match in which Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., disposed of Barbara Ransom, the Stockton, Cal., girl who won the qualifying medal on Monday with a three under par 76. Properly speaking, the result does not qualify as an upset, for most medalists are fated for early elimination and Mrs. Chandler is a competitor of proven talents. She was one down to Miss Ransom's 40 at the turn, but evened the match with a par at the 11th and then dropped a seven foot putt for a bird at the 12th and the lead which she increased with winning pars at the 16th and 17th.

Patty Cards a 76.

Best scoring effort of the day over the full eighteen hole distance was submitted by Patty Berg of Minneapolis, who has won eight of the eleven tournaments in which she has participated this year. The little redhead had quite a deal of opposition in husky Dorothy Traung of San Francisco, 1936 champion. After losing the first three holes, Patty squared the match at the ninth by turning in 39, even par. She then raced home in 37, three under par for a 76 and a one up verdict over Miss Traung's par 79.

Marion Miley, the Lexington, Ky., brunette who is defending the title she won at St. Paul last year, did not play golf comparable with that of Miss Berg, rated her chief rival, but she was up all the way for a 4 and 3 victory over Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge, Chicago district titleholder. The champion was out in 42, three over par, for a two up lead at the turn.

Mrs. Hill Wins on Home Nine.

The only extra hole battle of the day saw defeat of Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis, open champion of the association. Bea lost to Mrs. Charles Newbold, Wichita, Kas., star 1 up, in 19 holes. One down at nine, the Minnesota girl took a one up lead through the 15th, then lost the next two holes. She squared it at the 18th, but missed her third shot on the extra hole, yielding the match to Mrs. Newbold's par five. Both were around the eighteen in 82, three over regulation figures.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City veteran who has won the championship three times and who holds the tournament medal record, was extended to the 17th for a 2 and 1 decision against Hilda Livengood of Danville, Ill., twice Illinois champion. Out in 42 for a one up deficit, Mrs. Hill squared the match at the 11th with a par, and then added birdies at the 12th, 14th, and 15th.

Five Chicagoans survived for today's second round of eight matches. They were Ellamae Williams of Medinah, Eleanor Dudley of Ridge, Mrs. Lillian Zech of Tam o'Shanter, Shirley Ann Johnson of Sunset Ridge, and Betty Patterson of Flossmoor.

Second Round This Morning.

Today's second round will be played in the morning, beginning at about 9 o'clock. Mrs. Melvin Jones, president of the W. W. G. A., announced yesterday that tomorrow's quarter-finals and Friday's semi-finals will be played in the afternoon, starting at 1 o'clock. This system, she said, was used with

Root Holds New York After French, Russell Fade in First

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Giants made six runs before the second putout was accomplished in their opener with the Cubs yesterday afternoon. Thereafter all the King's horses and all the King's men, plus well-nigh perfect pitching by Ol' Charley Root, couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again. The score at the finish was New York, 6; Chicago, 2.

Larry French, starting pitcher, had a glove for his right hand and Jack Russell, his immediate successor had a glove for his left hand. Neither had much else to indicate his chosen profession. Larry, upset at the very beginning by some scratchy stuff then some brutality, was the losing pitcher. It was his 18th loss of the season.

Root Arrives Too Late.

The record against French was a double, a single, a double, a putout in his behalf, and a double. Russell went in and yielded a single, a double, a walk and a single. This made it six runs on seven hits and brought Manager Hartnett to the conclusion that he'd better dig up a pitcher. He found one in the person of Root, but alas, too late, as you may have figured out from the score.

Root pitched perfect baseball in disposing of the first 18 batsmen to face him. He gave up a pair of singles in the seventh inning, one single with two out in the eighth, and a double with two out in the ninth.

From the first inning to the seventh the Cubs developed opening after opening but each time curled up, thrice being blighted by double plays. During the span they scored their two runs, made ten hits and left ten gents on base. Then they gave up entirely. No one got on base in the last three innings except Bill Jurges, who walked with two out in the eighth.

The Hartnett purge has not begun, revealing a policy of watchful waiting not shared by their conquerors, who brought six new hired hands to town, including Bill Cissell and George Myatt, regular infielders.

Should Skip First.

The Cub front office announced after the game, however, that something is being done anent the outing at Catalina Island. James J. Gleeson, 25 year old outfielder, was purchased from Newark, Yankee farm team, for spring delivery. The deal was for cash and a player to be selected later. Gleeson has been with Newark two seasons. He was in Zanesville in 1934, New Orleans in 1935, and Cleveland in 1936.

The nice, kind thing to do would be to skip the record of the painful first inning. But duty is duty, so here goes: Moore opened the game by dumping a blooper in front of Cavarretta for a double and went to third when Myatt bunted a single toward third. So much for the scratches. Danning lined a bona fide double to center, scoring Moore and Myatt. Ott popped to Herman after which Leiber rammed a double to left, scoring Danning.

French was replaced by Russell. Cissell bounced a single past Hack, Leiber scoring after which Bartell doubled to left center, Cissell stopping at third. McCarthy was given an intentional pass, loading the bases, an elegant strategem except for the fact that Gumbert banged a single to left, which scored Leiber and Cissell. Root then entered the arena and made Moore and Myatt lift easy flies to Galan.

Finally Score in Fourth.

In the second, the Cubs got the first two batsmen on third and first, then put on one of their wilting specials. Galan walked and went to third on Reynolds' single. Cavarretta tapped to McCarthy and Galan was tossed out at the plate. Garbark then grounded into a double play.

Jurges walked to start the Cub third, and, after Root had fanned, Hack singled to right. Herman then flied to Ott and Collins tapped to McCarthy. Galan opened the Chicago fourth with a single to left and was forced by Reynolds. Cavarretta walked, then Garbark singled to left, Reynolds scoring and Cavarretta stopping at second. Jurges then bounced into a double play.

Fill Bases in Fifth.

The Cubs filled the bases in the fifth. Root singled to left, Hack forced Root, Herman singled to center, Collins was called out on strikes, and Galan walked, filling the bases. Reynolds then bounced to Gumbert, who tossed him out.

Ouch!

BEAT YANKS ON HOMERS, 11 TO 3; DROP 2D, 3 TO 1

Rigney Yields Four Hits in Defeat.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 23.—The White Sox ran themselves into a weary state while battering the Yankees in the first half of a double-header today and then had reason to regret they hadn't stored up some of their energy for the second engagement. The Chicagoans captured the opening decision, 11 to 3, by an amazing display of power at the plate, but lost, 3 to 1, in the other battle, despite young John Rigney's feat of holding the world champions to four hits.

For the first battle the Sox were invited to an at home reception in honor of high tempered Wes Ferrell, recently discarded by Washington. Jim Dykes' boys weren't at all polite. They gave Wes such a bruising that after five innings he was withdrawn at the request of the humane society. The roughhousing continued in a mild way at the expense of his successor, Ivy Andrews. Meanwhile Thornton Lee, a Yankee specialist, had little trouble keeping the title holders in a state of slavery.

The Fans Are Amazed.

The power revealed by the Sox in the first game not only amazed themselves, but the Yankees and 17,184 spectators. Ferrell's home debut as a Yank was such a wild affair that there were eleven hits and nine runs in five innings. Four of these clouts cleared the fences. In the second inning Lee hit his fourth homer of the season with the bags empty.

In the next inning Rip Radcliff reeled off his fifth homer with one on base. Marvin Owen came up with his fourth in the fourth, and Tony Rensa hit his third with a mate waiting in the fifth. The sufferings of Ferrell would have been more acute but for a lot of spectacular support.

Even though Rigney had to concede the decision to Irving [Bump] Hadley in the second meeting, he was as amazing in his pitching as the Sox had been in their earlier hitting. The kid's fast ball was so baffling that he fanned nine men, all except two when there was somebody on. But he had one weakness. He experimented with the home run ball. Bill Dickey sent one of them into the seats in the second inning. In the eighth, with the score tied and one on base, Lou Gehrig hit his twenty-fifth and that proved decisive.

FIRST GAME

The Sox had the help of an error in scoring two runs off Ferrell in the opening inning of the first game, but if it hadn't been for some subsequent fielding sparklers they might have annihilated Tempestuous Wes then and there. Kuhel opened with a safe bunt, stole second, and scored on a single by Owen, who went to third on Di Maggio's fumble. After Walker had been thrown out, Radcliff singled to score Owen. A one hand stop by Gordon on Appling's smash and Henrich's brilliant running catch of Kreevich's fly completed the inning.

The Sox landed on Ferrell again in the second. Lee hit his homer to right after Rolfe had robbed Rensa of a hit. The Yankees got back this run in their half on Gehrig's triple and an infield out. This caused the Sox to explode more hits in Ferrell's face in the third. Walker led off with a single and scored promptly on Radcliff's homer to right, giving the Chicagoans a 5 to 1 lead. Owen made it 6 to 1 with his homer to left in the fourth.

The Parade Goes On.

There were all kinds of fun for the Sox in the fifth, when three more runs were showered on Ferrell. Radcliff lost a hit on more great fielding by Rolfe. Appling singled. Kreevich singled and Selkirk's throw to third went to the stand. Rolfe went to retrieve it and threw it to Crosetti at third, but the plate had been left unguarded, so Appling scored. Dykes

M'COMBS, PARISO TIE FOR LEAD IN JOCKY CONTEST

Rivals at Homewood Run Totals to 26.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Jocky Ken McCombs found a one day vacation was enough. He hustled right back to Washington Park yesterday from his home in Detroit and battled his way back into a tie with Nunzio Pariso for the riding leadership.

It took two powerful rides by the sandy haired Detroiter to get Grand Day and Silver Braid home in front and boost his total of victories for the meeting to twenty-six. Earlier in the afternoon Pariso had scored No. 25 and had gone ahead of McCombs. Pariso evened the score at twenty-six all when he won on Sir Windsor in the seventh.

Beats Pariso Twice.

A big rain and windstorm early in the morning produced such bad track conditions that the card was rearranged with no feature offering, so the McCombs-Pariso contest provided most of the afternoon's fireworks.

In both of McCombs' victories he had Pariso as his closest contender in the betting. On both occasions he distanced the Buffalo youngster.

Pariso was astride the short priced favorite, Chipeta, in the sixth. McCombs was on Silver Braid. Oxford Lad broke in front and McCombs was away alertly on Silver Braid. Chipeta was forced to work her way up on the rail as they went down the back stretch, but she did manage to reach third as they swung for home.

Grand Day Wins for Him.

That's as close as she got, for McCombs on Silver Braid went to the outside and twice all but caught Oxford Lad as the pair drew away from their rivals. In the final strides, Silver Braid challenged again, McCombs lifted his mount over the wire, winner by a nose, in a photo decision. Stairs was third with Chipeta and Pariso dropping back to fourth.

McCombs' other score with the favorite, Grand Day, found Pariso on the second choice, Suppliyman. Both were in a challenging position when they straightened out for home. McCombs came on to win with Grand Day while the best Pariso could do on Suppliyman was third, back of Wise Princess. Grand Day paid $5.20.

Your eyes were sparkling bits of blue,
Your lips were tinged with royalty's hue,
With teeth that shone so dazzling bright;

The turban and veil that crowned your head
Like a halo of glory—so fitting to you,
O! girl on the "L" whom I never knew.

All these things I'll never forget,
And the look in your eyes I can see yet,
So full of life and laughter and joy—
O! how I envy that lucky boy!

We went our ways without a sign,
But this lovely mem'ry is every bit mine,
Though somebody else may captivate you,

As we go through life, if we meet once more,
Smile and laugh as you did before.
And in spite of gray skies all will be well,

SANDERLING WINS TO TAKE LEAD IN STAR TITLE SERIES

Philip Upton of St. Joseph, Mich., and his star boat entry, Sanderling, took a three point lead in the Great Lakes championship series yesterday by adding a first place to a second of Monday.

Cubs to Send Page Against Giants Today

The Brooklyn Dodgers, one of the threats against the Cubs' first division tenancy, will play a double-header in Wrigley field tomorrow. The Cubs and Dodgers will play single games Friday and Saturday.

HUBBELL DOESN'T EXPECT TO PITCH AGAIN THIS YEAR

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Carl Hubbell, the greatest southpaw in baseball, lay on his hospital bed tonight convinced that he will not return to duty with the New York Giants this season.

"I don't see how I can do it," said Hubbell as he looked down at his left arm swathed in bandages and braced by splints. "Seems risky business to me to try and get into shape for only a couple of games. I'm going home as soon as the doctor will let me."

grounded out, whereupon Rensa hit his homer for two more runs and a 9 to 1 lead. Ferrell's double and a single by Crosetti gave the Yanks a consolation run in their half.

The appearance of Andrews in Ferrell's place in the sixth didn't stop the Sox. Walker doubled to left and scored on Radcliff's single, making the count 10 to 2. It grew into 11 to 2 in the seventh, when Kreevich singled, stole second, and scored on Rensa's single. The Yankees scored their one run in the eighth because of a fumble by Dykes on Gehrig after Henrich had doubled.

EXCESSIVE BANK CHARGES DENIED IN LEITER TRUST

Assistant Cashier Takes Issue with Heirs.

Arthur F. Wellman, an assistant cashier of the Continental National Bank and Trust company, denied yesterday that the bank took excessive fees in administering a trust estate created by the late Mrs. Mary T. Leiter. He was the first witness in the bank's defense against charges of gross misconduct in handling the trust.

Wellman testified before Master in Chancery Harold Sullivan of the Circuit court. The master is hearing an accounting suit brought on behalf of the beneficiaries of the trust. They are Thomas Leiter, Colin L. Campbell, and Cecil J. A. Howard, grandsons of Mrs. Leiter and the late Levi Z. Leiter, pioneer Chicago merchant.

Ask Removal of Trustee.

The grandsons ask the removal of the bank as trustee, accusing it of breach of trust and juggling of assets.

Mrs. Leiter established three trusts, each for $100,000, before her death in 1913. The grandchildren assert that the total value of the trusts with accumulated interest should now be $650,000. Attorneys Denis E. Sullivan Jr. and Edmond Sullivan, counsel for the beneficiaries, contend that the bank was to have received only 1½ per cent of the net annual income for its services but actually took larger sums.

Wellman said that in negotiating farm mortgages and placing these in the Leiter trusts, the bank would take a 1 to 2 per cent commission from the mortgagor.

Denies Commissions Excessive.

"That was the general procedure in the farm loan department of the bank," the witness declared. "The commission was used to defray overhead in connection with the transaction. There were always expenses, such as bookkeeping and abstracting of title. There was nothing excessive about these commissions; they were general business practice."

Attorney Robert Hanley, counsel for the bank, said that the defense position is that the bank was not limited to 1½ per cent of income for compensation as trustee.

The hearing was continued to Sept. 9 at 10 a. m. It is being held in Master Sullivan's office at 7 South Dearborn street.

'A FRIEND KEEPS 31 YEAR TRUST BY FILING WILL

A will made thirty-one years ago was filed for probate in Woodstock yesterday. Its existence was discovered as the result of a newspaper account about the death Aug. 15 of Mrs. Sarah Sullivan of Marengo.

Relatives of Mrs. Sullivan didn't know there was a will for her $10,000 estate. A few days ago a resident of Belvidere read her obituary and recalled that she had left the will with him for safekeeping. He sent the document to a sister of Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Nellie Clinnin of Marengo.

Under the will the estate will be shared by Mrs. Clinnin, a brother, James Loughry, and their mother, Mrs. Ellen Boyle of Marengo, who is 99 years old. Hearing was set for Sept. 6.

'ANTI-AIRCRAFT UNIT LEAVES ON 1,300 MILE TREK

A motorized anti-aircraft unit of eighty men left Fort Sheridan yesterday to take part in the most extensive air defense maneuvers ever held in the United States. Eighteen trucks of soldiers will journey to Fort Bragg, N. C., a distance of 1,300 miles, in eight days.

Stopovers will be 150 miles apart. The first will be in Syracuse, Ind. Capt. A. E. Wilson commands the unit, part of the 61st coast artillery. A mimic attack will be waged by army pursuit and bombing planes to demonstrate the efficiency and mobility of the country's anti-aircraft defense.

Next Tuesday 350 officers and men in seventy trucks will travel the same route from Fort Sheridan to join the maneuvers.

Death Separates Bachelor Twins, Together 81 Years

Shenandoah, Ia., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Death today ended an eighty-one year companionship for Henry and John Banner, believed to have been Iowa's oldest bachelor twins. Henry died after a brief illness. John and Henry Banner were born in Kentucky in 1857 and came here when Shenandoah was a little village.

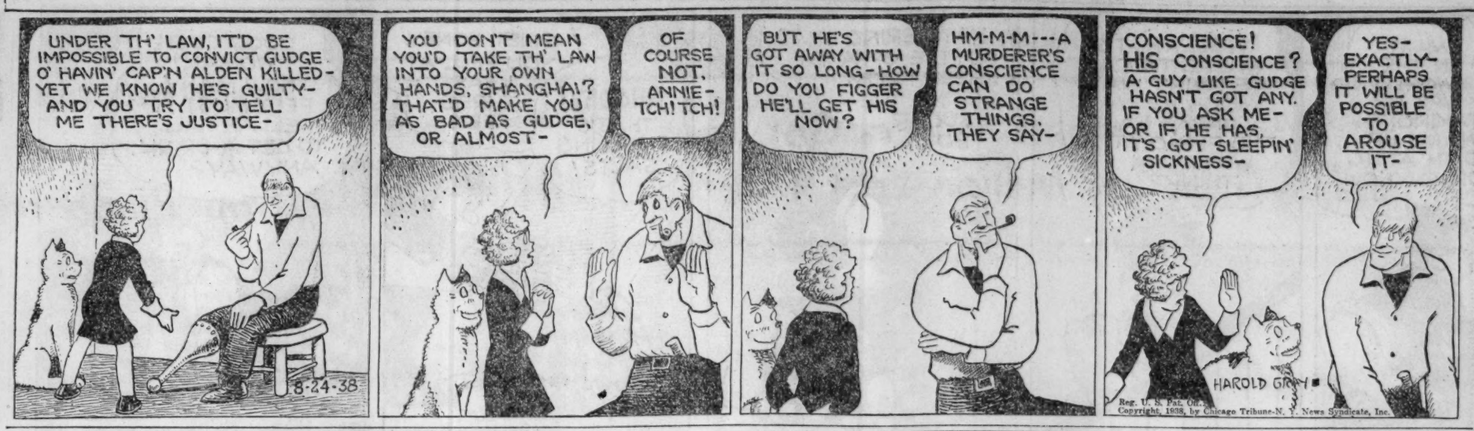
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: There Are Ways and Ways



EXPLORERS FIND SECRETS OF HIGH ALASKAN RANGE

Peaks Climbed Over Coastal Rocks.

[Bradford Washburn, 27 years old, leader of the Harvard university-National Geographic society expedition to St. Elias glacier range in Alaska, has written the following article for the Associated Press.]

BY BRADFORD WASHBURN.

CORDOVA, Alaska, Aug. 23.—The St. Elias mountain range, one of the highest in the world, got that way by climbing over the top of the younger coastal rocks.

The Harvard university-National Geographic society expedition learned this in a flight last Saturday at 15,000 feet over and among some of the highest mountains on the North American continent.

This and the discovery of what we believe to be the largest glacier system in the world outside the Polar ice caps were the chief accomplishments of a very interesting trip.

Photograph Unexplored Area.

We were able to photograph about 1,500 miles of unexplored country on the trip.

Our party, consisting of Pilots Bob Reeve and Harold Gillam, Dr. G. D. Hanna, geologist with the California Academy of Science, San Francisco, and Garrett Eddy, Seattle, flew in 10 above zero temperature at 15,000 feet directly across the coastal barrier range toward Mount St. Elias, 18,000 feet high.

We completely circled the summit of St. Elias, passing to the east of the final summit ice cap two hours after our takeoff from Cordova.

Make Geologic Discovery.

Fantastic rock and ice cliffs drop nearly sheer to the head of Tyndall and Agassiz glaciers. As we approached and circled the peak Dr. Hanna and I made our most interesting geologic discovery. We actually located in the very face of the great cliffs of St. Elias a contact between the massive core rock of the St. Elias range and the coastal sediments lying to the south. This contact has never before been actually located, although its position has been estimated by many geologists. None ever put it as far north as we discovered it.

From the great folds of rock clearly visible in these cliffs, it is clear the highest peaks of this range have been bodily thrust southward over the top of younger coastal rocks and thus gained their position as one of the greatest coastal ranges in the world.

DEATH DECREED FOR 4 LEADERS OF GREEK REVOLT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 23.—Four leaders of an unsuccessful revolt against the government of Greece were sentenced to death today by a court martial in Canea, on the Island of Crete. Three others were sentenced to life imprisonment and 35 others to from one to twenty years' imprisonment. Among those sentenced to death was Aristomenis Mitsotakis, nephew of the late Premier Eleutherios Venizelos.

None of those sentenced was present at the court martial. They have no right of appeal unless they surrender within a month.

The revolt for which they were sentenced occurred on July 29, when 400 men seized the garrison in Canea. The uprising was suppressed by detachments of the army, navy, and air force, which were rushed to the island by Dictator John Metaxas.

Total of August Whooping Cough Cases Reaches 1,202

Up to 9 a. m. yesterday, 1,202 cases of whooping cough had been reported to the board of health since Aug. 1, compared with 244 in the corresponding period last year. This brought the total for 1938 to 4,054. For the same period in 1937 the total was 2,417. The outbreak of the disease this year is the most severe since 1926, health officials said.

CHICAGO YOUTH DIES IN NEBRASKA AUTO SMASHUP

Harold Rempe, 132 North Parkside avenue, died yesterday in Chadron, Neb., of injuries incurred Monday in an auto accident there, members of his family were informed last night. The youth was 18 years old. His two companions, John Denvir and Arthur Dooley, were injured when their auto overturned on a curve as they were hurrying to reach Chicago in time for Rempe's mother's birthday. They had been on a trip through the Black hills and Yellowstone park.

Mrs. Lewemma Davis, a visitor from Birmingham, Ala., was seriously injured yesterday when the cab in which she was riding collided with a truck at La Salle and Van Buren streets. Mrs. Davis, who is 56 years old, was taken to St. Luke's hospital. The cab was driven by John Harmon, 22 North Halsted street, and the truck by Joseph Rouch, 550 North Dearborn street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 516 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 396 were killed in Chicago, where 12,306 were injured in the same period.

ZIGZAG BUSINESS SENDS DRIVER TO JAIL FOR 5 DAYS

When Roy Holt was in Safety court six weeks ago, he was given probation on condition that he drive his car on business only. Police said it wasn't business when they found him zigzagging at midnight Monday. So Judge John V. McCormick sent him to jail for five days yesterday on a charge of reckless driving. Holt is 33 years old. He lives at 1940 North Leavitt street. Donald Wellwood, 27 years old, of 3523 Monroe street, was sentenced to five days on the same charge. Both men are WPA employés.

Two motorists were fined $100 each yesterday by Justice Thomas W. Barrett of Oak Park for driving while intoxicated. They were Rudolph Kleinick, 45 years old, 1454 Jackson boulevard, and Leroy Davis, 6425 Bloomingdale avenue. Half of Davis' fine was suspended when he agreed not to drive for sixty days.

Shoots Church Camp Head After His Son, 15, Drowns

New Orleans, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Rev. G. Kearnie Keegan of Alexandria, president of the Statewide Baptist encampment, was shot and wounded seriously today at Mandeville, La. Murray McGuire, father of a boy who drowned Saturday, was accused of shooting him. McGuire blamed the minister as head of the encampment for the death of his son, Lawrence McGuire, 15 years old, one of about 500 boys attending.

JUDGE, 17, SLAPS PENALTIES ON 30 BICYCLE RIDERS

Some Fined 25c; Others Must Write Essays.

La Porte, Ind., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—La Porte's Juvenile Trafic court—bringing Mayor Alban M. Smith's novel effort to reduce the bicycle accident toll by young trafic offenders before a judge of their own age—heard thirty cases today.

Prosecutor Freddie Dunham, 12 years old, questioned the long line of defendants. Judge Joseph Daley, 17 years old, imposed penalties ranging from fines of 25 or 50 cents to reporting to the police station periodically and writing essays on trafic safety. Daley also impounded several bicycles for a week.

Raymond Wood, 15 years old, the first offender before the court, admitted he carried a friend on his handlebars. He was ordered to see a safety movie and report to the police station once a week.

SALVATION ARMY TO LET GEN. BOOTH DELAY RETIRING

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The first official confirmation came today of reports that Gen. Evangeline Booth will remain in charge of the Salvation Army ten months after her scheduled retirement Dec. 25 when she will be 73 years old.

A statement issued by Commissioner John McMillan, chief of staf of the Salvation Army, said:

"In response to the widespread appeal made to her to continue in office, Gen. Booth consented to remain until the end of October, 1939, instead of retiring as she had counted upon doing Christmas day next."

In accordance with Army regulations a two-thirds majority of commissioners voted in favor of the general retaining the command another ten months.

Wilmette Policeman Hurt When Cutting Down Tree

Policeman Joseph D. Schmidt, 43 years old, of Wilmette, was seriously injured last night while cutting down a 40 foot elm tree in front of his home at 1411 Elmwood avenue. Three neighbors were aiding Schmidt lower a 15 foot top section. The rope caught his wrist and pulled him under the one-ton log as it fell to the ground. He was taken to the Evanston hospital with thirteen broken ribs, a broken shoulder, and a punctured lung.

Ends Life by Lying Down in Front of Railway Train

Anton Brandner, 55 years old, 2218 North Halsted street, killed himself early today by lying down in front of a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad train east of the Des Plaines river bridge in Riverside. He left a note which read: "Dear Friends: Please forgive me. I am not the guilty one. So I am going away from every one." Police were seeking to learn from friends or relatives what the note might mean.

OBITUARIES

William J. Crane.

Funeral services for William J. Crane, retired glass company executive, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in Our Lady of Mount Carmel church. He died Monday at St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. Crane, who was 72 years old, was president of the American Bottle company of Toledo until it affiliated with the Owens-Illinois Glass company in 1930. Since his retirement he had lived at 3000 Sheridan road. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Johanna Crane, and three daughters, Mrs. J. D. Connell, Mrs. W. R. Carney, and Mrs. Helen Murphy, and two sons, the Rev. Walter O. Crane, S. J., of Chicago, and William H. Crane of Philadelphia.

Dr. Alfred C. Croftan.

Funeral services for Dr. Alfred C. Croftan, retired Chicago specialist in internal medicine, were held yesterday at Pasadena, Cal. Dr. Croftan, who was 67 years old, died there Monday after a brief illness. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbard Croftan, and two daughters, Miss Elizabeth Greer Croftan and Mrs. A. Stevens Halstead Jr., all of Pasadena. Dr. Croftan formerly lived at 233 East Delaware street. He moved to Pasadena after his retirement last fall.

Ona E. McGovney.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Ona E. McGovney, village treasurer and member of the board of education at Mokena, Ill. He formerly was mayor and postmaster. Mokena was founded in 1831 by his great-grandfather, John McGovney. Mr. McGovney was 59 years old. He died Monday in the Illinois Research hospital here. Surviving are his widow, Amanda; a daughter, Elmira, and two sons, Erwin and Elsworth.

The Rev. T. A. Nolan.

COURT DELAYS ALIMONY CASE; NO EMERGENCY

Mrs. Mariah Birkinshaw was the mother-in-law of Edwin O. Schildhauer, Austin High school band leader. He was murdered in 1932. Yesterday that fact had something to do with her failure to win temporary alimony.

"She left her husband shortly after her daughter, Frances, collected $38,000 in life insurace on the death of Schildhauer," said Attorney Robert E. Cantwell Jr., counsel for George Birkinshaw, the husband. "They have been living in good hotels all this time. I don't think it's a matter for the emergency summer session of court."

Judge Peter H. Schwaba didn't think so either. He continued the hearing to Sept. 23. Mrs. Birkinshaw filed suit several weeks ago asking separate maintenance and an accounting of funds in the exterminating company owned by Birkinshaw. She and her daughter operate a dress shop at 44 West Division street.

FREE JEWISH BOY AND GIRL SEIZED AS BUS BOMBERS

JERUSALEM, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Two Jewish children were acquitted by a military court today of terrorist charges. They were Rachel Koka, 13 years old, and Israel Mishali, 17.

The girl was accused of carrying a bomb which killed four Arabs and wounded 36 in a bus explosion here Aug. 7. The boy was charged with hurling it. The court discharged them without calling on the defense. The death penalty would not have been applicable to them since they are under 18 years of age.

The conflict of Jews and Arabs continued to take its toll of lives. An Arab constable was killed in an ambush of a freight train between Jerusalem and Lydda. A British army captain was killed when his motor car was blown up by a land mine near Nathanya, on the central coastal plain.

AMERICAN AMONG 3 ASSASSINATED IN COSTA RICA

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Police patroled the streets tonight and officers carrying carbines guarded the presidential palace after attacks in which three persons, including one American, were assassinated.

The disorders began when an unidentified assailant attacked the residence of Deputy Ricardo Moreno Canas. He fired three shots, killing the deputy. Simultaneously another assault caused the death of Dr. Carlos Manuel Chandi, and an American, H. Maynard.

The assassin of Deputy Canas was caught in a pursuit which resulted in the injury of three other persons. A crowd attempted to lynch the prisoner.

FARMER CHOPS TREE; WINDMILL FALL KILLS HIM

William Mathes lost his life yesterday while chopping down a tree which had been blown against the windmill on his farm five miles southwest of Joliet near Channahon. Unknown to Mathes, the heavy tree had knocked the mill off balance. Only the tree was keeping it from falling. When he had chopped through the trunk, the mill toppled over. In his panic, Mathes ran the wrong way. The top of the mill fell upon him, breaking his skull.

Mr. Baker Completes His Brief Career as Deputy

Sycamore, Ill., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Blain Baker of Genoa, who only a few days ago was sworn in as a De Kalb county deputy sherif at the request of Izaak Walton league members of his community, lost his star today. Arrested on a charge of drunken driving, he was arraigned in County court, where Judge W. H. McEwen fined him $100 and costs and forbade him to drive for six months. Sherif O. N. Larson took his star.

FIND RESTAURANT EXECUTIVE DEAD OF HEART ATTACK

Anthony C. Shepanek, vice president and general manager of Pixley & Ehlers, the restaurant chain, was found dead yesterday in a room at 679 North Clark street. A heart attack was believed responsible.

Mr. Shepanek left his home at 803 Michigan avenue, Wilmette, Monday evening, ostensibly to drive a servant to a train. When he did not report to his office at 64 East Lake street yesterday morning his home was called. His daughter then reported to Wilmette police that he was missing.

He was found lying on a bed by an attendant of a bath house that occupies the basement of the Clark street premises. Police learned he had arrived at the place shortly after 9 p. m. Monday.

He is survived by his widow, Mary; twin sons, Edwin and Leonard, 19 years old, and two daughters, Felicia and Mrs. Genevieve Ulis.

ROOSEVELT MAY PUT EICHER ON SEC AS REWARD

Iowa Democrat to Probe Monopoly.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—President Roosevelt plans to reward Representative Edward C. Eicher [D., Ia.], an administration supporter, with an appointment to the Securities and Exchange commission, it was learned tonight on good authority

He will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John W. Hanes, now assistant secretary of the treasury. Eicher is a "lame duck" congressman and long known as a 100 per cent Roosevelt follower.

Renominated in the Iowa primary on June 6 Eicher later withdrew from the race. He said he withdrew in order to concentrate on the monopoly probe by a joint congressional and executive committee, of which he is a member.

Only Committee "Stalwart."

Of six congressmen appointed to the committee, he was the only one wholly adhering to Roosevelt policies. Observers here granted that a loyal performance in the monopoly probe would please the President and keep Eicher in the administration's employ.

Eicher drew national attention as contact man for the President in the administration's first purge attempt, the Iowa primary, which resulted in defeat for the President.

In that election Senator Guy M. Gillette, first man on the "purge" list, won a smashing 2 to 1 victory for renomination on the Democratic race against Representative Otha B. Wearin, supported by the administration.

Eicher first drew the President into the campaign. He announced from the White House steps, after a conference with the President, that "the surest way to support the President is to vote for Otha Wearin."

Hopkins Also Takes Hand.

It also was in the Gillette-Wearin contest that Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, intervened personally with the remark that if he were a voter in Iowa he "would vote for Wearin."

Gillette was marked for defeat because of his opposition to the President's court packing program, considered the administration's acid test of fidelity.

Eicher was appointed to the monopoly committee on June 16. With six administration officials on the committee of twelve, Eicher would hold the balance of power in case of opposition by the other five congressmen.

Aware of this and the possible reward, he withdrew from the congressional race on July 2, saying: "I am filing my withdrawal as candidate for reëlection in order to devote my entire time to the preliminary work of the monopoly committee."

First Elected in 1932.

Eicher was first elected to congress in 1932 and reëlected to each succeeding congress. In 1936, however, his margin was slim, amounting to 2,247 votes out of 109,468 votes cast in his district.

He was born near Noble, Ia., and is a graduate of the University of Chicago. He is a lawyer.

In connection with the monopoly probe, a high official of the Securities and Exchange commission tonight denied that the SEC plans to use subpena powers to get information.

Earlier today, Leon Henderson, executive secretary of the government monopoly investigating committee, was quoted as saying the first committee subpenas for records of business concerns would be issued soon.

A subcommittee, consisting of Representative Eicher, Representative Hatton W. Sumners [D., Tex.], and Chairman William O. Douglas of the SEC, was given the power to issue subpenas.

Wide Range of Subpenas.

Officials engaged in the study were also reported as saying that subpenas would be issued for individuals and a wide variety of records, books, correspondence and other information sought by field investigators of six government departments represented on the monopoly committee.

It was reported that insurance, steel and oil companies were expected to be named in the first subpenas, some of which may be issued within the next ten days. The report caused considerable alarm among business concerns that might be affected. The SEC has been assigned the study on insurance companies.

"All of the government departments have subpena powers, but the SEC does not intend to use them," said the SEC official tonight. "We are willing to work on a voluntary, coöperative basis. We have never had any trouble in getting records and other information voluntarily."

May Quiz Insurance Firms.

The SEC plans to send a questionnaire to insurance companies some time after Sept. 15. This form will ask for specific information on control and financial setups. Of course, the official explained, where any gaps appear in the information sought, subpena powers may be resorted to in "filling the holes."

Issuance of subpenas usually has a frightening effect. But the official pointed out that some witnesses prefer to be subpenaed. They get their expenses paid.

Monopoly committee members have expressed the opinion that the subpenas would be a "formality," contending that they also have not experienced any difficulty by committee investigators in obtaining records from any business firm.

Truck Lines and Drivers Reach Terms

A preliminary labor agreement affecting approximately 250,000 highway truck drivers employed by some 2,000 companies in the central part of the country was signed in Chicago yesterday.

J. L. Keeshin, head of trucking employers.

The agreement was signed by a committee representing seventeen of the major highway operators and is binding on this group. For labor it was signed by officials of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, an American Federation of Labor union. These two groups will present the agreement later to other truck operators and to representatives of local unions.

The truck operators and the unions have been meeting in Chicago for several weeks in an effort to reach an agreement on wages and working hours and conditions.

Terms of Agreement Withheld.

Representatives of both groups yesterday refused to disclose the terms of the agreement, saying they were being reserved for the larger meetings to be held soon.

However, it was reported that the agreement provides for a maximum work week of 60 hours, for minimum runs of 150 miles round trip—75 miles in each direction—2¾ cents a mile base pay and 75 cents an hour for loading and unloading during road trips.

The meeting with the truck operators will be held at 10 a. m., Aug. 31. The union committee will present the agreement to representatives of all the local unions involved at a meeting in Indianapolis, Ind., at 10 a. m., Sept. 7.

Agreement Covers Wide Area.

The area covered by the agreement includes Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and the territory contiguous to the south bank of the Ohio river between Portsmouth, O., and Paducah, Ky., and extending to Kansas City, Kas.

The operators and the unions have been attempting to arrive at a more stable condition of wages and hours. Nearly every town and city throughout the area, it was said, has had different standards.

DUBBS PROCESS ROYALTY CUT BY UNIVERSAL OIL

Universal Oil Products company yesterday announced a reduction from 10 cents to 5 cents a barrel in the royalty rate on its patented Dubbs cracking process. The process, used by about sixty American oil refiners, "cracks" crude oil to produce gasoline. The reduced royalty will take effect Oct. 1.

The gasoline yield is now about 60 per cent, or 24 gallons from a barrel [42 gallons] of crude oil. Licensed refiners now paying the royalty will save about 2-10 of a cent on each gallon of gasoline produced.

In explaining the reduction, the company said that increased use of the cracking process, success in the protection of the company's patent structure, and "belief that our licenses will make greater use of our processes" had encouraged the rate cut.

ILLINOIS BELL REPORTS GAIN IN PHONE STATIONS

The number of telephones in use in Chicago has increased this month for the first month since March, the Illinois Bell Telephone company reported yesterday. Losses or gains in telephone connections are regarded as an index of the trend of business.

A total of 943,543 telephones were in use in the city on Aug. 19, a gain of 254 over the 943,289 stations in use on July 29. The company lost 771 stations in July, 1,220 in June, 685 in May, and 3,210 in April. The gain in March was 229 stations and the number of telephones in use at the end of that month was 949,175, roughly the peak since the depression.

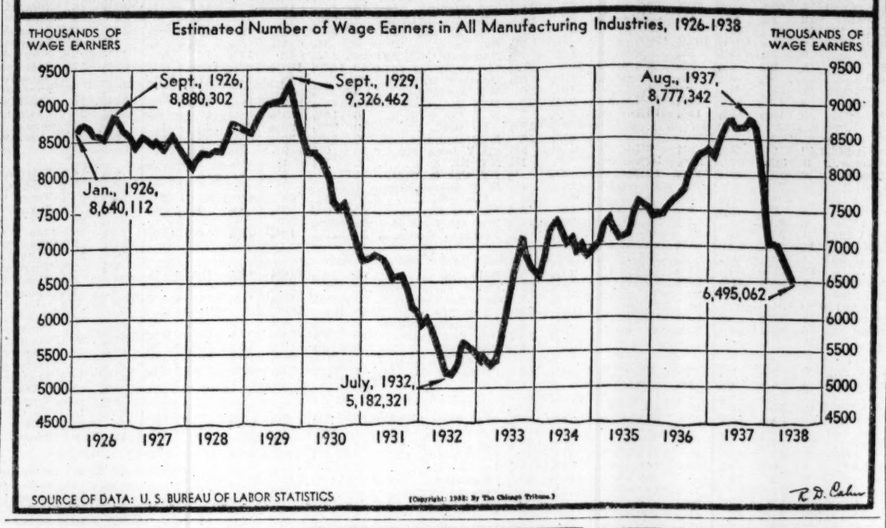
Three and One-half Million Got Jobs Back—Then 2¼ Million Lost Them



Glove Maker Moves Office to Chicago

Executive offices of the Wells Lamont Smith corporation, one of the largest manufacturers of workers' gloves in the country, have been moved from Minneapolis to Chicago, W. O. Wells, president, disclosed yesterday. The company's new Chicago offices occupy the entire sixth floor of the building at the southeast corner of Clark and Howard streets, just across the street from Evanston.

Five Plants in Middle West.

The company was founded thirty years ago in Aberdeen, South Dakota. Its main offices have been located in Minneapolis for twenty-three years. It has five factories located in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri and a tannery in South Milwaukee. It employs about 1,500 workers.

About thirty-five executives and employés and their families were moved from Minneapolis to Chicago, the combined number being about 100 persons.

"We moved to Chicago to be near the center of things," Wells said. "Our location is ideal for us. It enables our executives to drive to their homes along the north shore in but a few minutes."

Building New Plant.

Wells said that the company's factories have been operating at full time all through this year. A new plant is now being built at New London, Ia., and its plant at Beardstown, Ill., near Springfield, is being doubled in size. Business is good, Wells declared.

The company makes both lether and fabric gloves for workers which retail at from 10 cents to $1 a pair. Last year the company made about 18,000,000 pairs of gloves.

TEXAS HALTS OIL FROM MEXICO; CLAIM TAX DODGE

Houston, Tex., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—C. V. Terrell, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, which includes the oil and gas division, today canceled tenders on a shipment of 100,000 barrels of Mexican oil to Houston, which was consigned to the Eastern States Petroleum company. He said the so-called "crude" proved to be crude tops, testing 40 plus gravity, with a gasoline recovery of more than 66 per cent. Average gravity of Mexican crude is around 20.

The import tax on Mexican crude oil is ½ cent a gallon. The tax on Mexican gasoline is 2½ cents a gallon. Terrell termed the attempted importation of crude tops under the guise of crude oil "an outrage."

He added that another shipment of 200,000 barrels was forecast for import at the port of Houston and that if it proved to be crude tops also the railroad commission would refuse tenders again.

EIGHT RAILWAYS REPORT INCOME BELOW YEAR AGO

Net operating income of the first eight railroads to report for July declined 38.8 per cent from the amount for July, 1937. Gross revenues showed a decline of 17.7 per cent from July, 1937.

The Norfolk and Western's July net income was $1,576,139, a decrease of $726,011 from July, 1937. Per share earnings were $1.07 for July, 1938, and $1.58 for July, 1937. For the first seven months of 1938 net income was $6,092,618, a decrease of $12,112,452 from the 1937 period. Per share earnings were $3.95, against $12.56.

July net operating income of the Reading company was $647,095, compared with $1,053,300 for July, 1937.

Net income is income after payment of bond interest and other fixed charges. Net operating income is income before payment of bond interest.

I. T. & T. Reports Record in Long Distance Calls

New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Eight major telephone operating subsidiaries of International Telephone and Telegraph corporation handled 1,500,000 more long distance calls in the first six months of 1938 than in the first half of 1937, the previous peak period, the company announced today. The I. T. and T. announced recently an increase of 34,816 telephones in the first half of 1938, or 4,400 more than during the first half of 1937.

NATIONAL TEA SALES FALL 16 PER CENT BEHIND YEAR AGO

Stores of the National Tea company sold 16.2 per cent less goods in the four weeks ended Aug. 13 than in the corresponding period a year ago, executives said yesterday. During the thirty-two weeks ended on the same date sales were 12.6 per cent lower than in the like 1937 weeks.

Sales in the four weeks ended Aug. 13 amounted to $3,874,808, compared with $4,623,972 a year ago. Sales for the thirty-two weeks were $34,099,690, against $39,029,936 in 1937. On Aug. 13 the company had 1,108 stores in operation, compared with 1,244 on the same day last year. Thus in the four weeks ended Aug. 13 there was a decline of 6.08 per cent in average sales per location compared with last year.

Kroger Grocery and Baking company sales in the four weeks ended Aug. 13 totaled $16,222,849, 9.8 per cent less than the sales of $17,986,726 reported in the corresponding 1937 period. Sales in the thirty-two weeks ended on the same date amounted to $141,216,312, against $154,779,812 last year, a decline of 8.8 per cent.

RAIL MEDIATORS MEET BOTH SIDES IN WAGE DISPUTE

The national mediation board yesterday continued its efforts to settle the wage dispute between railroad management and railroad labor. The unions are resisting an effort by the railroads to cut the wages of their 929,000 workers by 15 per cent.

The board is to meet at 10 o'clock this morning at the Drake hotel with the Carriers' Joint Conference committee, headed by H. A. Enochs. The next meeting will be at 10 a. m. tomorrow with the eighteen unions represented by the Railway Labor Executives' association, of which George M. Harrison is chairman. At 2 p. m. tomorrow the board will meet with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

J. A. Phillips, vice chairman of the railway labor executives, announced yesterday that the general chairmen of the eighteen railroad brotherhoods have been summoned to a meeting in Chicago on Aug. 29 to discuss the progress of the mediation proceedings. Mediation was started after the railroads and the unions had failed to reach an agreement in direct negotiations.

PLAN OF MIDLAND UTILITIES GIVEN HEARING BY SEC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—Hearings opened today before the Securities and Exchange commission on the amended plan of reorganization for Midland Utilities company of Chicago. Today's session was occupied with the entering of exhibits by Attorney Leonard B. Ettelson, Chicago, counsel for the debenture holders committee, which submitted the reorganization plan.

Several witnesses were called to identify the documents entered as exhibits. The witnesses included Attorney M. B. Kennedy, Chicago, counsel for the trustees of the company, and Dean H. Mitchell, Hammond, Ind., vice president and general manager of Northern Indiana Public Service company.

The preliminary hearings will last several days and then an adjournment to Sept. 12 is expected.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

Amsterdam, Aug. 23.—The embargo on two lighters carrying Mexican petroleum and seized in the harbor at Bordrecht on Aug. 13 on demand of the Mexican Eagle Oil company was lifted today. A local court decided the proprietary rights claimed by Mexican Eagle had not been entirely proved. The court held the company had failed to prove conclusively that the seized oil was derived from their expropriated fields. Mexican Eagle is appealing the case.

Board of Trade Approves Mutual Investment Listing

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday approved the application of Mutual Investment Fund to list its $10 par value certificates. The listing is subject to release from registration with the Securities and Exchange commission. The fund now has issued and outstanding 225,305 certificates. Additional certificates up to 500,000 are to be admitted on notice of issuance.

Unit of U. S. Utility Seized by Costa Rica

BY EMILIO ROBERT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 23.—President Don Leon Cortes today approved a measure authorizing the government to expropriate properties of the Electric Bond and Share company. On Aug. 10 congress passed the measure. The vote was 40 to 1.

President Cortes.

A congressional commission which approved the proposal prior to the congressional action, reported that expropriation was the only means of terminating difficulties over unification of contracts. New rate schedules extend until 1980 under these contracts, said the commission. The national electric board and the company have had a number of disputes.

Fostered by Communists.

The expropriation proposal first was sponsored by communist legislators.

The concern to be affected by the measure is the Costa Rica Electric Light and Traction Company, Ltd., which is owned by American and Foreign Power, an affiliate in Electric Bond and Share. Its assets are $3,300,000. The company serves San José and thirty-two other communities near by.

The bill as passed by congress provided that a loan may be negotiated to pay indemnity for the expropriation.

CONTROLS UTILITIES ABROAD.

American and Foreign Power, which is controlled by Electric Bond and Share, in turn controls a number of utility companies operating abroad. Its Costa Rica operations are among its smallest.

In 1935 the company had a controversy with the Chilean government, which charged that the company's operating subsidiary had violated Chilean laws regarding shipments of foreign exchange out of the country. This was settled when Chile agreed to cancel a $2,100,000 fine and to permit foreign exchange shipments. On its side American and Foreign Power's subsidiary agreed to a consolidation of all its operations into one company in Chile and to establish a board of directors of 11 members of which 7 would be Chileans.

FREIGHT TRAFIC BEST OF YEAR ON SOU. PACIFIC

Revenue freight trafic of the Southern Pacific railroad was heavier during the week ended Aug. 20 than in any other week since that of Nov. 6, 1937, officials of the road said yesterday. The carrier loaded 36,525 freight cars in the week, compared with 35,483 in the preceding week and 44,487 in the corresponding 1937 period.

Rail circles said yesterday that the fall upturn in industrial freight trafic apparently is beginning several weeks early this year. Important eastern railroads have shown a gain in this type of trafic for three successive weeks.

Car loadings of the railroads which reported yesterday follow:

Believe New Fords May Have Hydraulic Brakes

Detroit, Aug. 23.—[Special.]—It was indicated today that the Ford Motor Company will use hydraulic brakes instead of mechanical brakes on its 1939 line of automobiles. The Ford company this week has given several suppliers orders to proceed with the tooling and installation of machinery necessary to make hydraulic brakes. It is reported that no contracts have been signed, but the suppliers were given specific purchase orders and told to proceed with their tooling. Although it seems that Ford this year will abandon the mechanical brakes, this like almost all other Ford new model details is subject to last minute revision.

FRENCH MONEY FIRMS ON SHIFT IN LABOR POLICY

The international value of French currency increased moderately on dealings yesterday on the foreign exchange market. The franc advanced 0.00 5-16 to 2.73 11-16 cents after Premier Daladier announced that the government must modify its economic policies.

Daladier's stand against the forty hour week in France, which threatens to bring about a cabinet crisis, was apparently regarded with favor outside of the country.

Other currencies showed little change in terms of the dollar. The British pound declined 1-16 cent to $4.88 1-16. Belgian and Swiss currencies closed higher.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported the engagement of an additional $2,025,000 gold in England for shipment to this country.

300 British Industrialists Will Tour U. S. Steel Plants

New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—American Iron and Steel institute announced today a group of 300 British industrialists will make an extensive tour of principal steel producing centers in the United States in October. They will be the guests of the institute and the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

WAR DEPARTMENT. Office of the Constructing Quartermaster, Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill. Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12:00 Noon, Central Standard Time, September 2, 1938, and then publicly opened, for the Furnishing and Erecting a 300,000-Gallon Elevated Steel Tank, Piping and Accessories at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois. Plans and specifications will be furnished upon receipt of certified check for twenty-five dollars ($25.00), made payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

STOCKS CLIMB; MOTOR SHARES FURNISH POWER

List Gains Steadily Throughout Day.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 23.—With automobile shares taking the lead, the stock market moved up almost steadily during the five hour trading session today. Gains of 1 point or more were common in the industrial list, with several issues advancing more than 3 points. Rails and utilities showed some strength, but few moved up as much as a point.

There was nothing sensational about the advance, large as it was. It seemed methodical, almost monotonous. Trading volume—1,075,810 shares—was more than double that of yesterday's dull session. But activity was well spread.

Motor Leaders Set New High.

The spark that set off the rally, however, was a better feeling in the automobile industry. With dealer stocks reduced and plans set for extensive retooling expenditures, manufacturers have turned optimistic.

Chrysler crossed 75 and finished up 3⅛ points at 75⅝. General Motors came within ¼ of touching 50, and closed up 2 points at 49½. Both were at new highs for the year.

Auto accessory securities were almost as strong as their big brothers, the motors. Briggs, Borg-Warner, Bohn, Houdaille-Hershey A, and Libby-Owens-Ford were up 1 to 3 points. Others in this group advanced good sized fractions.

Influenced by auto optimism and with rubber leading commodity prices up, the rubber group was another strong spot in the market. Goodyear, Firestone, and United States Rubber moved up more than a point each.

Building Shares Prominent.

Building shares also were prominent. Johns-Manville spurted 3 points. United States Gypsum was up 1¾. Also up a point or more were American Radiator, Crane, Masonite, Armstrong Cork, Barber Asphalt, and Celotex. National Gypsum and Certain-teed preferred reached new 1938 highs.

Although slow to join in the upswing, steels vied with motors for leadership late in the day. The belated move carried Bethlehem up 2 points, Youngstown and Crucible gained 2¼ each, and Inland was up 3¼. Bethlehem passed United States Steel, which fell back half a point from its best mark of the day to close at 59⅞, for a gain of 1⅛. Republic was up ⅞.

Chemicals had a good day after their slight setback yesterday. Du Pont rose to a new 1938 high of 135 and closed at 133¾ for a gain of 3½ points. Monsanto gained 2¾. Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, American Agricultural Chemical, and Union Carbide advanced 1 to 2 or more points.

Wright Aero Spurts.

Aviations were led by the volatile Wright Aero, which spurted 5¾. Douglas was up 2 and Boeing gained 1. Montgomery Ward and Sears-Roebuck each got up more than a point, and other merchandising shares firmed. Western Union jumped 2⅜. Westinghouse was up 1½.

Oil shares to show gains to a point or more included Texas corporation, Skelly, and Amerada. Among the metals Kennecott, Anaconda, Howe Sound, and American Smelting scored gains of 1 to 2 points.

Santa Fe and Union Pacific were among the few railroad stocks to get up as much as a full point. Peoples Gas and Consolidated Gas were among the few to do likewise among utility common stocks.

Berlin Market Breaks Again.

BERLIN, Aug. 23. — The boerse opened irregularly, fluctuating within narrow limits, and then broke badly before the close. Losses of two to three points for the day in principal issues were not uncommon.

Farm Income Drop Worries Crop Planners

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Despite five years of administration planning to raise farm prices and farm income, the administration today is face to face with an agricultural situation identical with that which gave birth to the AAA in 1933.

Crop surpluses, which the original AAA set out to conquer through farm subsidies for killing pigs and plowing under fertile acres, have brought a sharp drop in farm prices and farm income. The general depression has aided in making the drop more swift.

Including government benefits, farm cash income in the first six months of this year was estimated at only 3 billion 341 million dollars by the bureau of agricultural economics—a cut of 12.7 per cent below the income for the same period last year.

Billion Dollar Drop in Income.

Bureau estimates of farm income for the full year were 7½ billion dollars, or 1 billion 100 million less than in 1937.

Wheat and cotton, the one making a near record 956 million bushel crop and the other running up a 13,400,000

Cotton, selling at around 8.25 cents a pound [against 9.16 cents a pound in October, 1933], has fallen to a level which makes cotton loans to farmers mandatory under the farm act. The drop in wheat prices made wheat loans mandatory last month. The AAA has announced that distribution of 127 million dollars in price adjustment payments on 1937 cotton will begin in September.

58 Cents Corn Loans Expected.

Indications are that a corn loan program will be necessary in November, at the rate of about 58 cents a bushel. Although farmers were asked to plant 20 per cent less corn this year, the outlook is for a crop only 30,000,000 bushels less than the farm act fixed as excessive.

Administration concern at the situation was evidenced by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace's weekend visit to Hyde Park and his efforts to work out a wheat export subsidy agreement with Canada.

Both the wheat subsidy plan, contemplating subsidized export of 100,000,000 bushels, and the new cotton loan program were due for announcement this week.

Dollars Buy 6 Per cent More.

Farmers drew some consolation from bureau of agricultural economics reports that the purchasing power of the farm dollar, in terms of commodities the farmer buys, is 6 per cent higher than last year.

Despite extraordinary AAA efforts to hold up prices and hold down output, serious surplus problems are faced in other farm commodities, including potatoes and dairy products.

Americans Buying Fewer Diamonds, Holland Reports

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Dutch rough diamond imports during the first half of the year totaled 3,400,000 guilders in value, against 10,000,000 a year ago. Cut diamond exports to America were 1,800,000 guilders, against 8,800,000 last year.

BUTTER SLUMPS; FEDERAL BUYING VIEWED FUTILE

Traders Doubt Plan Will Succeed.

Butter futures incurred the sharpest break of the year yesterday, breaking 1⅝ cents a pound on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. A feeble rally late in the session regained ⅜ cent of the loss, but closing prices were still a full cent below Monday's closing level. November contracts finished at 23¼ cents after slumping to 22⅞, lowest price for November since 1933. The turnover of 4,473,600 pounds was largest of the year.

The decline, according to traders, resulted from belief that the government's "ever normal granary" program to stabilize butter prices will not work, because supplies are too heavy to permit price maintenance even with government support. A contributing factor to the market break was the exchange's raising of butter margin requirements to customers from $300 to $400 a contract [19,200 pounds], effective yesterday.

Some Distress Selling.

The price drop, equal to $264 a contract at the low for the day, and the higher margin requirements brought some "distress selling" from customers with insufficient margin.

Although futures broke wide open, the cash market was held unchanged yesterday by purchases of 2,180,000 pounds of butter by the federally financed Dairy Products Marketing association.

Including yesterday's purchases the DPMA has bought about 53,000,000 pounds in the nation's markets. It is authorized to purchase up to 75,000,000 pounds. This includes the second buying program announced Saturday, calling for 25,000,000 pounds in addition to the 50,000,000 pounds previously purchased. Traders had predicted that the second program would have to call for 50,000,000 to hold the market.

Foresee End of Buying.

Traders said yesterday it was apparent that the government, having already authorized loans of nearly $20,000,000 to buy the butter, will not keep pouring in funds for the purpose indefinitly. They pointed out, also, that with only 22,000,000 pounds more to buy the DPMA at the present rate will have used the limit of its funds in about two weeks and the artificial price structure then will collapse.

The trade belief that this collapse will take place was reflected in the price of November futures. Because of the carrying and storage charge involved futures normally sell fractions of a cent higher than the cash price. Yesterday, however, November futures around 23 cents were 2 cents cheaper than the same grade [90 score] in the cash market. This "inverted market" is a prediction that cash butter will be cheaper in November.

Consumers Fail to Benefit.

Because of the artificial stabilization of cash prices consumers do not at present benefit from the break in futures. But they may get cheaper butter later. Normally a seasonal rise in butter prices takes place in the fall after the peak production season of June and July. This year the trend will apparently be contraseasonal.

Butter prices now are about 7 cents lower than they were a year ago.

Butter stocks as of Aug. 20 were estimated yesterday by the New York Produce review at 197,200,000 pounds, the largest in the country's history. Moreover, butter receipts at Chicago and New York yesterday totaled 3,350,000 pounds, which compared with an average of only 2,783,000 pounds in June, when production was at a peak.

Heavier shipments to the big markets are being made to take advantage of the government's offering price.

New York Bonds.

New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Secondary rails led a general advance in the bond market today with most groups showing net gains at the close. Volume was $5,121,450, face value, largest since Aug. 12, and comparing with $3,429,800 yesterday.

Southern Railway liens were among the chief gainers, aided by news that the interstate commerce commission had approved a loan to the road from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The 6½s were up 3½, the general 6s climbed 2½, and the 4s were up 1⅜. Other rail gainers of two points or more included Alleghany 5s, Illinois Central 4¾s, Southern Pacific 4½s, and Hocking Valley 4½s.

Industrials were mixed, although some favorites gained two points or more, including Studebaker 6s and Certain-teed 5½s. Republic Steel 4½s were down 1¾.

United States governments closed 5-32ds of a point lower to 2-32ds higher.

Chicago Stocks.

Led by Bendix Aviation and Borg-Warner, which made new 1938 highs, Chicago stocks advanced yesterday to their highest level in two weeks. THE TRIBUNE average of twenty stocks finished at 11.51, highest close since Aug. 8. Volume increased to 34,000 shares from 16,000 on the preceding day.

Bendix spurted to 24⅛ and closed at 24, up ⅝. Borg-Warner reached a top of 34¼ before easing to 34, up 1½ at the close. Zenith Radio jumped 1⅞ to 22½, and Marshall Field advanced ⅝ to 13¼. Houdaille Hershey B gained ⅝ to 15½, and Great Lakes Dredge was up ¼ at 20½.

Trading in Commonwealth Edison company's $50,208,745 convertible 3½ per cent debentures of 1958 and 10,041,749 Edison rights to subscribe for debentures is expected to start tomorrow. Trading, which will be on a "when issued" basis, is subject to registration, becoming effective under the securities exchange act of 1934. The exchange has approved the listing.

The exchange also has approved the application of Commonwealth Edison to list 2,008,350 additional shares of capital stock and $33,000,000 par value additional first mortgage bonds. 3½ per cent, series I, due June 1, 1968.

COM. EDISON BOND ISSUE OFFERED AT 103½ TOMORROW

33 Millions Will Be Sold by Nation-Wide Syndicate

Offering price of the $33,000,000 of Commonwealth Edison company 3½ per cent bonds scheduled to be marketed tomorrow will be 103½. The company yesterday filed an amended statement with the Securities and Exchange commission at Washington giving the offering price. The bonds will be marketed by a nation-wide syndicate headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.

Offering made early this summer of a like amount of bonds by the Commonwealth Edison company was made at a price of 102¼. These bonds have been quoted recently at 104½ to 105, although they have sold higher. The higher offering price for the current $33,000,000 issue, which matures in 1968, will increase the net proceeds to the company.

Reduces Interest Costs.

The offering is being made in connection with Commonwealth Edison's big program of refinancing to simplify its corporate structure and to reduce interest charges.

Offering of $10,000,000 of 4½ per cent debentures of the Crucible Steel company at 99¼ will be made today by a group headed by Hallgarten & Co. The debentures will be due in 1948.

Offering price of the proposed issue of $20,000,000 3½ per cent convertible debentures of the Lone Star Gas corporation, due 1953, will be 102, the SEC was informed yesterday.

Pillsbury Plans Refinancing.

Stockholders of Pillsbury Flour Mills company at the annual meeting on Sept. 13 will be asked to act upon a proposal to authorize a new mortgage. They will be asked to pledge all or substantially all or any part of the property and assets as security for an authorized bond issue not to exceed $7,500,000. Stockholders will be asked to authorize the board of directors to fix the terms of the bond issue.

The funds from the new issue would be used in part to refund a presently outstanding issue of $4,317,000 of twenty year 6 per cent bonds maturing Oct. 1, 1943.

Directors plan to issue $6,000,000 principal amount of new fifteen year bonds for retiring of the old bonds and securing additional working capital. Accordingly, the directors are negotiating for the sale of $6,000,000 of the proposed bond issue at a rate not in excess of 4 per cent per year.

Rayonier, Inc.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information regarding the Rayonier, Inc., stocks? Are there any bonds outstanding?—W. L.

Answer: Rayonier, Inc., was organized last year under Delaware laws to acquire all the assets and business of three pulp companies on the Pacific coast. The companies acquired were the Rainier Pulp and Paper company and its wholly owned subsidiary, the Shaffer Pulp Company, Inc.; the Olympic Forest Products company, and the Grays Harbor Pulp and Paper company.

The merger was effective as of Oct. 31, 1937. The company is chiefly engaged in the manufacture of bleached sulphite pulp, with production of sulphite printing and writing paper a secondary source of income. The pulp is used in manufacturing rayon yarn, cellophane, and for conversion into various other cellulose products. One of the problems facing the new company is reluctance of Japan to authorize import permits. The bulk of the dissolving pulp produced by Rayonier has been sold to Japan.

The new company reported net income for the six months ended April 30, 1938, of $1,097,809, or 49 cents a common share. Predecessor companies' combined net income in the six months ended Oct. 31, 1937, was $2,285,866. Combined net for the year ended April 30, 1937, was $2,243,320.

Total assets were $28,152,019 on April 30, 1938. Current assets amounted to $5,330,325 and current liabilities were $4,294,406. President Mills stated in the annual report that the company would probably have to do some additional financing for completion of a new plant at Ferandina, Fla. The company had notes payable to banks totaling $4,000,000 on April 30. Capital stock consists of 626,204 shares of $2 preferred stock of $25 par value and 963,872 shares of $1 par common stock outstanding.

Polish Marks.

Investor's Guide. I have 10,000 Polish marks. Can you tell me what they are worth now?—J. J.

Answer: The Polish mark ceased to be legal tender as of June 30, 1924. The zloty is now the Polish monetary unit, valued at about 18.87 cents in United States money at present. The paper marks were for a short period convertible into zloty at the rate of 1,800,000 marks for one zloty. Silver marks have a small value with coin collectors, but the paper marks are now worthless.

GREAT LAKES DREDGE ELECTS GEN. MARKHAM AS NEW PRESIDENT

The Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company yesterday announced the election of Maj. Gen. Edward H. Markham as president of the company. He succeeds John R. Williams, who has resigned because of ill health.

Maj. Gen. Edward H. Markham.

Gen. Markham was chief of the engineering corps of the army from 1933 to 1937. His army service included many years of nonmilitary assignments on river and harbor work in the Great Lakes and Atlantic coast territories. He retired as chief of the army engineers last October, when he was 60 years old. He has been commissioner of public works of New York City since then.

Great Lakes Dredge and Dock, organized in 1905, is a $15,000,000 concern. The company does river and harbor construction work, building foundations, piers, breakwaters, and bridges and similar projects.

GRAIN MARKETS UP IN SYMPATHY WITH STOCKS

Wheat Futures Gain ¼ to ⅜ Cent.

Strength in securities aided sentiment in grain markets yesterday. A small decline in wheat and corn futures early was followed by a rally of about 1 cent a bushel from the low point on buying believed induced by the upturn in stocks.

Although the best prices were not maintained, wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade closed with net gains of ¼ to ⅜ cent. Corn was ⅛ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher, the September delivery lagging.

Speculative interest in grain was small. Some brokers estimated sales of all futures were less than the turnover of 17,965,000 bushels on Monday.

Reports from Liverpool indicating the pending American-British trade agreement might provide for a temporary removal of the import duty of 6 cents on American wheat were largely responsible for a decline of ½ to ¾ cent a bushel in the English market. No export sales of either American or Canadian grain were reported. Winnipeg wheat futures closed ¼ to ⅜ cent lower.

Oats showed fair strength and closed ⅛ to ¼ cent a bushel higher. Choice quality cash oats sell at large premiums over the September future in the sample market and hedging sales have been limited. Rye was ⅜ to ⅝ cent a bushel higher.

SPERRY REPORTS SHARP RISE IN 1ST HALF PROFIT

Commonwealth & Southern Earnings Decline.

Sperry corporation, maker of aeronautical, marine, and military instruments, yesterday reported sharply higher earnings for the first half of this year compared with the 1937 first half profit.

Most other companies issuing interim statements showed lower earnings. These included Commonwealth and Southern corporation, National Power and Light company, Servel, Inc., and South American Gold and Platinum company. A drop in profits for the fiscal year ended July 31 was reported by Froedtert Grain and Malting company, Greenfield, Wis.

Profit Is $1.05 a Share.

Net income of Sperry corporation and subsidiaries for the six months ended June 30 amounted to $2,107,779, equal to $1.05 a common share. This compared with profit of $1,370,467, or 68 cents a share, in the 1937 first half. The company's plants are in the east and in London, England.

Commonwealth and Southern's July net income was $546,092, against $781,571 in July, 1937. This brought the profit for the first seven months of this year to $6,122,380, compared with $8,904,568 in the first seven months of last year.

National Power and Light company's June quarter consolidated net profit amounted to $1,742,842, against $2,128,093 in the second quarter of last year. Operating revenues were a shade higher, at $20,491,735, compared with $20,452,268 in 1937.

Servel Earnings Fall.

Servel, Inc., maker of refrigerators at Evansville, Ind., reported net income of $595,252 for the quarter ended July 31. This compared with $603,184 in the preceding quarter and $2,158,946 in the July, 1937, quarter. For the nine months ended July 31 profit fell to $1,231,619 from $4,451,375 in the nine months ended July 31, 1937.

Net income of Froedtert Grain and Malting slipped to $900,742 in the fiscal year ended July 31, compared with $1,109,390 in the preceding fiscal year. Net sales for the year totaled $10,496,734, against $11,749,309 in the preceding year. The company's current assets on July 31 amounted to $3,029,354, including cash of $359,997. Current liabilities were $579,252.

REMINGTON RAND ORDERS 20 CENT INTERIM PAYMENT

June Quarter Profit Is $93,152.

An interim dividend of 20 cents a share was declared yesterday on the common stock of Remington Rand, Inc., parent corporation of the Remington Typewriter company and more than twenty-five other subsidiaries. The payment will be made Oct. 1 to stockholders of record Sept. 9.

A similar interim dividend was paid July 1. On March 25 Remington Rand paid 25 cents a common share and in 1937 a total of $1.05.

The net income of the corporation in the quarter ended June 30 was $93,152. This was equal to 50 cents a share on the 184,931 shares of $4.50 preferred stock outstanding. It compares with net profit in the similar 1937 quarter of $1,470,168, equal after preferred dividends to 81 cents a share on the common.

Quarter's Sales Fall 23.8 Per Cent.

Total domestic and foreign sales of Remington Rand in the quarter ended June 30 were $9,578,224. This compares with $12,574,741 in the corresponding quarter last year, a decline of 23.8 per cent.

Executive Vice President S. N. Knapp, who announced the dividend action and earnings, said that August bookings are running substantially ahead of those in the same month last year. The outlook for the remainder of the companys' fiscal year, which ends March 31, 1939, appears more favorable, he said. The principal business of the corporation is the manufacture of office machines and equipment.

Outboard Marine Pays More.

Directors of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing company declared an interim dividend of 75 cents on the common stock. The company paid 50 cents on Aug. 10 and had previously paid two 30 cent dividends this year. The current declaration will be paid Sept. 23 to holders of record on Sept. 7.

Crowell Publishing company directors voted yesterday to pay a reduced dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock. The company, which publishes 'Collier's, Woman's Home Companion, and several other magazines, paid 75 cents a common share on June 24 and on March 24 and a total of $3 last year. The current dividend is payable Sept. 24 to stockholders of record Sept. 14.

COTTON

Closing trades in futures on American cotton markets were at net gains of .04 to .08 cent a pound yesterday. An easier opening reflected a decline in Liverpool, where Bombay has reported a fair seller. Trading in futures both here and abroad, however, was reported small.

Ginnings of cotton from the 1938 crop prior to Aug. 16 totaled 314,000 bales, according to the bureau of the census. This compares with 515,000 bales during the similar period in 1937, and 209,000 bales in 1936. A slow demand was reported for cotton goods. Buyers were said to be bidding low prices.

Spot cotton closed .01 to .07 cent higher, with New Orleans at 8.31 cents; New York, 8.38 cents, and Galveston and Houston, 8.21 cents a pound. Prices follow:

EXPECT ERIE R. R. REORGANIZATION PLAN IN 2 WEEKS

Institutional Bondholders Work on Details.

New York, Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Institutional bondholders in the Erie railroad reorganization expect to have a plan ready to file with the interstate commerce commission in about two weeks, it was learned today. Final details and allocation of new securities have not yet been worked out, because of the earnings position of the road.

It is reported that the proposed plan would reduce fixed charges from $15,000,000 in 1937 to about $8,000,000 and would place contingent charges at around $3,500,000.

Operating Deficit This Year.

In 1937 Erie's net operating income before interest charges was $14,000,000. Revenues so far this year have been running considerably behind a year ago. For the first seven months of this year the road showed a net operating deficit of about $70,000 as against net operating income of $9,650,000 in the same month a year ago.

Business has shown some increase in August, and increased anthracite prices are expected to bring further increases in September. On this basis, the institutional holders' committee believes that a formula can be worked out that will cover fixed charges in years of low earnings.

May Eliminate Stockholders.

The first draft of the institutional holders' plan made provision for issuing warants to permit present preferred and common stockholders to purchase stock from bondholders. The present bondholders would receive new preferred and common in settlement of their claims.

It is reported now that objections on the part of some large holders and the stand taken by the interstate commerce commission in the two plans which have been approved, may change this provision and allow stockholders no participation in the reorganization.

Since Chesapeake and Ohio now holds control of the Erie through recent stock acquisition, such a move would be contested both by Erie management and by Chesapeake and Ohio.

Police Reserves Called to Riotous Swing Session—Jitterbugs Pack Soldiers' Field at Free Jam

A portion of the tens of thousands of jitterbugs who packed Soldiers' field last night in free jam session. The promise of swing music and dancing attracted such a huge throng that the program was forgotten in a wild scramble that resulted in a rush of police reserves to the field.
